Senate Votes New Excise Cut

Cost Of Living, Unemployment Drop Slightly

President Counsels Patience In Handling Economic Situation

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — The government reported a modest decline in living costs today and Secretary of Commerce weeks said there are "some indications" of a slight drop in unemployment this month.

These reports came as President Eisenhower counseled patience in dealing with the general economic situation, saying a slam-bang program of federal aid isn't called for at this time. The President added such emergency action might dim chances of an orderly business upturn later this spring.

The government living cost index edged down two tenths of one per cent between mid-January and mid-February. It was 115 per cent of the 1947-49 average, compared with the 115.4 peak set last October.

Food Prices Lower

The living cost report reflected lower consumer prices in a wide variety of items, including food, clothing, used cars, movie admissions and TV sets. Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said it indicated "the general business situation is undoubtedly affecting prices."

Weeks told the National Conference of Business Paper Executives that new claims for unemployment benefits dropped in more than a dozen cities in mid-March.

At the same time, he said, there has been some substantial rehiring in the farm machinery field and a rise of some 10,000 jobs in the automobile industry.

"These and some other considerations give rise to the feeling that unemployment may not be as high in March as in February," the commerce secretary said. The figure has been approaching four million.

More Tax Cuts Now Opposed

Another high administration official, Undersecretary of the Treasury Marion B. Folsom, said he does not think the business situation calls for heavy additional tax cuts as a spur to buying.

Folsom, who spoke at a National Press Club luncheon, said if more tax cuts are required he'd favor cutting tax rates rather than increasing personal income tax exemptions, as the Democrats in Congress want to do.

Millionairess, 80, Is Bride Of Canon

The former Mrs. Ethel L. Paine Moors, descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence and widow of a Boston banker, laughed and held hands with her bridegroom as news photographers took pictures after the simple ceremony in fashionable Trinity Church.

The white haired Mrs. Raven, whose appearance belies her age, wore a matching brown hat and afternoon dress. Her husband wore grey clerical garb.

One of the church's stained glass windows is inscribed "In Memory of Robert Treat Paine," signer of the Declaration of Independence, from whom Mrs. Raven is directly descended.

Mrs. Raven first met the canon in 1926 when he came from England to lecture at Harvard College.

West Berliners Clash With 30 Communists

BERLIN, March 24 (AP) — Three hundred East Berlin Communists clashed with West Berliners tonight in brief street fights in the city's French Sector.

The Communists had streamed across the sector border to demonstrate against the European Defense Community. West Berliners engaged them almost immediately. Police dispersed the rioters quickly.

Later, about 60 Communist agitators demonstrated briefly in the American Sector. They disappeared into the crowds before police reached the scene.

DETROIT, March 24 (AP)—Shareholders of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and Hudson Motor Car Co. voted today to join in the formation of American Motors Corp.

Actress' Arrest Ordered; Ignored Traffic Citations

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—A magistrate today ordered actress Peggy Ann Garner arrested on sight because she ignored three traffic summonses.

The 23-year-old actress failed to appear before Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh despite a warning letter from Saul J. Allen, head of the Traffic Summons Control Bureau.

The magistrate then signed a warrant for her arrest.

The summonses included one for speeding and two for double parking and parking in a restricted area.

Senator Resents Charge Military "Coddled" Reds

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who lost a son in World War II, spoke out with "resentment" today against charges that disloyalty has been coddled in the nation's fighting forces.

Saltonstall commented after Pentagon officials testified 590 officers and men out of several million in the armed services have been discharged as security risks with "loyalty connotations" during the last five years.

Declaring that the problem of subversives in uniform has been blown up "far larger than it really is," Saltonstall said:

"As one who has served and as a parent whose children have served, I shared the disbelief and resentment felt by millions that there were either significant numbers of Americans whose loyalty was not in our finest tradition, or that loyalty was being coddled by the very uniforms whose heroic sacrifices in Korea have spoken so eloquently."

McCarthy Charged "Coddling"

Saltonstall's use of the word "coddled" suggested he may have had in mind the current furore over charges by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) of Communist-coddling in the Army.

Five co-members of the committee — three Democrats and two Republicans — promptly associated themselves with Saltonstall's statement.

One of the five, Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said however that based on his own experience in the Pentagon as a former secretary of the Air Force, the problem of handling subversives in the armed services is a serious situation.

Doctor Draft Change Considered

Saltonstall, one of whose sons, Sgt. Peter Saltonstall, was killed at Guam while fighting with the U. S. Marines in World War II, made his remarks after hearing Pentagon witnesses testify on a proposed bill to amend the doctors' draft law.

The law now provides commissions be given to doctors and dentists inducted into the service. The proposed legislation would permit them to be used in their professional service in an enlisted grade.

The bill stems in part from the Army's recent action in granting an honorable discharge to Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist, after Sen. McCarthy called Peress a "Fifth Amendment Communist" and demanded his court-martial.

Rubirosa 'Bored' With Babs And Her 40 Million Dollars

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Latin lover Porfirio Rubirosa said today he just got bored with Barbara Hutton and her 40 million dollars.

"She stays in bed and she reads all day," said the much-married Rubirosa, now in the process of shedding the dime store heiress. "It's a very boring life."

But Zsa Zsa Gabor — ah, that's something else again.

Certainly, said Rubirosa, he hopes to see the shapely blonde Hungarian actress when she hits New York next week.

But marry her?

"That's a different question," hedged Rubirosa.

"She is a very nice girl," he conceded of Zsa Zsa, who once made a black eye patch a thing of beauty. She said she forgot to duck a Rubirosa right cross. Rubirosa denies he blacked her eye.

Rubirosa gave no indication that he yearns for any reconciliation with the 41-year-old Barbara. On the contrary, he said a Mexican divorce is in the works and he has returned her wedding gift— "a very nice picture of herself in a gold frame."

The dapper and darkly handsome Rubirosa flew in today from the Florida honeymoon villa that Barbara walked out of earlier this month. She was his fourth wife, he her fifth husband. The marriage lasted 77 days.

Rubirosa took a suite in the Hotel Plaza, only two blocks south on Fifth Avenue from Barbara's hotel Pierre residence. But Rubirosa cast no longing glances northward.

"If she had led a normal life, I would have been very happy," he told a press conference in his diggings. "But she wanted to stay home all the time. She liked to stay in the house all day and I like outdoor sports."

House Wrecked By Gas Explosion

Israeli Premier Calls For Tighter Border Defenses

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, March 24 (AP) — Prime Minister Moshe Sharett today called for tightening Israel's border defenses. He made the appeal in Parliament shortly after a military spokesman announced Syria was concentrating new forces on its frontier with the young Jewish state.

Sharett declared the explosive Middle Eastern situation "now calls for the utmost preparedness and the strengthening of Israel's defenses."

He also announced Israel was asking the United States, Britain and France to bring up before the U. N. Security Council the killing of 11 Jews in the Negev desert a week ago.

In New York, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called in the representatives of the Western Big Three for urgent consultations on the Middle East.

The Israeli military report said Syria had sent an infantry brigade—probably about 3,000 men—to the Syrian-Israeli border.

The new and dangerous flare-up in relations between Israel and her neighbors followed the attack on a bus in the Negev a week ago in which the Jews were shot to death.

Israel charged that neighboring Jordan was directly responsible. Jordan denied it. Yesterday U. N. mediator Cmdr. E. H. Hutchison of the U. S. Navy refused to back an Israeli denunciation of Jordan at a meeting of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission. Israel then walked out.

Hunt was reinstated.

French Blows Hurt Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh rebels rushing up fresh troops for a new assault on the besieged French Union dustbowl at Dien Bien Phu were reported today to be suffering heavy losses under massive French air and artillery hammerings.

They were believed to have lost more than 15,000 dead and wounded in the 12-day struggle for the fortress.

Army estimates put the Vietminh casualties at more than 3,000 killed and 9,000 wounded in the initial assaults on the fortress 12 days ago. Since then the Vietminh was believed to have been losing hundreds daily under French shellfire and air attacks.

More rebels have been lost in clashes with French patrols or in attempted ambushes. The air force also has caused casualties by dropping tons of fire bombs on rebel troop concentrations. The French artillery has wiped out dozens of gun emplacements. Thus it is estimated that 15,000 killed and wounded would be a fair guess.

The hard-pressed French used American-supplied transport planes yesterday to drop tons of firebombs on rebels massed in the hills.

Conferees In Accord On Air Academy Bill

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed today on legislation authorizing the creation of a U. S. Air Force academy.

The measure is still subject to approval by both branches of Congress.

House conferees agreed to provisions of the Senate-passed version providing that the secretary of the Air Force, in designating a site for the air academy, shall follow the recommendation of a special advisory board if its five members are unanimous in their view.

If the five members are not in unanimous agreement, the secretary may designate any one of the top three sites the board recommends.

Ike Says H-Bomb Blast Astonished U. S. Scientists

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower expressed a belief today that American scientists may have gotten more than they bargained for when they set off the giant hydrogen explosion in the Pacific March 1.

Something must have happened which surprised and astonished the scientists, Eisenhower commented at his news conference. He said things happened in the test which hadn't happened before.

Rep. Holifield (D-Calif), who was an official witness of the tremendous blast, has reported it was "so far beyond what was predicted that you might say it was out of control."

Fishermen Burned

Japanese fishermen 80 miles away were showered with nuclear ashes and burned. American technicians and Marshall Islanders 100 miles from the flashpoint also felt the effects of radiation to a milder degree.

There have been estimates that the explosive power released in the test was between 600 and 700 times greater than that of the atomic bomb which killed 60,000 persons in Hiroshima, Japan, near the end of World War II.

A reporter remarked to the President today that in Japan and elsewhere in the Far East some anti-American newspapers were making anti-American propaganda out of cases of radioactive poisoning reported to have been suffered by peoples far from the blast scene.

Injury Reports Exaggerated

The President replied that he knew nothing about the details, but he has been told that the reports were far more serious than the actual results justified. This was taken to mean that, according to the President's information, the reports of injury were exaggerated.

Eisenhower said he did not intend to discuss the H-bomb situation any further until he has an opportunity to confer with Lewis W. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Strauss is expected back from the Pacific test area in a week or 10 days.

Student Is Convicted In Slaying Of Coach

ALEDO, Ill., March 24 (AP)—An 18-year-old high school student was convicted today on a charge of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of the school's athletic coach.

A jury of seven women and five men returned a verdict against James Gipson, after deliberating some nine hours.

The jury fixed Gipson's punishment at from one to seven years in the state penitentiary.

Gipson was charged with fatally stabbing George Marich, 26, on Dec. 8 during an argument about a study hall disturbance. He testified Monday he remembered holding a knife during the dispute, but did not remember stabbing the teacher-coach at Aledo high school.

President Says Accused Never Sits In Judgment

Not Entirely Clear Who He Is Backing

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today, when the subject of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his row with Army officials came up, that in America a man doesn't sit in judgment on his own case.

Eisenhower refused at a news conference to talk specifically about (1) McCarthy's insistence on cross-examining witnesses at forthcoming public hearings in the dispute, or (2) moves by Senate Republican leaders to have McCarthy remove himself completely from the conduct of the inquiry.

But the President did say, and the White House permitted him to be quoted directly:

"I am perfectly ready to put myself on record flatly, as I have before, that in America, if a man is a party to a dispute, directly or indirectly, he does not sit in judgment on his own case, and I don't believe that any leadership can escape responsibility for carrying on that tradition and that practice."

Ike's Meaning Not Clear

The President's meaning, as it might relate to the immediate point in the McCarthy controversy, was not 100 per cent clear.

Some of the 212 newsmen present thought he was backing the Senate leaders, who want McCarthy's role in the investigation to be strictly that of a witness. McCarthy, on the other hand, said he and Eisenhower "agree with each other completely." The senator has stepped down from his subcommittee chairmanship and given up his vote for purposes of the hearings —while holding fast to his stand that he should cross-examine witnesses.

The question came up at the beginning of a news conference in which the President also:

1. Said unemployment hasn't reached the point of calling for any slam-bang emergency program to cope with it. Some things — such as easing credit and making money cheaper — already have been done, the President said, and he and his advisers are watching the situation day by day.

Tax Bill Backers Praised

2. Praised House Republicans and the nine Democrats who joined them in passing his tax bill last week. Magnificent work, said the President. Of Congress' progress in general, he said adoption of his whole program is necessary to the country, and the longer action is delayed the more opportunities are being missed.

3. Reaffirmed that the forthcoming Geneva conference, with the Chinese Communists sitting in, doesn't change this country's refusal to give Red China diplomatic recognition under present world circumstances.

ILA Backs Strike; East Coast Dock Tieup Threatens

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—The old International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind) today sanctioned New York's multimillion dollar wildcat dock strike and threatened to tie up the whole East Coast.

A rival AFL union promptly planned a showdown on the waterfront. Its port chairman, John Dwyer, announced:

"We will work the port. We intend to keep the port open."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner took a grave view of the new crisis and told a news conference:

"Certainly, I imagine, it would demand the attention of the president of the United States."

Wagner has promised to bring in state and even federal reinforcements if needed to keep the piers open for non-strikers.

Dewey Expresses Concern

In Albany, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey expressed concern over law enforcement on the waterfront. The Republican governor said he was not issuing any ultimatum to the Democratic city administration but he told a news conference:

"If there is a breakdown of law enforcement in the city I have the power to remove either the mayor or the police commissioner, or both."

Wagner retorted that Dewey wasn't in too close touch with things. He read a statement from Dewey's own state Waterfront Commission praising the Police Department for "an oustanding job in minimizing disorder and violence along the docks."

ILA Defies Injunction

In endorsing the 20-day-old strike for the first time, the ILA openly defied a federal no-strike injunction and laid itself open to a possible heavy contempt fine. It already had been accused of contempt.

ILA President William V. Bradley told reporters:

"We'll have a job keeping the other ports working. The information we have is that they want to go on strike."

A general East Coast strike would freeze nearly all shipping from Maine to Virginia. However, longshoremen in other ports might be deterred from striking by their contracts with shippers. The ILA here has no contract.

60 Million Expected To See Oscar Show On TV Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, March 24 (AP)—The annual presentation of the movie industry's Academy Awards—filmdom's biggest publicity gimmick —is set for tomorrow night with the ceremony billed as bigger and better than ever.

The huge show this year is going all out to become television's top attraction as well. The National Broadcasting Co. expects 60 million persons to see the show. NBC-TV will beam the program to 106 stations across the nation, starting at 10:30 p.m. Nearly double that many radio stations will broadcast the event.

Mitch Leisen, a top movie specialist in glamour productions, will stage the fete. Oldsmobile, the sponsor, will pick up a $275,000 tab for 90 minutes. It may run over but NBC will sustain the rest.

Biggest productions will come in the nominated songs. Leisen will use chorus lines as well as singers on a revolving stage for the songs.

As is always the case with this fanciest of Hollywood parties, many of the honored guests will be absent. Burt Lancaster is in Mexico but William Holden, also a favorite for the top actor award, is in town.

Richard Burton is in England. Montgomery Clift is vacationing in the West Indies. No official knows where Marlon Brando is.

Of the top actresses, three are in New York—Audrey Hepburn, Deborah Kerr and Maggie McNamara. Leslie Caron is still touring the East with the French Ballet.

Ava Gardner, not considered in the running, is abroad. Her husband, Frank Sinatra, a favorite in the supporting actor division, will attend with two of his children by his first wife.

Approves Plan To Halve Levy On Appliances

Proposal, Opposed By Administration, Adopted 64 To 23

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The Senate voted tonight to cut in half the present 10 per cent excise tax on household appliances such as refrigerators, stoves, ironers and dryers.

The cut would amount to 100 million dollars in annual revenue.

Although the Eisenhower administration has opposed such tax cuts, the Senate Republican leadership agreed to accept the proposal after it became obvious some GOP members were going to swing over in favor of it.

Sens. Douglas (D-Ill), George (D-Ga) and other Democrats originally led a drive to abolish the 10 per cent excise entirely on the household appliances.

But they agreed just before the final vote to accept a modification suggested by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to cut the levy to five per cent rather than wipe it out entirely.

Cut Tacked Onto Bill

The cut was tacked onto a pending tax bill which, as passed by the House, would reduce some excise levies and extend others.

The Senate vote in favor of the reduction in household appliances taxes, which would not be cut under the House bill, was 64 to 23.

Voting for the cut were 35 Democrats, 28 Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore). Against were eight Democrats and 15 Republicans.

These are the principal items on which the excise tax would be cut to five per cent: Refrigerators, stoves, fans, water heaters, flatirons, air heaters, electric blankets, grills, toasters, broilers, mixers, juicers, food choppers and grinders, clothes dryers, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, floor polishers, waxers, mangles, garbage disposals, power lawn mowers and home freezers.

Senators Change Votes

When it became apparent the proposal would go through, several senators changed their votes from "no" to "yes." These included Butler (R-Md), Griswold (R-Neb), Hendrickson (R-NJ), and Payne and Smith (R-Maine).

Before the tally, Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), floor manager for the bill and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, announced he would accept the modified amendment and take it to conference with the House.

But he indicated it might face a rough road with the House conferees. He said they were adamant against reducing present excises below the 10 per cent level.

The additional tax cut voted by the Senate would take the reductions in the excise bill past the one billion dollar mark.

Sale Of Atomic Secrets Denied

KANSAS CITY, March 24 (AP)—An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman today described as untrue a story appearing in the New York Times stating that hitherto secret atomic information was being sold to the public in a 70-cent booklet in England.

The spokesman, Gregory Abdian of the technical information service of the AEC, sent a letter to Dr. Robert Plumb, Times correspondent, asking that the story be corrected.

Abdian wrote Plumb that "there is no basis for your story's statement that American scientists are able to discuss material classified in this country by quoting unclassified publications."

The Times story said it was believed the British government pamphlet contained enough classified material to send a person to jail and possibly even death as a traitor if made public by an American scientist.

An AEC spokesman said in Washington the commission "concurs in what Abdian wrote."

The spokesman said Abdian had cleared the letter to Plumb with AEC headquarters before taking action.

A gas explosion in Dunkirk, N. Y., yesterday wrecked the home of Peter Modica, 76. He was taken to a hospital with second degree burns. His wife, Mary, 73, escaped without serious injury. Firemen said gas leaking from a hose on a heater caused the blast.

Israeli Premier Calls For Tighter Border Defenses

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, March 24 (AP) — Prime Minister Moshe Sharett today called for tightening Israel's border defenses. He made the appeal in Parliament shortly after a military spokesman announced Syria was concentrating new forces on its frontier with the young Jewish state.

Sharett declared the explosive Middle Eastern situation "now calls for the utmost preparedness and the strengthening of Israel's defenses."

He also announced Israel was asking the United States, Britain and France to bring up before the U. N. Security Council the killing of 11 Jews in the Negev desert a week ago.

In New York, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called in the representatives of the Western Big Three for urgent consultations on the Middle East.

The Israeli military report said Syria had sent an infantry brigade—probably about 3,000 men—to the Syrian-Israeli border.

The new and dangerous flare-up in relations between Israel and her neighbors followed the attack on a bus in the Negev a week ago in which the Jews were shot to death.

Israel charged that neighboring Jordan was directly responsible. Jordan denied it. Yesterday U. N. mediator Cmdr. E. H. Hutchison of the U. S. Navy refused to back an Israeli denunciation of Jordan at a meeting of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission. Israel then walked out.

Hunt was reinstated.

French Blows Hurt Vietminh

HANOI, Indochina, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—Communist-led Vietminh rebels rushing up fresh troops for a new assault on the besieged French Union dustbowl at Dien Bien Phu were reported today to be suffering heavy losses under massive French air and artillery hammerings.

They were believed to have lost more than 15,000 dead and wounded in the 12-day struggle for the fortress.

Army estimates put the Vietminh casualties at more than 3,000 killed and 9,000 wounded in the initial assaults on the fortress 12 days ago. Since then the Vietminh was believed to have been losing hundreds daily under French shellfire and air attacks.

More rebels have been lost in clashes with French patrols or in attempted ambushes. The air force also has caused casualties by dropping tons of fire bombs on rebel troop concentrations. The French artillery has wiped out dozens of gun emplacements. Thus it is estimated that 15,000 killed and wounded would be a fair guess.

Conferees In Accord On Air Academy Bill

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed today on legislation authorizing the creation of a U. S. Air Force academy.

The measure is still subject to approval by both branches of Congress.

House conferees agreed to provisions of the Senate-passed version providing that the secretary of the Air Force, in designating a site for the air academy, shall follow the recommendation of a special advisory board if its five members are unanimous in their view.

If the five members are not in unanimous agreement, the secretary may designate any one of the top three sites the board recommends.

Ike Says H-Bomb Blast Astonished U. S. Scientists

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower expressed a belief today that American scientists may have gotten more than they bargained for when they set off the giant hydrogen explosion in the Pacific March 1.

Something must have happened which surprised and astonished the scientists, Eisenhower commented at his news conference. He said things happened in the test which hadn't happened before.

Rep. Holifield (D-Calif), who was an official witness of the tremendous blast, has reported it was "so far beyond what was predicted that you might say it was out of control."

Fishermen Burned

Japanese fishermen 80 miles away were showered with nuclear ashes and burned. American technicians and Marshall Islanders 100 miles from the flashpoint also felt the effects of radiation to a milder degree.

There have been estimates that the explosive power released in the test was between 600 and 700 times greater than that of the atomic bomb which killed 60,000 persons in Hiroshima, Japan, near the end of World War II.

A reporter remarked to the President today that in Japan and elsewhere in the Far East some anti-American newspapers were making anti-American propaganda out of cases of radioactive poisoning reported to have been suffered by peoples far from the blast scene.

Injury Reports Exaggerated

The President replied that he knew nothing about the details, but he has been told that the reports were far more serious than the actual results justified. This was taken to mean that, according to the President's information, the reports of injury were exaggerated.

Eisenhower said he did not intend to discuss the H-bomb situation any further until he has an opportunity to confer with Lewis W. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Strauss is expected back from the Pacific test area in a week or 10 days.

Student Is Convicted In Slaying Of Coach

ALEDO, Ill., March 24 (AP)—An 18-year-old high school student was convicted today on a charge of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of the school's athletic coach.

A jury of seven women and five men returned a verdict against James Gipson, after deliberating some nine hours.

The jury fixed Gipson's punishment at from one to seven years in the state penitentiary.

Gipson was charged with fatally stabbing George Marich, 26, on Dec. 8 during an argument about a study hall disturbance. He testified Monday he remembered holding a knife during the dispute, but did not remember stabbing the teacher-coach at Aledo high school.

President Says Accused Never Sits In Judgment

Not Entirely Clear Who He Is Backing

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today, when the subject of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his row with Army officials came up, that in America a man doesn't sit in judgment on his own case.

Eisenhower refused at a news conference to talk specifically about (1) McCarthy's insistence on cross-examining witnesses at forthcoming public hearings in the dispute, or (2) moves by Senate Republican leaders to have McCarthy remove himself completely from the conduct of the inquiry.

But the President did say, and the White House permitted him to be quoted directly:

"I am perfectly ready to put myself on record flatly, as I have before, that in America, if a man is a party to a dispute, directly or indirectly, he does not sit in judgment on his own case, and I don't believe that any leadership can escape responsibility for carrying on that tradition and that practice."

Ike's Meaning Not Clear

The President's meaning, as it might relate to the immediate point in the McCarthy controversy, was not 100 per cent clear.

Some of the 212 newsmen present thought he was backing the Senate leaders, who want McCarthy's role in the investigation to be strictly that of a witness. McCarthy, on the other hand, said he and Eisenhower "agree with each other completely." The senator has stepped down from his subcommittee chairmanship and given up his vote for purposes of the hearings —while holding fast to his stand that he should cross-examine witnesses.

The question came up at the beginning of a news conference in which the President also:

1. Said unemployment hasn't reached the point of calling for any slam-bang emergency program to cope with it. Some things — such as easing credit and making money cheaper — already have been done, the President said, and he and his advisers are watching the situation day by day.

Tax Bill Backers Praised

2. Praised House Republicans and the nine Democrats who joined them in passing his tax bill last week. Magnificent work, said the President. Of Congress' progress in general, he said adoption of his whole program is necessary to the country, and the longer action is delayed the more opportunities are being missed.

3. Reaffirmed that the forthcoming Geneva conference, with the Chinese Communists sitting in, doesn't change this country's refusal to give Red China diplomatic recognition under present world circumstances.

ILA Backs Strike; East Coast Dock Tieup Threatens

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—The old International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind) today sanctioned New York's multimillion dollar wildcat dock strike and threatened to tie up the whole East Coast.

A rival AFL union promptly planned a showdown on the waterfront. Its port chairman, John Dwyer, announced:

"We will work the port. We intend to keep the port open."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner took a grave view of the new crisis and told a news conference:

"Certainly, I imagine, it would demand the attention of the president of the United States."

Wagner has promised to bring in state and even federal reinforcements if needed to keep the piers open for non-strikers.

Dewey Expresses Concern

In Albany, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey expressed concern over law enforcement on the waterfront. The Republican governor said he was not issuing any ultimatum to the Democratic city administration but he told a news conference:

"If there is a breakdown of law enforcement in the city I have the power to remove either the mayor or the police commissioner, or both."

Wagner retorted that Dewey wasn't in too close touch with things. He read a statement from Dewey's own state Waterfront Commission praising the Police Department for "an oustanding job in minimizing disorder and violence along the docks."

ILA Defies Injunction

In endorsing the 20-day-old strike for the first time, the ILA openly defied a federal no-strike injunction and laid itself open to a possible heavy contempt fine. It already had been accused of contempt.

ILA President William V. Bradley told reporters:

"We'll have a job keeping the other ports working. The information we have is that they want to go on strike."

A general East Coast strike would freeze nearly all shipping from Maine to Virginia. However, longshoremen in other ports might be deterred from striking by their contracts with shippers. The ILA here has no contract.

60 Million Expected To See Oscar Show On TV Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, March 24 (AP)—The annual presentation of the movie industry's Academy Awards—filmdom's biggest publicity gimmick—is set for tomorrow night with the ceremony billed as bigger and better than ever.

The huge show this year is going all out to become television's top attraction as well. The National Broadcasting Co. expects 60 million persons to see the show. NBC-TV will beam the program to 106 stations across the nation, starting at 10:30 p.m. Nearly double that many radio stations will broadcast the event.

Mitch Leisen, a top movie specialist in glamour productions, will stage the fete. Oldsmobile, the sponsor, will pick up a $275,000 tab for 90 minutes. It may run over but NBC will sustain the rest.

Biggest productions will come in the nominated songs. Leisen will use chorus lines as well as singers on a revolving stage for the songs.

As is always the case with this fanciest of Hollywood parties, many of the honored guests will be absent. Burt Lancaster is in Mexico but William Holden, also a favorite for the top actor award, is in town.

Richard Burton is in England. Montgomery Clift is vacationing in the West Indies. No official knows where Marlon Brando is.

Of the top actresses, three are in New York—Audrey Hepburn, Deborah Kerr and Maggie McNamara. Leslie Caron is still touring the East with the French Ballet.

Ava Gardner, not considered in the running, is abroad. Her husband, Frank Sinatra, a favorite in the supporting actor division, will attend with two of his children by his first wife.

Approves Plan To Halve Levy On Appliances

Proposal, Opposed By Administration, Adopted 64 To 23

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The Senate voted tonight to cut in half the present 10 per cent excise tax on household appliances such as refrigerators, stoves, ironers and dryers.

The cut would amount to 100 million dollars in annual revenue.

Although the Eisenhower administration has opposed such tax cuts, the Senate Republican leadership agreed to accept the proposal after it became obvious some GOP members were going to swing over in favor of it.

Sens. Douglas (D-Ill), George (D-Ga) and other Democrats originally led a drive to abolish the 10 per cent excise entirely on the household appliances.

But they agreed just before the final vote to accept a modification suggested by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to cut the levy to five per cent rather than wipe it out entirely.

Cut Tacked Onto Bill

The cut was tacked onto a pending tax bill which, as passed by the House, would reduce some excise levies and extend others.

The Senate vote in favor of the reduction in household appliances taxes, which would not be cut under the House bill, was 64 to 23.

Voting for the cut were 35 Democrats, 28 Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore). Against were eight Democrats and 15 Republicans.

These are the principal items on which the excise tax would be cut to five per cent: Refrigerators, stoves, fans, water heaters, flatirons, air heaters, electric blankets, grills, toasters, broilers, mixers, juicers, food choppers and grinders, clothes dryers, dehumidifiers, dishwashers, floor polishers, waxers, mangles, garbage disposals, power lawn mowers and home freezers.

Senators Change Votes

When it became apparent the proposal would go through, several senators changed their votes from "no" to "yes." These included Butler (R-Md), Griswold (R-Neb), Hendrickson (R-NJ), and Payne and Smith (R-Maine).

Before the tally, Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), floor manager for the bill and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, announced he would accept the modified amendment and take it to conference with the House.

But he indicated it might face a rough road with the House conferees. He said they were adamant against reducing present excises below the 10 per cent level.

The additional tax cut voted by the Senate would take the reductions in the excise bill past the one billion dollar mark.

Sale Of Atomic Secrets Denied

KANSAS CITY, March 24 (AP)—An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman today described as untrue a story appearing in the New York Times stating that hitherto secret atomic information was being sold to the public in a 70-cent booklet in England.

The spokesman, Gregory Abdian of the technical information service of the AEC, sent a letter to Dr. Robert Plumb, Times correspondent, asking that the story be corrected.

Abdian wrote Plumb that "there is no basis for your story's statement that American scientists are able to discuss material classified in this country by quoting unclassified publications."

The Times story said it was believed the British government pamphlet contained enough classified material to send a person to jail and possibly even death as a traitor if made public by an American scientist.

An AEC spokesman said in Washington the commission "concurs in what Abdian wrote."

GOP Crusade Against Corruption, Reds Has 'Fizzled,' Mitchell Says

Chairman Sees Voters Swinging Back To Demos

SALISBURY, Md., March 24 (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said tonight the crusade against alleged communism and corruption in government has "fizzled out" and this is one of three reasons why the voters are swinging back to the Democrats.

The other two reasons, Mitchell said in an address prepared for a First Congressional District Democratic dinner, are:

1—The voters have more confidence that the Democrats "will deal effectively with the current recession."

2—The farmers, working men, small businessmen, and consumers "do not feel that this government really represents them." They see this in the "dominant" place in it held by representative of big business and finance and in "republican performance."

Mitchell said there has been a breakdown, under the Republicans, of the "processes of orderly government."

"We have seen an invasion of the executive branch of legislative committees," he said, "on a scale unprecedented since the days of the radical Republicans following the Civil War.

"This has resulted basically from the unwillingness or inability on the part of President Eisenhower and his associates to bring under control the present-day radical Republicans.

"As long as it appeared that these radicals would attack the Democrats, the Republican leadership encouraged them.

"But when the radicals turned on their own party, then the party leadership found the situation was beyond control.

"The Republicans have thus reaped the rewards of their own political cynicism."

Mitchell went on to say that:

"Running the government with McCarthy and his associates uncontrolled—is like trying to land an airplane with a loose bomb rattling around in the bomb bay."

He said "thoughtful commentators all over the country are profoundly disturbed, regardless of politics," and added:

"The time has now arrived to write an epitath to the great crusade of 1952.

"What with Cohn and Schine, and McCarthy and Stevens, and Senator Bricker's fight against the President—I doubt if the average citizen even recalls that the President has a program."

SIMULATED ATOM BLAST—Soldiers of the 278th Infantry regimental combat team watch a mushroom cloud form atop a column of smoke following a simulated atomic explosion at Ft. Devens, Mass., yesterday. The "bomb" was made up in a 55-gallon oil drum containing TNT, white phosphorous grenades, 40 gallons of 100-octane gasoline, 100 pounds of napalm and two different kinds of chemical smoke, Capt. Joel A. Britt, post chemical officer, told newsmen, and then detonated electrically. The purpose of the simulated bomb was to "familiarize troops with the sight and sound of the atomic bomb without the danger of radioactivity."

Annapolis Goes Colonial Today

ANNAPOLIS, March 24 (AP)—The capital goes consciously colonial tomorrow for the Maryland Day opening of the first Annapolis Open House Week.

Visitors may peek into some of the city's finest old homes, paragons of colonial grace and simplicity, as Historic Annapolis inaugurates the first of four weekly tour programs.

Historic Annapolis is the society devoted to preserving and promoting the heritage of what Chief Justice Roger B. Taney called more than a century ago "the Athens of America."

In an implied jab at colonial Williamsburg, the Rockefeller restoration in Virginia, Historic Annapolis claims for its pride "more authentic colonial buildings than any other American city."

It takes special pleasure from recent architectural changes with a colonial motif in a number of business places. Remodelings are evidence of "a renaissance which is actually a return to the feeling of colonial times, modified by the inescapable demands of electric signs and merchandise display," says George Schaun, the society's executive secretary.

More than 100 women will take turns as hostesses at different homes and public buildings for the paid tour. Many will be in costume.

Mayor Backs Up Story Mule Won Election In 1938

MILTON, Wash., March 24 (AP)—Mayor R. G. Williams of Milton is about to take pen in hand and prove to the friends of an Australian lady that she knows of what she speaks.

The letter will go something like this:

Mrs. E. Penhall
52 Cairns St.
Herne Bay, New South Wales
Australia

Dear Mrs. Penhall:

You may continue to tell your "truth is stranger than fiction" story as the truth. The voters of Milton did elect a mule to public office back in 1938.

In that year Mayor Percy Walden, now city clerk, declared the voters did not know for whom they were voting. To prove his point he borrowed the name of a friend's mule, Boston Curtis, and entered the animal's name on the ballot.

Those were the days of tremendous Democratic election landslides and sure enough, when the votes were counted, Boston Curtis had been elected as a Democratic precinct committeeman.

Mayor Walden had proved his point and the precinct concerned lacked a Democratic committeeman until the next election. That didn't make much difference, however, for the Democratic landslides continued for some years.

R. G. Williams, Mayor.

Sen. McCarthy, Drew Pearson Exchange Blasts

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and columnist Drew Pearson fired new barrages in their running feud today in a free-swinging mixup centering on charges and counter charges of Espionage Act violations.

These were the developments:

1. McCarthy called on Atty. Gen. Brownell to check up at once on what he called an espionage case involving a representative of Pearson.

2. Pearson retorted by inviting the Justice Department to let a grand jury decide whether he or McCarthy had violated the Espionage Act. Pearson said he would be delighted to have the entire matter investigated by anyone who is "competent and sane."

McCarthy triggered the fireworks at a hearing before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on Monday when he raised the issue of an alleged espionage case involving one of Pearson's aides.

At the time, other senators blocked McCarthy's questioning of Brownell on the subject, on the ground it had no place in an appropriations hearing. However Brownell agreed to check on what McCarthy called a "pigeonholed" case of alleged espionage and said he would advise McCarthy on what he found.

McCarthy renewed his attack on the subject at today's session of the subcommittee when he read a letter from Brownell saying the case is still "under active investigation" and that consequently because of a long-standing policy he could not disclose any details about it.

Pearson, informed of McCarthy's inquiry, issued a statement saying:

"Apparently Sen. McCarthy has heard of my forthcoming television program devoted exclusively to him and is applying his usual diversionary tactics. He has repeated an old charge he made last summer but was never able to substantiate."

Dad Who Didn't Know Son Missing Sees His Picture On Television

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 24 (AP)—A father helping install a television set suddenly saw a clear picture — of his own 3-year-old son.

It wasn't very clear to William Rose, the father, until he learned it was a special "showup" arranged by police in an effort to try to identify and locate the parents of the blond tot, Wayne.

The father didn't even know the boy was missing.

Wayne, armed with his toy shotgun, wandered away yesterday from his grandparents' home. They thought he was with his father. The father thought Wayne was with the grandparents.

Grandfather George Rose said the family learned this way that the boy was missing:

"William was helping a friend install a television set. Just as they got it going, the first thing he saw was Wayne on television."

Radio Commentator Is Sued For $215,000

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — Mrs. Sadie Weiner Waranch filed suit for $215,000 today against radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr., alleging defamation of character.

The complaint filed in U. S. District Court here, charged that Mrs. Waranch was defamed in a broadcast by Lewis last Dec. 7. Papers in the suit asserted that Lewis declared Mrs. Waranch owned and operated the country club, in St. Mary's County, Md., and said juveniles were served liquor there.

Mrs. Waranch in her complaint asserted that while she owned the building in which the tavern is located, she did not operate the tavern.

ROK President Sets Stiff Price

SEOUL, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee yesterday set a stiff price for attending the Geneva peace conference — U. S. help to unify Korea by force or a Korean army strong enough to go it alone "if peaceful efforts fail."

Asked by The Associated Press if South Korea would attend the Korean peace conference opening April 26 at Geneva, the president said in a written reply:

"Until receipt of satisfactory assurances, the Republic of Korea is withholding its reply to the invitation to attend the Geneva conference.

"We want permission to unify Korea military if peaceful efforts fail. We want cooperation in the form of arms, munitions and other logistical support such as air and sea coverage. Those not desiring to help us physically can step aside.

"Failing that, we ask immediate expansion of our armed forces to a strength where foreign manpower will not be needed except U. S. officers in advisory and training capacity. Under one or the other of these conditions, we shall agree to attend the Geneva conference."

Ike Sends Thanks To 90-Year-Old Woman For Quilt

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 24 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Bernard received congratulations today, not only because it is her 90th birthday anniversary but because she has a letter from President Eisenhower thanking her for a 3,600 piece patchwork quilt she sent him recently.

The quilt was the 50th Mrs. Bernard has made in 40 years. Today she was busy crocheting a bedspread.

Boy Frees Dogs From Pound, Faces Court

BIRMINGHAM, March 24 (AP)—Billy McCowan, 12, freed his pal Jiggs and about 20 other dogs when he went to the city pound yesterday for a "last visit" with Jiggs.

Jiggs was safe at home, securely chained, today. But police told Billy he would have to report to Juvenile Court.

Pound manager Karie R. Murchison said he still hadn't rounded up all the dogs that scattered happily when their pen door was opened.

Haymes Says "They Haven't Got Chance" Of Ousting Him

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—After a whirling dervish visit to the nation's capital, crooner Dick Haymes took off for New York tonight declaring "they haven't got a chance of kicking me out of the country."

But the singer, husband of Rita Hayworth, declined to say immediately just how he expects to escape deportation to his native Argentina. The Immigration Service ordered his deportation yesterday on the ground of illegal re-entry into the country last June.

Haymes said he hoped to have a statement of his plans in two or three days—"when I know what I am going to do — which I do not now."

But apparently in good humor after a day spent in Washington, he added:

"I haven't a worry in the world."

With Haymes was his attorney, Bartley Crum, who said he tried without success today to reach Sen. Langer (R-ND). Langer was on the Senate floor during much of the day.

Crum said he will return to Washington tomorrow and try again to see Langer, whom he has asked to check immigration files on Haymes' case.

Crum said he believes some source outside of government inspired the deportation action against Haymes and said "in those files we understand there is the name of the informant."

Traveling without luggage and accompanied by New York lawyer Bartley Crum, Haymes kept pushing past a trail of newsmen all day. He finally gave them the slip at the Argentine Embassy, where he completed arrangements for a passport.

Embassy spokesmen said Haymes, 35, as an Argentine citizen, had every right to a passport. They said he had one when he first came to the United States in 1937 and had asked about two weeks ago for a renewal. They said he did not indicate where he planned to go.

"Some Hazard" From Bomb Area Fish, Envoy Says

TOKYO, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison, apparently referring to the great hydrogen blast March 1, said yesterday there was "some hazard" in eating fish caught near the Pacific test grounds "a short time subsequent to tests."

Allison in a statement handed Japan's foreign ministry said the United States is checking for radioactivity all fish brought to Pacific ports. Japan is doing the same.

The Foreign Office in a statement said no radioactive fish had been found on Japanese fishing boats since the "Lucky Dragon," dusted by radioactive ash from the blast 80 miles away, came back to Japan. There have been no reports of radioactive fish reaching U. S. ports.

Allison emphasized "there is negligible hazard, if any, in the consumption of fish caught in the Pacific Ocean outside the immediate test area."

The ambassador said these conclusions were "the opinion of the Atomic Energy Commission's scientific staff based on long-term studies of fish in the presence of radioactivity."

Despite the assurances, fish sales in Japan remained dull and a clamor of press, politicians and labor leaders persisted over the accidental burning by radioactive ashes of 23 Japanese aboard the "Lucky Dragon."

The Foreign Office statement was issued after a four-hour meeting of the Joint Atomic Injury Investigating Committee.

Safe Cracker Given 20-Year Sentence

SALISBURY, Md., March 24 (AP)—Willie Williams, 38, was sentenced to 20 years in the Maryland Penitentiary today for the $5,438 safe cracking of Pocahontas, Inc., here last Feb. 21.

In passing sentence just five years under the maximum, Wicomico County Circuit Court Judge Rex A. Taylor told Williams that his past record was such that the court couldn't consider otherwise.

Williams' FBI record revealed that the Norfolk, Va., Negro had served 10 years of a 20-year sentence in Virginia for store breaking and was released from jail in 1947. He was picked up soon afterwards on a similar charge and served part of a three-year term that time.

Egypt Formally Warned To Halt British Attacks

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—The Churchill government has formally warned Egypt to halt attacks on British soldiers or face indefinite occupation of the Suez Canal base by the 80,000-man British garrison.

The Foreign Office said tonight British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson delivered a note Sunday to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi declaring that further negotiations for evacuation of the billion dollar defense base "are not possible under the present conditions."

A Foreign Office spokesman said the note left the way open for resumption of the long stalemated talks once "order" is returned to the tense canal zone. In Cairo an official source had said earlier that Egypt had regarded the note as notification from the British that they considered the talks "formally broken off."

A spokesman said the note followed on the heels of three oral protests by Sir Ralph charging repeated attacks on British servicemen.

The note demanded that Egyptians involved in the attacks be removed from the canal zone. It asked "adequate measures to prevent Egyptian civilians from carrying arms" within the zone.

Scores have been killed and woulded in the long series of clashes between Egyptian Nationalists and British soldiers. The two countries accuse each other of being responsible for the tense situation.

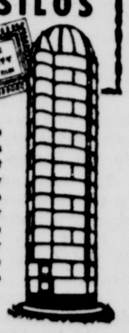

Md. Whisky Firm Loses Pa. Tax Battle

PITTSBURGH, March 24 (AP) — A Maryland whisky distilling firm lost today its legal battle to get back $2,580 in Pennsylvania taxes which it paid by mistake.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court ruled that Calvert Distillers Corp. is not entitled to the kickback because it failed to apply for the refund within two years after paying the taxes.

Calvert had mistakenly paid $4,426 in Pennsylvania corporate franchise taxes for which it was not liable. The state refunded $1,846. But it refused to pay back the $2,580 balance on grounds the company had allowed two years to go by before filing a refund petition for that portion of the tax.

GOP Crusade Against Corruption, Reds Has 'Fizzled,' Mitchell Says

Chairman Sees Voters Swinging Back To Demos

SALISBURY, Md., March 24 (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said tonight the crusade against alleged communism and corruption in government has "fizzled out" and this is one of three reasons why the voters are swinging back to the Democrats.

The other two reasons, Mitchell said in an address prepared for a First Congressional District Democratic dinner, are:

1—The voters have more confidence that the Democrats "will deal effectively with the current recession."

2—The farmers, working men, small businessmen, and consumers "do not feel that this government really represents them." They see this in the "dominant" place in it held by representative of big business and finance and in "republican performance."

Mitchell said there has been a breakdown, under the Republicans, of the "processes of orderly government."

"We have seen an invasion of the executive branch of legislative committees," he said, "on a scale unprecedented since the days of the radical Republicans following the Civil War.

"This has resulted basically from the unwillingness or inability on the part of President Eisenhower and his associates to bring under control the present-day radical Republicans.

"As long as it appeared that these radicals would attack the Democrats, the Republican leadership encouraged them.

"But when the radicals turned on their own party, then the party leadership found the situation was beyond control.

"The Republicans have thus reaped the rewards of their own political cynicism."

Mitchell went on to say that:

"Running the government with McCarthy and his associates uncontrolled—is like trying to land an airplane with a loose bomb rattling around in the bomb bay."

He said "thoughtful commentators all over the country are profoundly disturbed, regardless of politics," and added:

"The time has now arrived to write an epitath to the great crusade of 1952.

"What with Cohn and Schine, and McCarthy and Stevens, and Senator Bricker's fight against the President—I doubt if the average citizen even recalls that the President has a program."

SIMULATED ATOM BLAST—Soldiers of the 278th Infantry regimental combat team watch a mushroom cloud form atop a column of smoke following a simulated atomic explosion at Ft. Devens, Mass., yesterday. The "bomb" was made up in a 55-gallon oil drum containing TNT, white phosphorous grenades, 40 gallons of 100-octane gasoline, 100 pounds of napalm and two different kinds of chemical smoke. Capt. Joel A. Britt, post chemical officer, told newsmen, and then detonated electrically. The purpose of the simulated bomb was to "familiarize troops with the sight and sound of the atomic bomb without the danger of radioactivity."

Annapolis Goes Colonial Today

ANNAPOLIS, March 24 (AP)—The capital goes consciously colonial tomorrow for the Maryland Day opening of the first Annapolis Open House Week.

Visitors may peek into some of the city's finest old homes, paragons of colonial grace and simplicity, as Historic Annapolis inaugurates the first of four weekly tour programs.

Historic Annapolis is the society devoted to preserving and promoting the heritage of what Chief Justice Roger B. Taney called more than a century ago "the Athens of America."

In an implied jab at colonial Williamsburg, the Rockefeller restoration in Virginia, Historic Annapolis claims for its pride "more authentic colonial buildings than any other American city."

It takes special pleasure from recent architectural changes with a colonial motif in a number of business places. Remodelings are evidence of "a renaissance which is actually a return to the feeling of colonial times, modified by the inescapable demands of electric signs and merchandise display," says George Schaun, the society's executive secretary.

More than 100 women will take turns as hostesses at different homes and public buildings for the paid tour. Many will be in costume.

Mayor Backs Up Story Mule Won Election In 1938

MILTON, Wash., March 24 (AP)—Mayor R. G. Williams of Milton is about to take pen in hand and prove to the friends of an Australian lady that she knows of what she speaks.

The letter will go something like this:

Mrs. E. Penhall
52 Cairns St.
Herne Bay, New South Wales
Australia

Dear Mrs. Penhall:

You may continue to tell your "truth is stranger than fiction" story as the truth. The voters of Milton did elect a mule to public office back in 1938.

In that year Mayor Percy Walden, now city clerk, declared the voters did not know for whom they were voting. To prove his point he borrowed the name of a friend's mule, Boston Curtis, and entered the animal's name on the ballot.

Those were the days of tremendous Democratic election landslides and sure enough, when the votes were counted, Boston Curtis had been elected as a Democratic precinct committeeman.

Mayor Walden had proved his point and the precinct concerned lacked a Democratic committeeman until the next election. That didn't make much difference, however, for the Democratic landslides continued for some years.

R. G. Williams, Mayor.

Sen. McCarthy, Drew Pearson Exchange Blasts

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and columnist Drew Pearson fired new barrages in their running feud today in a free-swinging mixup centering on charges and counter charges of Espionage Act violations.

These were the developments:

1. McCarthy called on Atty. Gen. Brownell to check up at once on what he called an espionage case involving a representative of Pearson.

2. Pearson retorted by inviting the Justice Department to let a grand jury decide whether he or McCarthy had violated the Espionage Act. Pearson said he would be delighted to have the entire matter investigated by anyone who is "competent and sane."

McCarthy triggered the fireworks at a hearing before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee on Monday when he raised the issue of an alleged espionage case involving one of Pearson's aides.

At the time, other senators blocked McCarthy's questioning of Brownell on the subject, on the ground it had no place in an appropriations hearing. However Brownell agreed to check on what McCarthy called a "pigeonholed" case of alleged espionage and said he would advise McCarthy on what he found.

McCarthy renewed his attack on the subject at today's session of the subcommittee when he read a letter from Brownell saying the case is still "under active investigation" and that consequently because of a long-standing policy he could not disclose any details about it.

Pearson, informed of McCarthy's inquiry, issued a statement saying:

"Apparently Sen. McCarthy has heard of my forthcoming television program devoted exclusively to him and is applying his usual diversionary tactics. He has repeated an old charge he made last summer but was never able to substantiate."

Dad Who Didn't Know Son Missing Sees His Picture On Television

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 24 (AP)—A father helping install a television set suddenly saw a clear picture — of his own 3-year-old son.

It wasn't very clear to William Rose, the father, until he learned it was a special "showup" arranged by police in an effort to try to identify and locate the parents of the blond tot, Wayne.

The father didn't even know the boy was missing.

Wayne, armed with his toy shotgun, wandered away yesterday from his grandparents' home. They thought he was with his father. The father thought Wayne was with the grandparents.

Grandfather George Rose said the family learned this way that the boy was missing:

"William was helping a friend install a television set. Just as they got it going, the first thing he saw was Wayne on television."

Radio Commentator Is Sued For $215,000

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — Mrs. Sadie Weiner Waranch filed suit for $215,000 today against radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr., alleging defamation of character.

The complaint filed in U. S. District Court here, charged that Mrs. Waranch was defamed in a broadcast by Lewis last Dec. 7. Papers in the suit asserted that Lewis declared Mrs. Waranch owned and operated the country club, in St. Mary's County, Md., and said juveniles were served liquor there.

Mrs. Waranch in her complaint asserted that while she owned the building in which the tavern is located, she did not operate the tavern.

After World War I, Mrs. Unterhalter emigrated to Johannesburg, South Africa.

ROK President Sets Stiff Price

SEOUL, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee yesterday set a stiff price for attending the Geneva peace conference — U. S. help to unify Korea by force or a Korean army strong enough to go it alone "if peaceful efforts fail."

Asked by The Associated Press if South Korea would attend the Korean peace conference opening April 26 at Geneva, the president said in a written reply:

"Until receipt of satisfactory assurances, the Republic of Korea is withholding its reply to the invitation to attend the Geneva conference.

"We want permission to unify Korea military if peaceful efforts fail. We want cooperation in the form of arms, munitions and other logistical support such as air and sea coverage. Those not desiring to help us physically can step aside.

"Failing that, we ask immediate expansion of our armed forces to a strength where foreign manpower will not be needed except U. S. officers in advisory and training capacity. Under one or the other of these conditions, we shall agree to attend the Geneva conference."

Ike Sends Thanks To 90-Year-Old Woman For Quilt

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 24 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Bernard received congratulations today, not only because it is her 90th birthday anniversary but because she has a letter from President Eisenhower thanking her for a 3,600 piece patchwork quilt she sent him recently.

The quilt was the 50th Mrs. Bernard has made in 40 years. Today she was busy crocheting a bedspread.

Boy Frees Dogs From Pound, Faces Court

BIRMINGHAM, March 24 (AP)—Billy McCowan, 12, freed his pal Jiggs and about 20 other dogs when he went to the city pound yesterday for a "last visit" with Jiggs.

Jiggs was safe at home, securely chained, today. But police told Billy he would have to report to Juvenile Court.

Pound manager Karle R. Murchison said he still hadn't rounded up all the dogs that scattered happily when their pen door was opened.

Haymes Says "They Haven't Got Chance" Of Ousting Him

"Some Hazard" From Bomb Area Fish, Envoy Says

TOKYO, Thursday, March 25 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison, apparently referring to the great hydrogen blast March 1, said yesterday there was "some hazard" in eating fish caught near the Pacific test grounds "a short time subsequent to tests."

Allison in a statement handed Japan's foreign ministry said the United States is checking for radioactivity all fish brought to Pacific ports. Japan is doing the same.

The Foreign Office in a statement said no radioactive fish had been found on Japanese fishing boats since the "Lucky Dragon," dusted by radioactive ash from the blast 80 miles away, came back to Japan. There have been no reports of radioactive fish reaching U. S. ports.

Allison emphasized "there is negligible hazard, if any, in the consumption of fish caught in the Pacific Ocean outside the immediate test area."

The ambassador said these conclusions were "the opinion of the Atomic Energy Commission's scientific staff based on long-term studies of fish in the presence of radioactivity."

Despite the assurances, fish sales in Japan remained dull and a clamor of press, politicians and labor leaders persisted over the accidental burning by radioactive ashes of 23 Japanese aboard the "Lucky Dragon."

The Foreign Office statement was issued after a four-hour meeting of the Joint Atomic Injury Investigating Committee.

Safe Cracker Given 20-Year Sentence

SALISBURY, Md., March 24 (AP)—Willie Williams, 38, was sentenced to 20 years in the Maryland Penitentiary today for the $5,438 safe cracking of Pocahontas, Inc., here last Feb. 21.

In passing sentence just five years under the maximum, Wicomico County Circuit Court Judge Rex A. Taylor told Williams that his past record was such that the court couldn't consider otherwise.

Williams' FBI record revealed that the Norfolk, Va., Negro had served 10 years of a 20-year sentence in Virginia for store breaking and was released from jail in 1947. He was picked up soon afterwards on a similar charge and served part of a three-year term that time.

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—After a whirling dervish visit to the nation's capital, crooner Dick Haymes took off for New York tonight declaring "they haven't got a chance of kicking me out of the country."

But the singer, husband of Rita Hayworth, declined to say immediately just how he expects to escape deportation to his native Argentina. The Immigration Service ordered his deportation yesterday on the ground of illegal re-entry into the country last June.

Haymes said he hoped to have a statement of his plans in two or three days—"when I know what I am going to do — which I do not now."

But apparently in good humor after a day spent in Washington, he added:

"I haven't a worry in the world."

With Haymes was his attorney, Bartley Crum, who said he tried without success today to reach Sen. Langer (R-ND). Langer was on the Senate floor during much of the day.

Crum said he will return to Washington tomorrow and try again to see Langer, whom he has asked to check immigration files on Haymes' case.

Crum said he believes some source outside of government inspired the deportation action against Haymes and said "in those files we understand there is the name of the informant."

Traveling without luggage and accompanied by New York lawyer Bartley Crum, Haymes kept pushing past a trail of newsmen all day. He finally gave them the slip at the Argentine Embassy, where he completed arrangements for a passport.

Embassy spokesmen said Haymes, 35, as an Argentine citizen, had every right to a passport. They said he had one when he first came to the United States in 1937 and had asked about two weeks ago for a renewal. They said he did not indicate where he planned to go.

Egypt Formally Warned To Halt British Attacks

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—The Churchill government has formally warned Egypt to halt attacks on British soldiers or face indefinite occupation of the Suez Canal base by the 80,000-man British garrison.

The Foreign Office said tonight British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson delivered a note Sunday to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi declaring that further negotiations for evacuation of the billion dollar defense base "are not possible under the present conditions."

A Foreign Office spokesman said the note left the way open for resumption of the long stalemated talks once "order" is returned to the tense canal zone. In Cairo an official source had said earlier that Egypt had regarded the note as notification from the British that they considered the talks "formally broken off."

A spokesman said the note followed on the heels of three oral protests by Sir Ralph charging repeated attacks on British servicemen.

The note demanded that Egyptians involved in the attacks be removed from the canal zone. It asked "adequate measures to prevent Egyptian civilians from carrying arms" within the zone.

Scores have been killed and woulded in the long series of clashes between Egyptian Nationalists and British soldiers. The two countries accuse each other of being responsible for the tense situation.

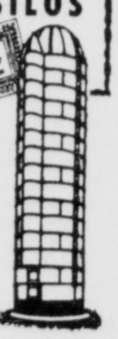

Md. Whisky Firm Loses Pa. Tax Battle

PITTSBURGH, March 24 (AP) — A Maryland whisky distilling firm lost today its legal battle to get back $2,580 in Pennsylvania taxes which it paid by mistake.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court ruled that Calvert Distillers Corp. is not entitled to the kickback because it failed to apply for the refund within two years after paying the taxes.

Calvert had mistakenly paid $4,426 in Pennsylvania corporate franchise taxes for which it was not liable. The state refunded $1,846. But it refused to pay back the $2,580 balance on grounds the company had allowed two years to go by before filing a refund petition for that portion of the tax.

KEYSER—W. E. Michael, president of the Keyser Parent Teacher Association chapter has announced that there will be an unique and profitable type of program at the regular meeting to be held today at 7:30 p. m. The program, he said, will be one that should bring the proper answers to numerous questions that have been asked by parents of children attending school.

Some of the questions to be answered, Michaels said, will be the oft repeated "What are they teaching my children?" "How are they teaching the various subjects", "What materials do they use in their teaching?" and "Why don't they use the same methods and materials as they did when I went to school?"

These and many other questions will be answered in a well planned presentation by teachers of the several grade groups, the president said he hopes there will be a big attendance in the high school auditorium to hear what the teachers have to say.

Mrs. Bertha Stullenbarger, will have a display and will explain use of materials by First Grade pupils.

Miss Elizabeth Stemple, teacher of the first grade will give a demonstration of how a First Grade subject is taught in the schools today. Mrs. Frances Miller will conduct a survey of what a teacher does for Second Graders, and Mrs. Louise Mobley will follow the same pattern for the Third Grade.

Campaign Barbs Swapped By Dr. Byrd And Mahoney

[By The Associated Press]

The leaders of the two main Democratic camps in Maryland hurriedly tossed campaign barbs at each other yesterday, then hustled off to Salisbury in a show of unity for a speech by their national chairman.

Between 500 and 600 state party members were expected for the Jefferson-Jackson Day address by Stephen A. Mitchell, head of Democratic National Committee.

Before leaving Baltimore for the Salisbury dinner meeting, supporters of Dr. H. C. Byrd questioned the vote-getting strength of George P. Mahoney, his rival for the nomination for governor.

The challenge came in cards distributed around town and captioned "Mahoney Weak, Not Strong in 1952 General Election." Mahoney's followers say his 406,370 votes in that race for U. S. senator proved him to be Maryland's biggest Democratic vote-getter in history.

Mahoney, in the latest of his one-a-day statements on why the voters should back him instead of his opponent, declared he had a plan which might save taxpayers up to 15-million dollars.

The plan was based on recommendations of a private firm which Mahoney hired to study the efficiency and economy of the State administration when he was campaigning for governor four years ago, said Mahoney.

Part of the plan—appointment of a State commission to make a desk-by-desk study—already has been put into effect by Republican Gov. McKeldin, he added.

The firm hired by Mahoney said by maintaining "the present level of essential State services ... it should be possible to reduce the requirements for taxes to support these services by as much as $15,000,000."

The consulting firm's suggestion that a commission be set up to study the executive branch of State government was put into effect in March, 1951, when McKeldin appointed the Sobeloff Commission on Administrative Organization of the State, said Mahoney.

"As predicted," he added, "that commission, after some months of study, advocated fiscal reforms very similar to those which, on the advice of my consultants, I had espoused more than a year earlier."

Still more economies could be effected, he concluded, by installing "an administration committed to businesslike operation" in Annapolis.

"The statement that George P. Mahoney is a strong vote getter just doesn't seem to 'hold water'," said the Byrd card.

"The results of the 1952 general election seem to show that instead of being 'strong,' he was 'weak'."

Mahoney "tottered along just ahead of" Adlai Stevenson the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, the statement said. It noted that "Mahoney was only only given 11,033 or two per cent more "votes than Stevenson while President Eisenhower ran 20 per cent ahead of Stevenson across the nation.

Mahoney also "ran only 1,235 votes ahead of the seven Democratic (Congressional) candidates, including the four who did not win, in Maryland ... and was defeated in that election in a normally Democratic state by 43,453 votes, and only carried four of Maryland's 23 counties," it added.

"Nearly all political observers regard Mahoney as much weaker this year than he was in 1952 or 1950," the statement concluded.

In 1950 Mahoney unsuccessfully opposed the bid of Gov. William Preston Lane Jr. for renomination. Mahoney received more popular votes but Lane won on the basis of the county-unit vote system.

Byrd also claimed new support in East Baltimore and announced a Montgomery County group had formed a club to back his candidacy.

The Baltimore backing came from the Pulaski Highway Democratic Club's board of governors, and from a citizens group in the Armistead Gardens section.

Mahoney's headquarters said he had been invited to be principal speaker at the annual banquet and dance Sunday of the D'Alesandro Democratic Club of Maryland. The club is named for Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, who had announced he would seek the nomination himself but later withdrew from the race.

Richard Lidinsky, the mayor's secretary, was named host of the affair in the absence of D'Alesandro, who has been hospitalized for a rest and check-up.

Candidate Defines "100% Prosperity"

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP)—Tim Bright, Maryland's only candidate so far for the Republican nomination for governor, gave the City Wide Women's Republican Club his definition of the "100 per cent prosperity" he favors.

"I want chicken legs raining around this state like a snow storm in Chicago," he said. "I want turkey gravy dripping out of your mouths like Niagara Falls.

"I want you to have porterhouse steaks for breakfast."

Cargo Diverted From N. Y. Gluts Baltimore Port

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP) — Stevedores and customs men sweated over a five-fold glut of ocean freight in Baltimore harbor today, much of it diverted here because of the 20-day-old longshoremen's strike in New York.

Every available docking space had a ship in it or was reserved for one expected shortly.

Cargo was piled so high at piers there was hardly room to work.

The Customs House was teeming night and day, with 19 extra inspectors rushed down from New York to help out.

There wasn't a stevedore without a job and most of them put in long overtime hours which skyrocketed their pay to the tune of $175, $200 and $225 a week.

Pier operators turned back more ships which wanted to come here, trying to keep space open for others which make Baltimore a regular stop.

It was estimated 250,000 tons of freight originally destined for New York had been handled here.

The strain was beginning to tell on Baltimore.

Piers were so crowded the longshoremen were averaging only 15 tons an hour in loading operations, where 40 is normal.

Many trucking companies would not send vans to the waterfront to pick up freight because of the long delays there.

There was a suggestion all the diverted cargo simply be loaded straight into freight cars and shuttled to New York for customs inspection, other paper work and distribution, instead of trying to handle it here. New York, for example, has about 300 customs house brokers, Baltimore regularly but 10.

There still was no sign Baltimore's longshoremen might heed entreaties from New York and go on strike themselves, or at least refuse to handle diverted shipments.

Talbot County Port Facilities Are Sought

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP)—The district office of the Army Engineers has been asked to approve a permit for extensive port facilities in Talbot County.

They would be built between the Eastern Shore towns of McDaniel and Wittman, near the entrance to Eastern Bay.

An official of the firm seeking the permit said industries are expected to move to the area and be served by the port. He called the port a "bid to world-wide trade."

The area is the same one considered and rejected last year for an oil refinery by Pan American Petroleum and Transport Co.

Hobo Jungle Fight Leaves One Dead

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — One man died, another was injured severely and five went to jail as a result of a brawl in a hobo jungle in northeast Washington last night.

Police said the dead man may be Norman Wortham, 41, Negro.

They found him in a wooded area littered with makeshift cots, remains of cooking fires and scores of empty containers that had held almost every conceivable kind of alcoholic substitute, including some labelled poison.

The jungle site is back of the Soldiers Home grounds about five miles from the White House.

Police pushed through the brush after a negro crawled through the woods to sound a fire alarm and report a "big fight."

Five white men were arrested, dazed and bloodied. Police said they were unable to give their names.

380 Children Unhurt In Capital School Fire

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP) — The 380 children in the Maury Elementary School marched out in orderly ranks today when a two-alarm fire struck the building.

Busiest Saturday Night Bath Tub In Baltimore Filled For Last Time

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP) — Baltimore's busiest Saturday night bath tub has been filled for the last time. The waiting line numbered more than eight million before they shut off the water.

It was turned off by today's idea of better living. A slum clearance plan made it necessary that Walters No. 1, otherwise known as Baltimore's first public bath, go down the drain.

"It's right down to the pavement," Supt. Joseph A. Roseman said today rather dolefully outside the razed building. "It's all gone."

Old Walters No. 1 had pumped out eight-gallon showers for a nickel and 12-gallon tub baths for a dime since 1900. Towels and soap were included.

Users washed themselves on the main floor in slate walled stalls. In the basement, they could wash their clothes.

Don't get the idea old Walter No. 1 was for the bum. It was for the drifter, the visitor, and primarily for the resident who had no other place to wash. Drunks couldn't get in.

Registration was as strict as the classiest hotel. The last number was 8,570,380 and they came from all over the world.

"It was bully!" wrote a San Franciscan drying himself in 1902.

"It was swell!" was the notation of a Bostonian half a century later.

"Really, it was a godsend, it was my first bath in 30 days," confessed an Englishman.

No. 1 started gushing because of a wealthy cultured gentleman back when bath tubs were rarely found outside an emperor's palace. Henry Walters gave $50,000 to build it and so it was named. He also founded an art gallery here which bears his name.

There still are seven public bath houses in Baltimore. But they never measured up to No. 1. Five years ago, it soaped down 56,192. Business was slow last year, only 25,966.

NEW YORK (INS) — Imaginary item found in your newspaper of March 25, 1944:

A. Z. Quackenbush, self-styled mystic, was arrested in Times Square last night and federal authorities argued today over whether to put him on trial for treason or as an enemy agent. Arresting officers barely rescued the frail, dreamy-eyed man from a mob of patriotic home fronters as they stormed his soap box and destroyed his inflammatory literature.

Quackenbush was heard to state: "I predict that ten years from today we will be spending hundreds of millions of dollars arming the Japanese we are now trying to destroy.

"By then we will consider them, potentially, our strongest ally in Asia and the biggest safeguard against the aggression of China, to which you are now giving a lot of your money.

"Not only that, I predict that in ten years our best friend in Europe will be the Germans. We'll help Germany rebuild the cities and industry our bombers are now destroying, pick up the German people, dust them off, feed them, clothe them, encourage them, protect them against their enemies (like our great present ally, Russia) and see that they become a great military power again."

It was at this point that the mob closed in on the man, threatening to tear his limb from limb. An attorney assigned to Quackenbush in the federal building tonight urged him to enter a plea of insanity caused by over-indulgence in "Scotch-type" whisky, a wartime drink.

News item, March, 1954 vintage: (From an INS story by Pierre Huss)—

"The Japanese national security force, which has had only light arms, will be expanded to 130,000 men equipped with U.S.-made tanks and artillery. The token Japanese Navy will have 15,808 men with warcraft ranging from minesweepers to destroyers supplied by the U. S. the U. S.-Japan military defense pact allows the third powerful arm of the fighting service—an air force of 6,287 men. Jets will give the modern touch to the sky force.

"But this is only the beginning. Tokyo's eyes are turned to future defense, when the U. S. has pulled its troops out. Estimates for efficient strength on that basis call for expansion of the army to 190,000 men, the navy to 35,000 and the air force to 1,000 fighters and bombers."

Second news item (from an article by former Congressman O. K. Armstrong (R) Mo., in the current Air Force magazine)—

"A West German air force of 1,500 planes (U. S. built) is being counted on as an integral part of European defenses against any future Russian aggression.

"Some 900 of these will be late-model jets, organized in 20 wings. Military planners of the E.D.C. (European Defense Community) are now including the new German air force in their tactical thinking. . . German and American military and civil leaders feel the press of events will shortly bring about French ratification of the E.D.C. treaty welcoming Germany to the European defense alliance.

"Then, the German contribution will include—besides the air contingent—six infantry divisions, four armored and two mechanized divisions, plus naval units for coastal defense on the Baltic Sea."

Tempus certainly does fugit, doesn't it fellows?

India Buying Arms From U. S., Nehru Says

NEW DELHI, India, March 24 (AP)—Prime minister Nehru said today India's purchases of U. S. military equipment is normal defense buying, "with no strings attached."

"If we felt any strings were attached to such sales we would not have purchased them," he told Parliament.

Nehru was referring to published comparisons between India's purchase of U. S. tanks and planes under the U. S. Mutual Security Act, and Pakistan's U. S. arms aid contribution.

State Group Recruiting Nurses For Polio

The Maryland State Nurses Association is supporting and actively participating in the recruitment of 25 nurses and 25 alternates to care for prospective polio patients, according to Miss Anna E. Holmes, president of the organization.

It has been decided that 50 nurses should be available in the event that they are needed for assignment to Baltimore City hospitals, from July 15 through October 30.

Due to the scarcity of nurses, long-term planning is urged to relieve them of their other responsibilities. Since many nurses have requested a refresher course in polio nursing, Miss Holmes announces a three-day institute for all volunteer nurses. It is planned that it will be spaced over a two-weeks period sometime in April.

The Mapleside Homemakers will rehearse their part, the Indians, for the pageant, March 26 at 7:30 in Bethany Church. All going on the embassy tour are asked to give the money to Mrs. M. H. Burgess, 503 Williams Street, by March 30.

Albert Nichols, secretary; Mrs. Eunice Niland, treasurer, and Miss Bessie Baird, corresponding secretary. Hostesses for the reception are Mrs. Henry Gardner and Mrs. R. H. Kaske.

Parties For Mrs. Davis Being Given

Mrs. Thomas R. Hinds was hostess for the first of the farewell parties in compliment to Mrs. Frank U. Davis, yesterday.

Dr. Davis, a prominent physician here for approximately 18 years, is retiring, and he and Mrs. Davis, natives of Pennsylvania, are planning to leave here the middle of May. They will spend their summers at Eglesmere, Pa., and the winters in Florida.

Mrs. Hinds entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home in LaVale, with four tables in play. The spring motif was carried out in the flowers throughout the house, which carried out the yellow color scheme.

Prizes were won by Mrs. John Deetz and Mrs. O. M. Marquis. Besides the honor guest, others attending were Mrs. Stanley Buckley, Mrs. William Claus, Mrs. William Ludman, Mrs. James Bishop, Mrs. Charles Cotter, Mrs. Alvin Wilson, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Russell Thayer, Mrs. Lloyd Keller, Mrs. Fred Keyser, Mrs. Thorner Smith, Mrs. Scott Moorehead, Mrs. Courtney Kidwell and Mrs. Victor Heisey.

Mrs. James W. Bishop is entertaining in honor of Mrs. Davis with a bridge luncheon Saturday. It will be at the Ali Ghan Country Club at 1 o'clock, with 60 guests attending.

April 7, Mrs. Davis' bridge club is entertaining for her at Ali Ghan Country Club.

Oldtown Club Plans For Pageant

The North Branch, Spring Gap and Oldtown Homemakers are to present, "By the Waters of Minitha," at the pageant, sponsored by the Allegany County Homemakers Chorus. It will be given March 29 at Allegany High School.

Roll call was answered with decorating problems in the home. A demonstration on candle-making was given by Miss Mabel Twigg and the hostess. The latter read a letter of invitation to make the Goodwill Guild tour of the embassies of Egypt, Venezuela, Greece, Pakistan, the Philippines, the Dominican Republic, and of the Mosque of the Islamic Center, April 24.

A donation of $5 was given to the Red Cross. Mrs. Howard explained three types of garden aprons which members are to make for sale at the flower show. Mrs. Marie Twigg and Mrs. Fay Duckworth reported on the talk given by Mrs. Jeanne Moehn, family life specialist from the University of Maryland, on "Understanding Teen-Agers." Announcement was made of a health program April 5 at 7:30 o'clock at the Spring Gap community center. It will be given by Mrs. Isabelle Laughlin. Anyone interested is invited. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Evelyn Myerly and Mrs. Louise Haugh.

The prize for the evening was won by Mrs. Minnie Miller and Mrs. Duckworth won the award for the canning game. The meeting concluded with the group singing, "Love's Old Sweet Song," and repeating the Homemakers creed. Nineteen members and one guest, Mrs. Orka Benson, attended. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lillian Confer and Mrs. Rose Lewis.

State Group Recruiting Nurses For Polio

The Maryland State Nurses Association is supporting and actively participating in the recruitment of 25 nurses and 25 alternates to care for prospective polio patients, according to Miss Anna E. Holmes, president of the organization.

It has been decided that 50 nurses should be available in the event that they are needed for assignment to Baltimore City hospitals, from July 15 through October 30.

Due to the scarcity of nurses, long-term planning is urged to relieve them of their other responsibilities. Since many nurses have requested a refresher course in polio nursing, Miss Holmes announces a three-day institute for all volunteer nurses. It is planned that it will be spaced over a two-weeks period sometime in April.

The Mapleside Homemakers will rehearse their part, the Indians, for the pageant, March 26 at 7:30 in Bethany Church. All going on the embassy tour are asked to give the money to Mrs. M. H. Burgess, 503 Williams Street, by March 30.

Receiving the guests will be Mrs. Charles U. Wiebel, president; Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, Mrs. William Strickler, vice presidents; Mrs. J. Albert Nichols, secretary; Mrs. Eunice Niland, treasurer, and Miss Bessie Baird, corresponding secretary. Hostesses for the reception are Mrs. Henry Gardner and Mrs. R. H. Kaske.

The reception is to be at 9 o'clock, and will be preceded by the business session at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Karl Bachman and Mrs. Nichols, chairmen for the May dinner, will complete their arrangements and name their committees.

Asher S. H. Edelman, Hagerstown, will give an organ recital at 8 tonight at Bethany United Brethren Church. There also will be vocal selections by Mrs. Elsie Brinkman and the Men's Choir of Pinto.

Four Frostburg Youths Admit Guilt In Breaking, Enterings

Four Frostburg boys involved in a series of breaking and enterings in Frostburg in January, February and March pleaded guilty when they appeared before Associate Judge George Henderson yesterday morning.

They were Eugene Jeffries, 17; Paul McKenzie, 17; David Preston, 16, and Lawrence McKee, 19.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty presented the confessions made to State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher.

Getty presented the statement of McKenzie in which he told of his activities along with Jeffries on two different nights. Jeffries corroborated this confession.

McKenzie said on the night of February 18 he and Jeffries hatched the first of their series of breaking and enterings and attempted breaking and enterings about 1 a. m. in a Frostburg restaurant.

They went to Sleeman Brothers building, entered through a window and, finding a chisel, attempted to open the safe. McKenzie said they succeeded in knocking its dial off, but could not get it open. They took 50 cents they found in the cash register, the statement said.

McKenzie said they then went to a Grahamtown garage-service station, but were scared away when a light was turned on in a nearby home.

Using a screwdriver, they made an unsuccessful attempt to open the rear door of Lucky's Liquor Store in Frostburg.

Having no luck here, the two boys then entered Koegel's Feed Store by a back window and took a carton of cigarets and 50 cents in change.

From here, the busy burglars went to Ruffo's Tavern where Jeffries entered through a window and handed out four cases of canned beer, candy and chewing gum to McKenzie, the statement read. Jeffries found $1.50 in change in the place.

The beer was cached in a small mine at Sand Spring and McKenzie said he, Jeffries and "PeeWee" McKee and another boy went there from time to time to drink it.

Th statement also told how McKenzie and Jeffries on March 5 entered Sluss's Grocery Store and took some change.

It was brought out that Jeffries served 50 days in prison after being convicted in July 1953 in Allegany County Circuit Court of breaking and entering Louis Riley's place in Frostburg. McKenzie had a prior conviction in Juvenile Court on a breaking and entering in 1952.

Preston and McKee confessed to breaking and entering several Frostburg restaurants and getting a total loot of $25.

'ANNIE GET YOUR GUN'—This is a scene from the famous Broadway hit show, "Annie Get Your Gun," which will be staged in Fort Hill auditorium Monday night by a road company under the auspices of the Cumberland Optimist Club for the benefit of the Junior Optimist camping fund.

Optimists To Sponsor Stage Play

Benefit Performance At Fort Hill Monday

The Cumberland Optimist Club will sponsor the appearance of a national road company in "Annie Get Your Gun," a well-known Broadway hit play, at Fort Hill High School auditorium Monday night.

The play is coming here as a benefit presentation to help the Optimist Club raise funds for its Boys' Work program.

The club plans to send 25 members of the Junior Optimist Club to summer camp for a week in July. The camp, located on Town Creek, will provide a week of summer outing for this group of boys who otherwise would have no summer vacation at all, club members said.

Frank Kaplon is chairman of the Boy's Work committee and Robert O. Collins, club president, is general chairman in charge of arrangements for this performance. Richard Shaw has charge of ticket sales and all members of the club are participating in the ticket sale and promotion.

Collins said the club has been assured that the company presenting "Annie Get Your Gun" is an outstanding organization, formed for the purpose of bringing this play to about 200 cities from coast to coast, where most residents have little opportunity to see professional productions.

The company travels in its own bus.

CHAIRMAN—R. A. Blacka of Stuarts Draft, Va., is general chairman of Shenandoah Valley Week, April 24 through May 2, which dates include the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival at Winchester, April 29-30. He is currently busy with a wide variety of details in connection with the Valley Week observance in 15 counties.

Mr. Reckley said the canal towpath was littered with rocks and in some places washed away.

Mrs. Reckley, the minister's wife, met the walkers in a car this afternoon and shuttled them the final half-mile up the steep hill on which the lodge sits.

"No one turned her (Mrs. Reckley) down," Reckley said.

Several times during the day's hike, the party was intercepted by persons who sided either with the proposal to build a federal highway along the old canal or with the Douglas line of thinking that the canal should be preserved and developed as a recreational area.

Near Sharpsburg one unidentified man complained to Justice Douglas that high water washes carp from the river into the canal.

When the water goes down, the carp are trapped and left to die and vultures and buzzards make short work of them.

"When they finish with the fish, they come after my pigs," the man said.

He said he favored restoring the canal, at least to fill it with water to save the carp.

Since the party passed Hancock, sentiment has been running against the proposed parkway.

The going is not expected to be quite as rough underfoot as today.

To Construct Home

James E. Klosterman has obtained a permit from the building engineer to construct a one-story, five-room dwelling at 439 Fort Avenue.

Cost is estimated at $6,000 for the 26 by 36 foot residence. The foundation will be of concrete block, walls of brick and roof of asphalt shingle.

City Bus, Two Autos In Three-Way Mishap On Mechanic Street

A Cumberland Transit Lines bus struck two automobiles last night about 8 o'clock, causing considerable commotion on North Mechanic Street near the corner of Baltimore Street. No one was reported injured.

The bus driven by George Chambers, and headed South on Mechanic toward Baltimore Street police said, struck the left side of the car of John Diamond parked near his restaurant.

The bus driver, police added, said his front right wheel locked, and as he applied his brakes he struck the first car. As he released the brakes, the car bounded into the rear of the car of an unidentified driver who had stopped on the same side of the street.

Considerable damage was done to all three vehicles. Officer Robert Gilpin, who investigated, said no charges were preferred.

Band Concert Planned

The Fort Hill High School Senior and Junior Bands will present their annual spring concert Friday, April 2 at 8:15 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Gordon Williams is director.

Tickets may be purchased from both band members and will also be on sale at the auditorium the night of the concert.

The program will include solos, quartets and other instrumental numbers. Majorettes of both bands will also perform.

Pollack Trial May Be Heard April 26

A tentative trial date of Monday, April 26, has been set for the case against James H. (Jack) Pollack of Baltimore, according to Associate Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court.

That date will stand if agreeable to both prosecuting and defense attorneys, Judge Henderson explained. Prosecuting the case will be Anselm Sodaro, State's Attorney for Baltimore, and Paul M. Fletcher, State's Attorney for Allegany County. Defense attorneys are G.C.A. Anderson and James S. Morrow Jr., of Baltimore and William A. Gunter, this city.

Pollack has been charged with "attempt to obstruct justice." He is accused of attempting to influence the testimony of several witnesses in the morals case against Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro, son of Baltimore's mayor. D'Alesandro subsequently was acquitted but has since been indicted on a perjury charge. The case was removed here from Baltimore Criminal Court at Pollack's request.

Dixie Republicans Flexing Political Muscles As Demos Square Off For Intra-Party Battles

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Republicans in the South are stirring and flexing their political muscles and Democrats are squaring off for some flashy battles among themselves.

So things may be a bit different in Dixie and the border states in this year's off-year election.

Usually it's just a question of running off the Democratic primaries, and ho-hum, that's that. And of course through the broad sweep of 11 southern and four border states the Democratic primary, for the most part, still is "the" election.

One epic exception this year is the Kentucky senatorial bout. It looks at this point as though Alben W. Barkley, the 76-year-old former vice president, will be in the Democratic corner and Sen. John Sherman Cooper in the Republican.

In Oklahoma, two oil millionaires, Sen. Robert S. Kerr and former Gov. Roy J. Turner, are tangling in the Democratic senatorial primary. North Carolina has a Senate primary involving a struggle between "conservatives" and "liberals" for control of the Democratic party.

Texas Democrats are in a similar scuffle in a state that jumped to President Eisenhower in 1952. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, is facing a fight for another term.

Also at stake are the seats of such prominent Democratic senators as Richard B. Russell of Georgia, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and John Sparkman of Alabama.

Sparkman was the party's vice presidential candidate in 1952. Russell and Kefauver reached for the presidential nomination and failed to get it. There are rumors they may be rapping on the door again in 1956.

Results of a survey by Associated Press political experts show that Republicans on the sunny side of the Mason and Dixon line don't expect to wade into the 1954 political fighting and seize a long string of Senate and gubernatorial seats from the Democrats.

But they are going to put up scraps here and there. And they have covetous eyes on a few more House seats, in such states as Alabama, Texas, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee.

Dixie Republicans still are perked up by President Eisenhower's invasion that cracked the "solid south," captured seven southern and border states and scored near misses in three others.

This doesn't mean that this year or in any other in the immediate future there is going to be a real two-party election in the South.

It does mean that the GOP hasn't fallen this time into the state of political thumb twiddling that followed Herbert Hoover's southern victories in 1928. And it means, too, that there is some solid Republican activity at the grass roots which represents at least some challenge to the Democrats and perhaps the beginning of an eventual two-party system.

In some states, Republicans are doing more talking than acting. And at some spots they are squabbling among themselves, particularly over their first taste of political patronage after a long famine.

So it isn't entirely a picture of glowing, rising Republican hopes in the South and border states.

Furthermore, GOP chances now depend in large measure on the extent to which Democrats who voted for Eisenhower stay converted to the Republican cause. In places like South Carolina, Eisenhower Democrats are staying organized, and there are prospects of Republican-Conservative-Democrat coalitions in portions of the South.

Yet Govs. Allan Shivers of Texas and Robert Lennon of Louisiana, who backed Eisenhower two years ago, say they still are Democrats.

This year, the South will vote on 12 senators, eight governors and 138 House members. A Senate seat in Kentucky and a gubernatorial chair in Maryland are occupied by Republicans.

The Republicans also hold 17 House seats—four each in Maryland and Missouri, three in Virginia, two each in Kentucky and Tennessee and one each in North Carolina and Oklahoma.

Seven Republicans and eight Democratic seats were won in races so tight that a switch of less than five votes in a hundred would have tossed them to the other party.

Mid-March soundings by on-the-scene AP political analysts produced this sort of picture in the following states:

MARYLAND

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, the fourth Republican to occupy the state house, undoubtedly wants to stay for a second term.

Republicans have a four to three edge in the congressional delegation. Democrats, with a 2½ to one majority in registered voters, are going to try to regain control.

Democratic efforts to unite on a candidate for governor collapsed. In the June 28 primary, it's Dr. H. C. (Curley) Byrd, former president of Maryland University, against George P. Mahoney, Baltimore contractor and businessman.

VIRGINIA

Republicans are encouraged by the fact that the GOP made the best showing it ever has managed in the state gubernatorial race last year. It lost, but got more than 44 per cent of the vote.

So the party may put up a fight for other House seats than the three it picked off in 1952.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson will have opposition in the Democratic primary July 13 from Charles W. Lewis, a retired career officer in the State Department foreign service. Lewis isn't well known in the state and consequently isn't given much chance.

Good Reading For Business

There is good reading in a survey just released by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Commerce Department—for all except those who get a vicarious pleasure from reading the forebodings of the prophets of gloom.

The survey contains figures which show that U. S. business plans to spend $27,200,000,000 for new plant and equipment this year, a drop of a mere four per cent from the recent capital outlay of 1953.

If this estimate proves to be accurate 1954 will be the second biggest year for capital investment in U. S. history. This certainly is the way to put road blocks in the path of recession, depression, adjustment or "poor times," to use an outmoded expression.

What does the survey show as to sales? The consensus of businesses interrogated is that sales volume will be down three per cent from last year's dollar volume, which would easily be accounted for by slightly lower prices. Utilities, reflecting a continuation toward a higher standard of living, expect an increase of 10 per cent in their year's operations. Durable goods producers estimate their volume will be off eight per cent, while producers of non-durable goods expect an increase of three per cent. In other categories, little or no change is anticipated.

Other optimistic diagnoses of the state of the nation's economy are borne out by these forecasts, which were based on a sampling of 5,000 companies in February and early March. As long as business continues to pump almost a hundred million dollars a day into new and enlarged facilities, it is obvious that it does not anticipate a serious letdown in overall activities.

When Guatemala, incensed by U. S. efforts to keep communism out of South America, says it's no other nation's business what form of government she has, she means no nation except Russia.

The populace of Kansas has been urged by the governor to pray for moderate rains. But one impious editor suggests that if a specified amount is to be asked for, the figures should be stated more definitely.

The pocketbook may be empty and the bank account shot, but it's a grand and glorious feeling that income tax day has come and gone.

The Hellbomb

The most recent tests with the Hellbomb in the Pacific should frighten everyone. The radius of that bomb was so wide that 450 miles has now been set as its outer periphery. Perhaps that fact would have been kept secret from the American people were it not that some Japanese fishermen were damaged during the tests.

One wonders whether Russian schnorkel submarines out of Tsingtao, Weihaiwei or Hainan watched this experiment from a safe distance. The Russians have bases along the China coast and although I give these cities as the probable sites, I do not really know where the bases are. The American press was not permitted to be present at the blowing up of the Hellbomb. Increasingly, Americans are growing dependent upon the mimeographed release for general information and upon carefully monitored magazine articles written by favored journalists who are not permitted to see what they write about.

This raises a question of policy that requires congressional attention when Congress can take time off to devote itself to the business of the country. As of today's date, the American people have little concept of the new civilization-destroying weapons. If a single bomb has a destructive radius of 450 miles, it means that a single bomb can destroy not only the British Isles but that every large city in the United States can be wiped out by an enemy.

Last summer, we heard much about some concept called "Operation Candor." The idea was that President Eisenhower would deliver an address telling the American people precisely how dreadful this new weapon is. For weeks we heard that there was divided counsel as to the wisdom of such an address. After the Bermuda Conference, the President did speak on the subject, but it was a rather mild statement. It is obvious from the recent explosion of a Hellbomb that it was not the whole story and that those who believe in secrecy had succeeded in suppressing a recital of the menace to us.

Could it be that the infantrymen feared that if the whole truth were known, Congress would drastically cut appropriations for foot-soldiers and use the money for the Air Force and for counter-Hellbomb expenditures? What use can actually be made of foot-soldiers against a bomb that comes out of the air and devastates an area within a radius of 450 miles? What would foot-soldiers do against such a bomb? Could they do more than die as the rest of us would die?

I am not a military expert and cannot answer these questions, but I would like to know what the answers are. I would also like to know whether parents can, from now on, be justified in keeping their children in big cities that are likely to be targets. I should also like to know whether our warning devices, such as radar, and our interceptor planes are of a quantity and quality capable of defending our lives. Somebody ought to tell us about that.

We are being told that our retaliatory powers are enormous. Does that mean that if New York is wiped out, Moscow and Magnitogorsk will also be wiped out? Or that if one Hellbomb is hurled at us, 11 Hellbombs will be hurled at cities in the Soviet Universal State?

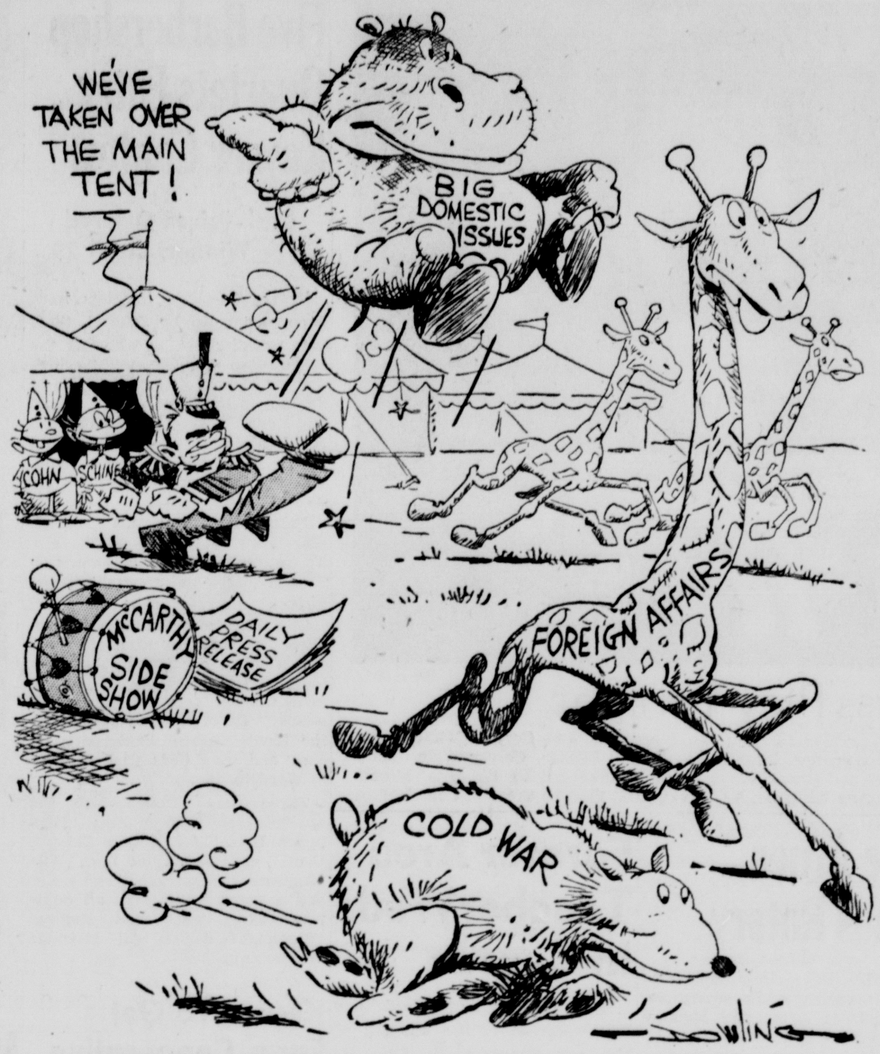

Such retaliation may be a fascinating study for those who are planning it, but what about the 8,000,000 people of New York who would be killed? And what would become of our civilization under such circumstances? It would seem to me that conscience would require those who are responsible for the Hellbomb and those who are responsible for our defense to tell us something about the seriousness of this problem.

Politically, I think it can be said that the first Hellbomb that is hurled at the United States will end the existence of constitutional government in the United States. Emergency conditions will be of such a magnitude that authority will have to be centralized. For one thing, it will be necessary to establish a government of violence to prevent the agents of the enemy from taking advantage of the confusion.

What is being done about that? Currently it would seem that nothing is being done about it in the United States. But is nothing being done about it in the Kremlin?

New Look Planned For Senate Probes Of Communism; Braden Will Testify

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The new look for senatorial probes is being launched by Senator Jenner's Internal Security Committee today with Spruille Braden, former assistant secretary of state, as the star witness.

Braden has prepared 10 revelations showing how communism or communistic influences affected foreign policy during or immediately after the war, the most sensational of them involving Alger Hiss.

Possibly more important than Braden's revelations, however, will be the attempt by Senate Republicans to steal the Communist show away from Joe McCarthy. Jenner has appointed a distinguished new chief counsel replacing Robert Morris — Charles Grimes, a former Dewey racketbuster and a New York attorney with a reputation for fairness. Grimes' plan is to lean over backward in presenting evidence and give opposing witnesses every opportunity to present their side.

The hearings are part of a plan outlined to McCarthy by Vice President Nixon and Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers last December in Miami when they tried to persuade McCarthy to go back to corruption-hunting and let the Jenner Committee handle communism. Though McCarthy agreed to this at the time, he has been jumping the traces ever since.

Grimes, though appointed by Senator Jenner, was actually handpicked by the Brownell-Rogers-Dewey group, with whom he had worked in the past.

Braden, the opening gun in the "new look" probe, will tell how, as assistant secretary of state in 1946, he discovered that Alger Hiss had written a memo to the United Nations listing Panama as a country occupied by U. S. troops. Hiss had written the memo without consulting the Latin American division of which Braden was then in charge.

While it was true that U. S. troops were stationed in some parts of Panama, in addition to the Canal Zone, Braden contended that the country as such was not "occupied" and that the listing of Panama as "occupied" would cause a disastrous reaction below the Rio Grande. So he went to Dean Acheson, then undersecretary of state, who in turn tried to have Hiss withdraw the U.N. report. Hiss, however, was away and could not be found.

Two or three days later, Hiss turned up, admitted he should have cleared his report with the Latin American division, but refused Braden's request that it be withdrawn. Though the report had not been made public, Hiss claimed it would put the United States in an embarrassing position to have it corrected.

Later the report was published and became grist for the Russian propaganda mill. According to Braden it seriously hurt our relations with Panama.

McCarthy's Medals

Joe McCarthy has received one letter he isn't going to publish. It's from a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Jacob D. Brickley, an ex-Marine hero of Lockhaven, Pa., who collected his war medals, put them in an envelope and sent them to the senator from Wisconsin.

"Enclosed are all the medals I received while in the Marine Corps, plus a few extras," Brickley wrote McCarthy, "they aren't much, but they may serve you better. I mean make you a hero."

The medals included a sharpshooter's bar, a unit citation, and theater ribbons for the tough fighting at Guadalcanal and various parts of the Pacific. Brickley enlisted in 1942 and fought for three years all through the Pacific war.

"These medals I am sending you," Brickley wrote, "I would like to deliver personally. But I couldn't give you all the publicity you are used to receiving."

Undoubtedly he referred to the manner in which McCarthy had applied for and at first had been refused an Air Medal for taking trips as an observer in Marine Corps planes. Eight years after the war, following continued pressure by McCarthy, the Marine Corps finally awarded him the Air Medals he requested, at a ceremony which McCarthy arranged in his own office.

"You do not deserve the Purple Heart because of your foot in a bucket episode," Brickley wrote. "From here on you deserve to be known as 'Bucket-Foot Joe,' instead of 'Jumping Joe.'"

Brickley referred to the fact that McCarthy claimed he was wounded in action when actually he hurt his foot while climbing around the ship with a bucket tied to his foot during a crossing-the-equator initiation ceremony.

Army Camp Vacuum

While the Air Force plans to open five new fields in various parts of the U. S., the Army is closing down one of its historic bases, Camp Pickett, Va., which could just as well be turned over to the Air Force — all as part of the policy of not letting one branch of the service know what the other is doing.

Camp Pickett covers 45,000 acres of level farmland near Blackstone, Va., and originally the people of that area didn't particularly want the camp. Now that it has caused the removal of farm families and drastically changed the landscape, however, they face an economic upheaval if the camp closes.

Schine-Army Conflict Given Exaggerated Importance

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The Republican leadership in the Senate has allowed itself to be boxed in by the Democrats and the whole Cohn-Schine-Adams affair—which, in the end, will be found to be "much ado about nothing"—is having the effect of stopping investigations into the infiltration of Communist sympathizers into the various government departments under the Democratic administration.

When all the testimony has been taken and all the cross-examination has been concluded in the Cohn-Schine-Adams controversy, it will be found that no crime was committed by anybody. As for the issue of veracity between the two sides, it will prove to be the usual misinterpretations which sometimes occur when somebody tries to put on paper his recollection of conversations that took place over a period of many months before.

Omissions Indicated

On its face, the so-called Army report has an ambiguous aspect which indicates clearly that much has been omitted concerning the regular business between the McCarthy Committee and the Pentagon. An effort apparently has been made to give the impression in compiling the report that all that was talked about at various conferences was the giving to Pvt. Schine of a different assignment or some weekend passes. As for those who compiled the so-called Army report, their words sometimes give an impression which perhaps doesn't always take into account the facetious vein in which some of the conversations were doubtless carried on.

Although those who are trying to discredit Senator McCarthy are emphasizing that there is an issue of truth-telling involving the Wisconsin senator himself, it will be noted that many of the memoranda issued by Senator McCarthy in reply to the Army's report were written by Francis Carr, who was for 11 years with the FBI and occupied a position of responsibility. Mr. Carr is trained in such things as truth-telling and court testimony under oath, and it was not Mr. McCarthy but Mr. Carr who wrote on December 9, 1953:

"Again today John Adams (legal counsel for the secretary of the army) came down here after the hearings and, using clever phrases, tried to find out, 'What's there in it for us' if he and Stevens did something for Schine. He refers to Schine as our hostage or the hostage whenever his name comes up. I made it clear that, as far as I was concerned, I don't personally care what treatment they gave Schine, and that, as far as I was concerned, he was in the Army. I did say I thought it wasn't fair of them to take it out on Schine because we were investigating the Army, or to keep using it to try to stop our investigations. I told him the only contact we were authorized to have with him about Schine was on investigations committee business.

"My telling him this does no real good, as he constantly lumps together all his talk about Schine with suggestions that we stop holding hearings on the Army. I am convinced that they will keep right on trying to blackmail us as long as Schine is in the Army."

The foregoing will be sworn to by Mr. Carr. But it is also possible that his interpretation of the motive back of the conversations about Schine is as faulty as are some of the interpretive statements in the Army's report.

Thus, on December 10, 1953, in the Army's document an emphasis is given to some things that really may have occupied much less attention at the time or could easily have been forgotten weeks later. The report says:

"At Senator McCarthy's request, Secretary Stevens and Mr. Adams lunched with Senator McCarthy and Mr. Francis Carr at the Carroll Arms. According to Mr. Carr, Mr. Cohn was too upset to attend the lunch because of the Pvt. Schine situation and the Army's unwillingness to settle on Pvt. Schine's future assignment, and had departed for New York immediately after the conclusion of the morning hearings."

Now what were the facts? Was this all they talked about at lunch? Mr. Cohn was upset, but about what? On that day, Mr. Cohn's father had suffered a heart attack and he rushed back to New York. Mr. Carr will doubtless have sworn testimony on what he did say to Mr. Adams about this.

Importance Exaggerated

Another portion of the Army report gives an altogether erroneous impression, for instance, by omitting to give the details of what was actually discussed and leaving the inference that the subject talked about was the very one referred to in previous sections of the report. The Army's memorandum of February 16, 1954, says:

"Mr. Carr stated that if the Army would be reasonable, probably the committee would be reasonable. Mr. Adams inquired how Mr. Carr thought that the Army should be 'reasonable' and Mr. Carr answered rather facetiously that, if the Army would only do all that had been requested of it, the Army's problems would be at an end."

Now, any person reading that section of the report would assume this was a reference to requests from committee staff members in the past concerning the treatment of Pvt. Schine. Actually the Schine matter had nothing to do with it. The subject under discussion was how to set up a meeting of the Senate subcommittee at which the Army would produce certain witnesses desired by the committee, and the issue was which side would try to meet the convenience of the other or try to satisfy the requests of the other. The reference did not concern the Schine situation, but many readers have jumped to the conclusion that here was a bit of bargaining on a matter relating to Schine's assignment or his treatment in the Army.

When all the facts are brought out in sworn testimony, the basis for the conflict will be readily understood and the whole episode will prove to have been given exaggerated importance.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like Japan is in business like a cat on a fish wharf. We staking it to wheat, oats and one hundred million tokens.

We're letting it arm to the protruding teeth with the toys of oblivion. To slap a bonnet on the climax Japan is planting five hundred acres of opium poppies.

All of which looks like the words and music for that old adage, "You have buttered your toast—you must lie on it."

That was about as fast a touch as you will ever find in history. It has been less than 15 years since Pearl Harbor and the barrel jugglers are again rubbing resin on their feet.

Japan says the opium is for medicinal purposes. Reminds me that's how we got our liquor during prohibition.

That was only 22 years ago. Seems like tomorrow night.

Truth is we are doing the smart caper with Japan. We need a strong enemy in the Pacific. And we're not forgetting that Nippon came closer to winning than a bulldog with a mustache of porcupine quills.

It took 50 years for the pendulum to tag all the bases.

But there it is. Might be a good idea for Douglas MacArthur to oil his wading boots again.

The Cities Are Finished

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In view of the news from the Pacific, where a hydrogen bomb with at least 500 times the power of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima has been tested, a recent decision by the National Security Council is worth reporting. This decision calls for the evacuation of all major American target cities, in case of enemy air attack, once an effective early warning system has been established.

It is an astonishing idea, if you think about it—all of America's great cities lying naked and empty of people. Yet as explained by its real author, Civil Defense Administrator Val Petersen, former governor of Nebraska, the idea makes sense or at least as much sense as anything makes in this strange age.

"The cities are finished," Petersen says flatly. The first hydrogen bomb, with less than half the power of the bomb just tested caused an entire large island to disappear. A bomb which can blow an island out of the water can blow any city off the map. Indeed, the hydrogen bomb is in a sense a gilding of the lily—a modern large atomic bomb will destroy any but a handful of huge cities.

In this situation, the "duck when you hear a bang" kind of civil defense is worse than useless. Petersen caused a study to be made of the results of a successful attack with modern nuclear weapons on the sixty-seven major population centers in this country, assuming this kind of civil defense. The results were conservatively estimated at 22,000,000 hospital cases and 9,000,000 people killed outright.

Only One Prevention

"Just as a practical matter," Petersen asked, "how in hell are you going to bury 9,000,000 corpses?" The answer is that this kind of mass slaughter simply cannot be permitted to happen. Short of a total defense in the air—which no informed man believes possible—there is only one way to prevent it. This is to get the people out of the cities before the bombs fall.

This is only possible, of course, if there is a long warning time—Petersen puts the minimum, for most cities, at two hours. (For geographical and other reasons, three cities, San Francisco, New Orleans, and New York, need much more time than that.) Modern radar and other techniques make reliable early warning possible. Petersen has been promised by the NSC that he will have his minimum of two hours warning within a year to eighteen months. Then "pre-attack evacuation" will officially become national policy.

As Petersen points out, a reasonably healthy person can cover ten miles in two hours on his feet, particularly if incineration acts as an incentive. And successful evacuation would at least save the nation's most valuable asset—its inhabitants. The trouble is that evacuation requires not only the most elaborate and careful prior planning, but also the disciplined cooperation of literally tens of millions of people. And most people do not give a tinker's dam about civil defense.

Result Of Misinformation

"When you are selling in a market where seven people out of ten don't think it can happen," Petersen says, "you've got a helluva sales job."

Many people, often the very same people who don't think it could happen, also think that there is nothing that can be done about it. Episodes like that involving the Japanese fishermen injured by radiation eighty miles from the hydrogen bomb test induce this fatalism. So do much exaggerated accounts of the damage range of bombs.

Actually, a person ten miles from the explosion even of the monster hydrogen bomb recently tested would have a good chance of survival. The unfortunate Japanese were the victims of a chance "fall-out" of radio-active material from the bomb cloud, which resulted from a combination of bad luck and bad meteorological forecasting. Ordinarily, the cloud mounts into the stratosphere and is harmlessly dissipated.

These two illusions—that nothing need be done and that nothing can be done—results from simple misinformation. They make Petersen's job next to impossible. This is no fault of Petersen's. As a result of a year's steadfast staring into hell, this normally genial politician is the first official in Washington to make sense about civil defense.

The fault lies rather with those who believe that the American people cannot be trusted with facts which the Soviets certainly already know. Some months ago, the President intended to give the people such basic facts as would dissipate these fatal illusions described above. But a small group of officials—chief among them Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss—prevailed with the view that the American people should be fed pap, lest they become hysterical and demand inconvenient action. The future may show how heavy is the responsibility borne by this small group of short-sighted men.

Some Readers Send Interesting, Instructive Advice

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From time to time we receive from readers instructive and interesting advice that is worth passing along. A Chicago housewife, for example, found a simple remedy for snoring.

"I'm going on my 25th year of married life to a man who snores," she writes. "I breathe as he does—that is, when he inhales I inhale and just as deeply. This may take a few nights to learn but will produce complete relaxation. I'm often awakened again around 2 a. m. by my husband's loud snoring. I start the method all over again and am soon asleep."

A Mundelein, Ill., woman discussed the danger of lighting a gas oven when too many fumes have escaped. "I know of two cases in my family who were wearing nylon garments and the flames consumed the entire front as well as crumpled a plastic curtain," she reports. This is an excellent warning, particularly for housewives who have trouble with the oven. Furthermore, curtains should not be hung near an open flame.

"Why doesn't someone who has conquered the smoking habit start a Smokers Anonymous to help those who cannot help themselves?" This question came from a Paterson, N. J., tobacco user who is in need of a little more will power.

"A heartbroken wife states: "I looked in vain for some mention in your recent column on deafness about the sympathetic understanding your loved ones ought to give when you need to use a hearing aid. I have just separated from my husband because of his lack of understanding for my situation. He said I was not concentrating on what people said and was completely uncooperative in his attitude when I looked to him for understanding and help.

A New Yorker, referring to a question asked in the column about how to get out of the habit of biting the lips and inside of the cheeks, scolds me as follows for my reply: "As a doctor, I should think you would know the answer. I take either a glass of milk, a banana, or some cheese or nuts—anything that is good for the nerves. The habit is due to extreme nervousness which you, as a doctor, should have realized. Eating or drinking supplies nerve food and will make the biting unnecessary. It cannot be cured through will power."

My only objection to this remedy is that many nervous and frustrated people find so much solace in eating, they soon become obese. It is better to find and remove the cause of nervousness rather than feed it with milk, bananas, cheese, and nuts.

A Chicagoan also bawled us out because we encouraged a woman in her 70s to continue smoking one cigaret a day as was her custom. Actually, we told the lady we saw no reason why she ought to stop, so long as she had been smoking a cigaret a day for years and the practice apparently was doing no harm. It is against my policy to stop anything that gives pleasure to our senior citizens.

Try And Stop Me

No question about the fact that children are growing sweeter and more considerate every day in this television age. In London, for instance, a performance of Hansel and Gretel was being given at the Drury Lane Theatre during the Christmas holidays, and the wicked witch had just jammed poor Gretel into the oven and shut the door. Ten minutes later a girlish voice in the audience was heard above the music, instructing, "Hey, Witch! Look in that oven and see if she's done yet!"

Pathetic figure is the puny magician John Straley tells about who had to give up his profession. He was so weak the rabbits always pulled him into the hat.

"Your eyes," said the gallant swain on bended knee, "intoxicate me." "Ah," simpered the object of his adoration, "it must be the eyeballs."

Good Reading For Business

There is good reading in a survey just released by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Commerce Department—for all except those who get a vicarious pleasure from reading the forebodings of the prophets of gloom.

The survey contains figures which show that U. S. business plans to spend $27,200,000,000 for new plant and equipment this year, a drop of a mere four per cent from the recent capital outlay of 1953.

If this estimate proves to be accurate 1954 will be the second biggest year for capital investment in U. S. history. This certainly is the way to put road blocks in the path of recession, depression, adjustment or "poor times," to use an outmoded expression.

What does the survey show as to sales? The consensus of businesses interrogated is that sales volume will be down three per cent from last year's dollar volume, which would easily be accounted for by slightly lower prices. Utilities, reflecting a continuation toward a higher standard of living, expect an increase of 10 per cent in their year's operations. Durable goods producers estimate their volume will be off eight per cent, while producers of non-durable goods expect an increase of three per cent. In other categories, little or no change is anticipated.

Other optimistic diagnoses of the state of the nation's economy are borne out by these forecasts, which were based on a sampling of 5,000 companies in February and early March. As long as business continues to pump almost a hundred million dollars a day into new and enlarged facilities, it is obvious that it does not anticipate a serious letdown in overall activities.

Could it be that the infantrymen feared that if the whole truth were known, Congress would drastically cut appropriations for foot-soldiers and use the money for the Air Force and for counter-Hellbomb expenditures? What use can actually be made of foot-soldiers against a bomb that comes out of the air and devastates an area within a radius of 450 miles? What would foot-soldiers do against such a bomb? Could they do more than die as the rest of us would die?

I am not a military expert and cannot answer these questions, but I would like to know what the answers are. I would also like to know whether parents can, from now on, be justified in keeping their children in big cities that are likely to be targets. I should also like to know whether our warning devices, such as radar, and our interceptor planes are of a quantity and quality capable of defending our lives. Somebody ought to tell us about that.

We are being told that our retaliatory powers are enormous. Does that mean that if New York is wiped out, Moscow and Magnitogorsk will also be wiped out? Or that if one Hellbomb is hurled at us, 11 Hellbombs will be hurled at cities in the Soviet Universal State?

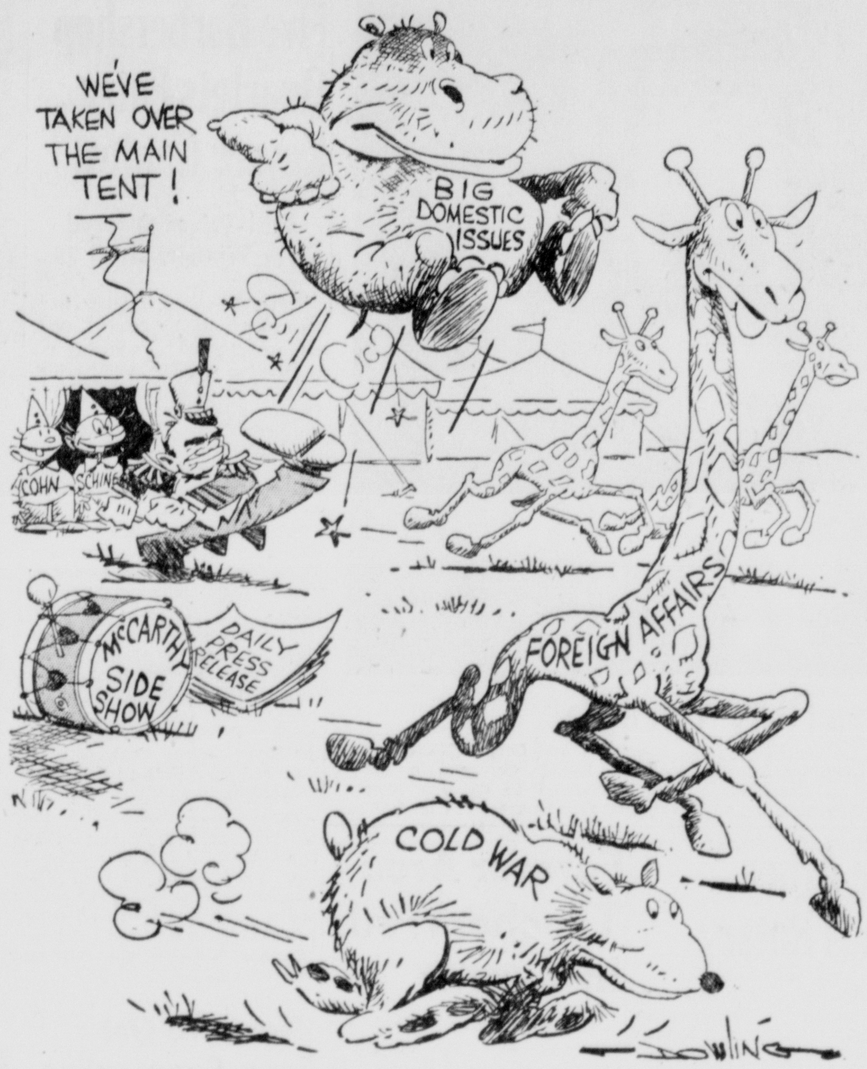

Such retaliation may be a fascinating study for those who are planning it, but what about the 8,000,000 people of New York who would be killed? And what would become of our civilization under such circumstances? It would seem to me that conscience would require those who are responsible for the Hellbomb and those who are responsible for our defense to tell us something about the seriousness of this problem.

Politically, I think it can be said that the first Hellbomb that is hurled at the United States will end the existence of constitutional government in the United States. Emergency conditions will be of such a magnitude that authority will have to be centralized. For one thing, it will be necessary to establish a government of violence to prevent the agents of the enemy from taking advantage of the confusion.

What is being done about that? Currently it would seem that nothing is being done about it in the United States. But is nothing being done about it in the Kremlin?

New Look Planned For Senate Probes Of Communism; Braden Will Testify

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The new look for senatorial probes is being launched by Senator Jenner's Internal Security Committee today with Spruille Braden, former assistant secretary of state, as the star witness.

Braden has prepared 10 revelations showing how communism or communistic influences affected foreign policy during or immediately after the war, the most sensational of them involving Alger Hiss.

Possibly more important than Braden's revelations, however,will be the attempt by Senate Republicans to steal the Communist show away from Joe McCarthy. Jenner has appointed a distinguished new chief counsel replacing Robert Morris — Charles Grimes, a former Dewey racketbuster and a New York attorney with a reputation for fairness. Grimes' plan is to lean over backward in presenting evidence and give opposing witnesses every opportunity to present their side.

The hearings are part of a plan outlined to McCarthy by Vice President Nixon and Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers last December in Miami when they tried to persuade McCarthy to go back to corruption-hunting and let the Jenner Committee handle communism. Though McCarthy agreed to this at the time, he has been jumping the traces ever since.

Grimes, though appointed by Senator Jenner, was actually handpicked by the Brownell-Rogers-Dewey group, with whom he had worked in the past.

Braden, the opening gun in the "new look" probe, will tell how, as assistant secretary of state in 1946, he discovered that Alger Hiss had written a memo to the United Nations listing Panama as a country occupied by U. S. troops. Hiss had written the memo without consulting the Latin American division of which Braden was then in charge.

While it was true that U. S. troops were stationed in some parts of Panama, in addition to the Canal Zone, Braden contended that the country as such was not "occupied" and that the listing of Panama as "occupied" would cause a disastrous reaction below the Rio Grande. So he went to Dean Acheson, then undersecretary of state, who in turn tried to have Hiss withdraw the U.N. report. Hiss, however, was away and could not be found.

Two or three days later, Hiss turned up, admitted he should have cleared his report with the Latin American division, but refused Braden's request that it be withdrawn. Though the report had not been made public, Hiss claimed it would put the United States in an embarrassing position to have it corrected.

Later the report was published and became grist for the Russian propaganda mill. According to Braden it seriously hurt our relations with Panama.

McCarthy's Medals

Joe McCarthy has received one letter he isn't going to publish. It's from a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Jacob D. Brickley, an ex-Marine hero of Lockhaven, Pa., who collected his war medals, put them in an envelope and sent them to the senator from Wisconsin.

"Enclosed are all the medals I received while in the Marine Corps, plus a few extras," Brickley wrote McCarthy, "they aren't much, but they may serve you better. I mean make you a hero."

The medals included a sharpshooter's bar, a unit citation, and theater ribbons for the tough fighting at Guadalcanal and various parts of the Pacific. Brickley enlisted in 1942 and fought for three years all through the Pacific war.

"These medals I am sending you," Brickley wrote, "I would like to deliver personally. But I couldn't give you all the publicity you are used to receiving."

Undoubtedly he referred to the manner in which McCarthy had applied for and at first had been refused an Air Medal for taking trips as an observer in Marine Corps planes. Eight years after the war, following continued pressure by McCarthy, the Marine Corps finally awarded him the Air Medals he requested, at a ceremony which McCarthy arranged in his own office.

"You do not deserve the Purple Heart because of your foot in a bucket episode," Brickley wrote. "From here on you deserve to be known as 'Bucket-Foot Joe,' instead of 'Jumping Joe.'"

Brickley referred to the fact that McCarthy claimed he was wounded in action when actually he hurt his foot while climbing around the ship with a bucket tied to his foot during a crossing-the-equator initiation ceremony.

Army Camp Vacuum

While the Air Force plans to open five new fields in various parts of the U. S., the Army is closing down one of its historic bases, Camp Pickett, Va., which could just as well be turned over to the Air Force — all as part of the policy of not letting one branch of the service know what the other is doing.

Camp Pickett covers 45,000 acres of level farmland near Blackstone, Va., and originally the people of that area didn't particularly want the camp. Now that it has caused the removal of farm families and drastically changed the landscape, however, they face an economic upheaval if the camp closes.

Schine-Army Conflict Given Exaggerated Importance

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The Republican leadership in the Senate has allowed itself to be boxed in by the Democrats and the whole Cohn-Schine-Adams affair—which, in the end, will be found to be "much ado about nothing"—is having the effect of stopping investigations into the infiltration of Communist sympathizers into the various government departments under the Democratic administration.

When all the testimony has been taken and all the cross-examination has been concluded in the Cohn-Schine-Adams controversy, it will be found that no crime was committed by anybody. As for the issue of veracity between the two sides, it will prove to be the usual misinterpretations which sometimes occur when somebody tries to put on paper his recollection of conversations that took place over a period of many months before.

Omissions Indicated

On its face, the so-called Army report has an ambiguous aspect which indicates clearly that much has been omitted concerning the regular business between the McCarthy Committee and the Pentagon. An effort apparently has been made to give the impression in compiling the report that all that was talked about at various conferences was the giving to Pvt. Schine of a different assignment or some weekend passes. As for those who compiled the so-called Army report, their words sometimes give an impression which perhaps doesn't always take into account the facetious vein in which some of the conversations were doubtless carried on.

Although those who are trying to discredit Senator McCarthy are emphasizing that there is an issue of truth-telling involving the Wisconsin senator himself, it will be noted that many of the memoranda issued by Senator McCarthy in reply to the Army's report were written by Francis Carr, who was for 11 years with the FBI and occupied a position of responsibility. Mr. Carr is trained in such things as truth-telling and court testimony under oath, and it was not Mr. McCarthy but Mr. Carr who wrote on December 9, 1953:

"Again today John Adams (legal counsel for the secretary of the army) came down here after the hearings and, using clever phrases, tried to find out, 'What's there in it for us' if he and Stevens did something for Schine. He refers to Schine as our hostage or the hostage whenever his name comes up. I made it clear that, as far as I was concerned, I don't personally care what treatment they gave Schine, and that, as far as I was concerned, he was in the Army. I did say I thought it wasn't fair of them to take it out on Schine because we were investigating the Army, or to keep using it to try to stop our investigations. I told him the only contact we were authorized to have with him about Schine was on investigations committee business.

"My telling him this does no real good, as he constantly lumps together all his talk about Schine with suggestions that we stop holding hearings on the Army. I am convinced that they will keep right on trying to blackmail us as long as Schine is in the Army."

The foregoing will be sworn to by Mr. Carr. But it is also possible that his interpretation of the motive back of the conversations about Schine is as faulty as are some of the interpretive statements in the Army's report.

Thus, on December 10, 1953, in the Army's document an emphasis is given to some things that really may have occupied much less attention at the time or could easily have been forgotten weeks later. The report says:

"At Senator McCarthy's request, Secretary Stevens and Mr. Adams lunched with Senator McCarthy and Mr. Francis Carr at the Carroll Arms. According to Mr. Carr, Mr. Cohn was too upset to attend the lunch because of the Pvt. Schine situation and the Army's unwillingness to settle on Pvt. Schine's future assignment, and had departed for New York immediately after the conclusion of the morning hearings."

Now what were the facts? Was this all they talked about at lunch? Mr. Cohn was upset, but about what? On that day, Mr. Cohn's father had suffered a heart attack and he rushed back to New York. Mr. Carr will doubtless have sworn testimony on what he did say to Mr. Adams about this.

Importance Exaggerated

Another portion of the Army report gives an altogether erroneous impression, for instance, by omitting to give the details of what was actually discussed and leaving the inference that the subject talked about was the very one referred to in previous sections of the report. The Army's memorandum of February 16, 1954, says:

"Mr. Carr stated that if the Army would be reasonable, probably the committee would be reasonable. Mr. Adams inquired how Mr. Carr thought that the Army should be 'reasonable' and Mr. Carr answered rather facetiously that, if the Army would only do all that had been requested of it, the Army's problems would be at an end."

Now, any person reading that section of the report would assume this was a reference to requests from committee staff members in the past concerning the treatment of Pvt. Schine. Actually the Schine matter had nothing to do with it. The subject under discussion was how to set up a meeting of the Senate subcommittee at which the Army would produce certain witnesses desired by the committee, and the issue was which side would try to meet the convenience of the other or try to satisfy the requests of the other. The reference did not concern the Schine situation, but many readers have jumped to the conclusion that here was a bit of bargaining on a matter relating to Schine's assignment or his treatment in the Army.

When all the facts are brought out in sworn testimony, the basis for the conflict will be readily understood and the whole episode will prove to have been given exaggerated importance.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Looks like Japan is in business like a cat on a fish wharf. We staking it to wheat, oats and one hundred million tokens.

We're letting it arm to the protruding teeth with the toys of oblivion. To slap a bonnet on the climax Japan is planting five hundred acres of opium poppies.

All of which looks like the words and music for that old adage, "You have buttered your toast—you must lie on it."

That was about as fast a touch as you will ever find in history. It has been less than 15 years since Pearl Harbor and the barrel jugglers are again rubbing resin on their feet.

Japan says the opium is for medicinal purposes. Reminds me that's how we got our liquor during prohibition.

That was only 22 years ago. Seems like tomorrow night.

Truth is we are doing the smart caper with Japan. We need a strong enemy in the Pacific. And we're not forgetting that Nippon came closer to winning than a bulldog with a mustache of porcupine quills.

It took 50 years for the pendulum to tag all the bases.

But there it is. Might be a good idea for Douglas MacArthur to oil his wading boots again.

The Cities Are Finished

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In view of the news from the Pacific, where a hydrogen bomb with at least 500 times the power of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima has been tested, a recent decision by the National Security Council is worth reporting. This decision calls for the evacuation of all major American target cities, in case of enemy air attack, once an effective early warning system has been established.

It is an astonishing idea, if you think about it—all of America's great cities lying naked and empty of people. Yet as explained by its real author, Civil Defense Administrator Val Petersen, former governor of Nebraska, the idea makes sense or at least as much sense as anything makes in this strange age.

"The cities are finished," Petersen says flatly. The first hydrogen bomb, with less than half the power of the bomb just tested caused an entire large island to disappear. A bomb which can blow an island out of the water can blow any city off the map. Indeed, the hydrogen bomb is in a sense a gilding of the lily—a modern large atomic bomb will destroy any but a handful of huge cities.

In this situation, the "duck when you hear a bang" kind of civil defense is worse than useless. Petersen caused a study to be made of the results of a successful attack with modern nuclear weapons on the sixty-seven major population centers in this country, assuming this kind of civil defense. The results were conservatively estimated at 22,000,000 hospital cases and 9,000,000 people killed outright.

Only One Prevention

"Just as a practical matter," Petersen asked, "how in hell are you going to bury 9,000,000 corpses?" The answer is that this kind of mass slaughter simply cannot be permitted to happen. Short of a total defense in the air—which no informed man believes possible—there is only one way to prevent it. This is to get the people out of the cities before the bombs fall.

This is only possible, of course, if there is a long warning time—Petersen puts the minimum, for most cities, at two hours. (For geographical and other reasons, three cities, San Francisco, New Orleans, and New York, need much more time than that.) Modern radar and other techniques make reliable early warning possible. Petersen has been promised by the NSC that he will have his minimum of two hours warning within a year to eighteen months. Then "pre-attack evacuation" will officially become national policy.

As Petersen points out, a reasonably healthy person can cover ten miles in two hours on his feet, particularly if incineration acts as an incentive. And successful evacuation would at least save the nation's most valuable asset—its inhabitants. The trouble is that evacuation requires not only the most elaborate and careful prior planning, but also the disciplined cooperation of literally tens of millions of people. And most people do not give a tinker's dam about civil defense.

Result Of Misinformation

"When you are selling in a market where seven people out of ten don't think it can happen," Petersen says, "you've got a helluva sales job."

Many people, often the very same people who don't think it could happen, also think that there is nothing that can be done about it. Episodes like that involving the Japanese fishermen injured by radiation eighty miles from the hydrogen bomb test induce this fatalism. So do much exaggerated accounts of the damage range of bombs.

Actually, a person ten miles from the explosion even of the monster hydrogen bomb recently tested would have a good chance of survival. The unfortunate Japanese were the victims of a chance "fall-out" of radio-active material from the bomb cloud, which resulted from a combination of bad luck and bad meteorological forecasting. Ordinarily, the cloud mounts into the stratosphere and is harmlessly dissipated.

These two illusions—that nothing need be done and that nothing can be done—results from simple misinformation. They make Petersen's job next to impossible. This is no fault of Petersen's. As a result of a year's steadfast staring into hell, this normally genial politician is the first official in Washington to make sense about civil defense.

The fault lies rather with those who believe that the American people cannot be trusted with facts which the Soviets certainly already know. Some months ago, the President intended to give the people such basic facts as would dissipate these fatal illusions described above. But a small group of officials—chief among them Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss—prevailed with the view that the American people should be fed pap, lest they become hysterical and demand inconvenient action. The future may show how heavy is the responsibility borne by this small group of short-sighted men.

Some Readers Send Interesting, Instructive Advice

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From time to time we receive from readers instructive and interesting advice that is worth passing along. A Chicago housewife, for example, found a simple remedy for snoring.

"I'm going on my 25th year of married life to a man who snores," she writes. "I breathe as he does—that is, when he inhales I inhale and just as deeply. This may take a few nights to learn but will produce complete relaxation. I'm often awakened again around 2 a. m. by my husband's loud snoring. I start the method all over again and am soon asleep."

A Mundelein, Ill., woman discussed the danger of lighting a gas oven when too many fumes have escaped. "I know of two cases in my family who were wearing nylon garments and the flames consumed the entire front as well as crumpled a plastic curtain," she reports. This is an excellent warning, particularly for housewives who have trouble with the oven. Furthermore, curtains should not be hung near an open flame.

"Why doesn't someone who has conquered the smoking habit start a Smokers Anonymous to help those who cannot help themselves?" This question came from a Paterson, N. J., tobacco user who is in need of a little more will power.

"A heartbroken wife states: "I looked in vain for some mention in your recent column on deafness about the sympathetic understanding your loved ones ought to give when you need to use a hearing aid. I have just separated from my husband because of his lack of understanding for my situation. He said I was not concentrating on what people said and was completely uncooperative in his attitude when I looked to him for understanding and help.

A New Yorker, referring to a question asked in the column about how to get out of the habit of biting the lips and inside of the cheeks, scolds me as follows for my reply: "As a doctor, I should think you would know the answer. I take either a glass of milk, a banana, or some cheese or nuts—anything that is good for the nerves. The habit is due to extreme nervousness which you, as a doctor, should have realized. Eating or drinking supplies nerve food and will make the biting unnecessary. It cannot be cured through will power."

My only objection to this remedy is that many nervous and frustrated people find so much solace in eating, they soon become obese. It is better to find and remove the cause of nervousness rather than feed it with milk, bananas, cheese, and nuts.

A Chicagoan also bawled us out because we encouraged a woman in her 70s to continue smoking one cigaret a day as was her custom. Actually, we told the lady we saw no reason why she ought to stop, so long as she had been smoking a cigaret a day for years and the practice apparently was doing no harm. It is against my policy to stop anything that gives pleasure to our senior citizens.

WOOZY

G. C. writes: Does a bout of fever leave the head in a peculiar condition? I have a feeling of strangeness like not being there.

REPLY

An illness severe enough to produce fever may leave the individual weak and lightheaded. This state is temporary and by the time you read this reply you probably will be "all there" again.

INWARD GOITER

Mrs. G. writes: What is meant by an inward goiter?

REPLY

A thyroid gland that enlarges in a downward direction and is hidden (inward) behind the upper part of the breastbone.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

No question about the fact that children are growing sweeter and more considerate every day in this television age. In London, for instance, a performance of Hansel and Gretel was being given at the Drury Lane Theatre during the Christmas holidays, and the wicked witch had just jammed poor Gretel into the oven and shut the door. Ten minutes later a girlish voice in the audience was heard above the music, instructing, "Hey, Witch! Look in that oven and see if she's done yet!"

Pathetic figure is the puny magician John Straley tells about who had to give up his profession. He was so weak the rabbits always pulled him into the hat.

"Your eyes," said the gallant swain on bended knee, "intoxicate

Keyser Breaks Ground For New Swimming Pool

Ceremony Culminates 20-Year Old Dream

KEYSER — Keyser citizens saw realization of a 20-year-old dream Wednesday afternoon when ground was turned for the bath house for the Community Swimming Pool at the south end of the city. Mayor John C. Freeland, used a golden shovel to dig the first bit of land.

The ceremony on the pool ground site followed a parade, led by the Keyser Band, followed by a motorcade in which the Mayor, members of the Town Council, Recreation Board members and a representative of the Board of Education and Citizens Committee followed. The Fire Company was represented with the crew for the large truck in the parade and at the pool site.

John G. Scherlacher, representing the state, as consultant in recreation activities, was master of ceremonies and introduced the men who have been active through the years for raising the funds for the building of a pool. Miss Sally Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coffman, a senior at Keyser High School, and recently named Miss Swimming Pool, was an honored guest, and appeared wearing a decorative bathing suit. She presented the special shovel to the mayor and each successive official, for the ground breaking.

During the program the band played several numbers, opening the ceremonies with "The Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Robert L. Bridgers, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren, gave the invocation, and at conclusion of the program, Rev. Kenneth Rizer, pastor of the Church of the Assumption pronounced the benediction.

Mayor Freeland said it was a day of days, after such a long wait, to bring realization that a pool is coming into actual use within only a few months. He thanked the people for their patience and work.

Edgell Grayson, secretary of the Recreation Board for a number of years was the second person in the city official life to be called and he turned more earth for the bath house, along side the pool, which is being excavated by the contractor's workers.

Others, called by Scherlacher, included: A. W. Conley, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, B. & O. Railroad Company; John Barger, member of the Citizen's Committee; Richard Romig, representing the Board of Education; Lester Oates, Paul Peters and Raymond L. Murray, members of city council and others.

There was a large crowd on the ground to witness the ceremonies, including both adults and the youth of the city.

The contractor has promised the pool and bath house will be ready for the opening recreation programs in the city this spring.

Keyser Breaks Ground For New Swimming Pool

Ceremony Culminates 20-Year Old Dream

KEYSER — Keyser citizens saw realization of a 20-year-old dream Wednesday afternoon when ground was turned for the bath house for the Community Swimming Pool at the south end of the city. Mayor John C. Freeland, used a golden shovel to dig the first bit of land.

The ceremony on the pool ground site followed a parade, led by the Keyser Band, followed by a motorcade in which the Mayor, members of the Town Council, Recreation Board members and a representative of the Board of Education and Citizens Committee followed. The Fire Company was represented with the crew for the large truck in the parade and at the pool site.

John G. Scherlacher, representing the state, as consultant in recreation activities, was master of ceremonies and introduced the men who have been active through the years for raising the funds for the building of a pool. Miss Sally Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coffman, a senior at Keyser High School, and recently named Miss Swimming Pool, was an honored guest, and appeared wearing a decorative bathing suit. She presented the special shovel to the mayor and each successive official, for the ground breaking.

During the program the band played several numbers, opening the ceremonies with "The Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Robert L. Bridgers, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren, gave the invocation, and at conclusion of the program, Rev. Kenneth Rizer, pastor of the Church of the Assumption pronounced the benediction.

Mayor Freeland said it was a day of days, after such a long wait, to bring realization that a pool is coming into actual use within only a few months. He thanked the people for their patience and work.

Edgell Grayson, secretary of the Recreation Board for a number of years was the second person in the city official life to be called and he turned more earth for the bath house, along side the pool, which is being excavated by the contractor's workers.

Others, called by Scherlacher, included: A. W. Conley, superintendent of the Cumberland Division, B. & O. Railroad Company; John Barger, member of the Citizen's Committee; Richard Romig, representing the Board of Education; Lester Oates, Paul Peters and Raymond L. Murray, members of city council and others.

There was a large crowd on the ground to witness the ceremonies, including both adults and the youth of the city.

The contractor has promised the pool and bath house will be ready for the opening recreation programs in the city this spring.

Milwaukee's Stock Is Soaring; Braves Appear Solid Outfit

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla.—Jolly Cholly Grimm, a big hero in Milwaukee before the entry of the Boston Braves and an even bigger hero following his surprise second-place finish in the National League chase last year, probably thinks he has as good a chance as any other manager to win the pennant this year, but he cagily refuses to indicate such.

The front office has strengthened the club for him and he can read the papers, too, and most everywhere it says the Braves will really give the Dodgers a battle for it this season.

Cholly, however, gets off the hook in this way:

"We've got a first division club and any time a club is in the first division it is a contender. I think we're better off than last year.

"We've got some fine looking young ball players here and we've got Chet Nichols back from the service and we helped ourselves with Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell.

"I think we have good depth, good all-around bench strength and we've got players we can shift around."

THE LOWDOWN on the high-up Braves, of course, stems from the trades and purchases during the winter, the return of Nichols (11-8 with the Braves in 1951) from the service and the club's second-place finish, 13 games behind the flag-winning Dodgers.

The acquisitions, of course, were the slugging outfielder Thomson from the Giants (now on the shelf for six to eight weeks with a busted ankle) and the purchase of Infielder O'Connell from the Pirates in a deal in which the figure of $200,000 was reported.

The Braves' pitching staff ranks with the best in the league and following each other in the lineup will be Thomson and the homer-hitting Eddie Mathews.

THE MOUND corps is headed by the ace lefty, Warren Spahn, who copped 23 last year, and Bob Buhl (13-8), Lew Burdette (15-5) and Nichols. Others with veteran stuff are Ernie Johnson and Jim Wilson.

The newcomer ranks look as promising as in any previous season with several youngsters reported ready.

Topping this list is the 6-foot, 8-inch Gene Conley, who prepped with a 23-9 record at Toledo. They say he's ready right now.

Others are Ray Crone, a camp surprise who had a 19-11 mark with Jacksonville last year and has pitched two fine stints in camp here; Joe Jay, a bonus kid who is a Little League graduate and came off the amateur field last summer to shut out the Reds in his first professional appearance, and Ben Johnson, a returning serviceman with three seasons of minor league experience behind him.

Jay, who reportedly signed for a bonus of $30,000, has to be kept and Grimm says he will use him as a spot pitcher. Cholly goes into raves about this 18-year-old right-hander.

CATCHERS ARE topped by Del Crandall, who also has been named field captain. Crandall has put on some weight. The rest of the catchers are new faces but include Sam Calderone, who got in 35 games for the New York Giants last year.

Among the new backstops is Ted Laguna, who played at Hagerstown and has impressed the boss man with his ability.

Joe Adcock, who hit .285 last year and played 157 games, is the first sacker.

The big quest on the club is who is going to play second base since the regular second sacker last year, Jack Dittmer, did a fine job and upped his bat mark 73 points.

However, O'Connell, the high-priced purchase, probably will wind up at second since he is said to be the class of the league. Dittmer would provide good bench strength here. O'Connell also can play short and third so the Braves are well-stocked here.

Johnny Logan, recuperating from a shoulder injury now, is the second sacker and Mathews, the big hero, is at third.

THOMSON and Andy Pafko are solid in the outer garden with Bill Bruton, the rookie speed merchant of 1953, and Jim Pendleton, another 1953 rookie star, the other possible starters.

George Metkovich, who split last season with Chicago and Pittsburgh, was acquired and is listed as an outfielder but he also plays first base.

A rookie who is on the Toledo roster, Henry Aaron, a product of the Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American league, has been the early surprise in camp and Cholly goes into extra gestures when talking about his hitting.

Aaron should, perhaps, for last year at Jacksonville he, as both an outfielder and second baseman, hit .362 and led the Sally league in six departments on offense and was runner-up in two others.

Other fly-chasers being given a good look are Dick Sinovic, who had a big year at Atlanta where he hit .342 and Billy Queen, from Toledo.

BALANCING THE BRAVES

MILWAUKEE — Improved; should be top pennant contender for the Dodgers; acquisition of Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell, plus good pitching and power of Ed Mathews' bat makes Braves' stock sky-high.

SPORTS GRILL
by Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 24 (INS) — Long Island is a strip of New York State, a few miles wide and 110 miles long, with dear Brooklyn and the Dodgers on one end and Southampton on the other.

Some of the world's wealthiest families live on some of the country's finest estates on Long Island.

It has some of the world's finest golf courses. It has Forest Hills and the tennis championships, Waterbury and international polo fields, and three race tracks—Belmont, Jamaica and Aqueduct.

And this reminds us that racing started on Long Island in 1664 or more than a century before the British drove George Washington off the island.

Racing will be resumed there, fittingly enough on April Fool's Day at Jamaica and will run for 190 days thereafter.

There are more than 1,000 race horses stabled now at the three tracks but at the rate the nags are pouring in a capacity 3,000 soon will be on hand.

Some famous ones already are on the job and among them is Alf Vanderbilt's famous gray ghost, Native Dancer, which is galloping daily in preparation for his 1954 debut.

The Dancer's main immediate objectives are the Manhattan, Brooklyn and Suburban handicap and should he win all three—a feat accomplished only by Whiskbroom 31 years ago and by Citation—he will run his earnings close to the million dollar mark.

Whether he will go in all three remains to be seen. If handicapper John B. Campbell puts what Vanderbilt considers too much weight on the colt, he will be shipped to England to try for some of the big stakes in the tight little isle.

We saw him early this morning and, while we are no judge of horseflesh on the hoof, he appeared to be running with the same powerful easy surge that he did last year.

Perched on the rails and in the grandstand were a whole raft of clockers each with a stop-watch in hand to catch the works.

It occurred to us that it must be pretty hard to hide a horse for a killing these days. The clockers know them all.

But then the sad thought hit us: How do we know that the smart clockers aren't holding out on us? Will they let us know if they catch a sleeper in a sensational workout? Oh, well, we'll have to take our chances with the rest of the suckers.

Grasso Suffers Broken Ankle, Out 3 Months

Doctors said the 31-year-old Grasso will be sidelined at least three months.

The injury occurred when Grasso attempted to slide into a base in the fifth inning. His ankle was fractured in six places.

Bill Skowron Bats In Six N. Y. Runs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Bill Skowron, the broad-shouldered rookie who is trying to stick with the New York Yankees as a pinch hitter, drove in six runs today as the champions defeated the Boston Red Sox, 11-7. A crowd of 4,332 saw a five-game Sox win streak broken.

Skowron and Hank Bauer smashed homers in leading a 15-hit attack. The rookie has made seven hits in his last ten times at bat. He is listed as a first baseman on the roster and the Yanks already have three of those slated to remain with the club, Joe Collins, Eddie Robinson and bonus baby Frank Leja.

Bob Grim, a rookie pitching sensation, was hit hard for the first time this spring. The 24-year old righthander was slugged for six hits and five runs in four rounds. Billy Goodman homered off him in the third inning, launching a four-run outburst.

Whitey Ford pitched the final five innings and his stint was impressive. Both Boston runs being unearned. In his previous outing, the lefthander walked five men in two-thirds of an inning.

The Yankees now have won seven and lost eleven in the Grapefruit League while Boston's figures are just the opposite.

PHILLIES' THORNTON KIPPER

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Hobbling around the Philadelphia Phillies camp here when we spotted him, Thornton Kipper appeared like anything but a pitcher who might win a regular spot on the varsity roster this year.

However, appearances are deceiving and Kip, as he is called, was merely recovering from a pulled muscle in his leg which came after he had hurled two innings in the opening training camp game with the Boston Red Sox.

Kip has had other ailments in the past, such as a bone condition in his spinal column which prevented him from pitching at all in the 1951 season but from the record he compiled in the Venezuelan winter league it appears there is nothing seriously wrong with him now.

Kip won 14 and lost 5 for Pastora in the Venezuelan loop, which rated as the best performance from the firing line in the circuit.

THE PHILLIES already had a sample of his stuff last year when, after winning 9 and losing but one for Schenectady in the Eastern league he appeared in the Quaker City lineup and finished with a 3-3 mark.

Manager Steve O'Neill accents the 6 foot 3 inch righthander as one of his young hopefuls.

Actually, Kip, a native of Bagley, Wis., became a pitcher because he couldn't hit. In high school at Bagley he played short but the coach shifted him to the mound because he had a good arm and his batting was anemic.

The move panned out well, for in two years at Bagley Kip won 13 and lost 1, hurling five no-hitters in a row.

He matriculated at the University of Wisconsin and in his first season there, 1946, he had a 4-2 record. As the school term closed he volunteered for the service and went into the Navy, serving as a radioman in the Aleutian islands.

He re-entered Wisconsin after his service stint and in 1949 had a 3-3 mark. However, in 1950 he clicked, winning 11 against one loss.

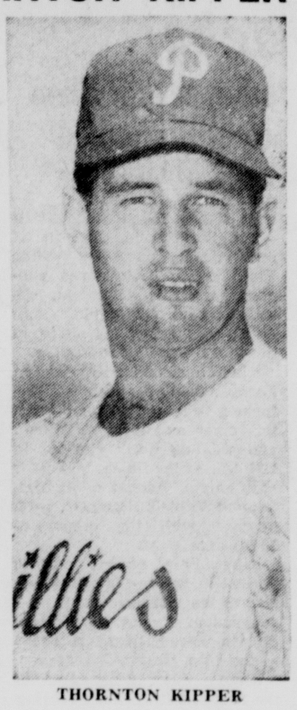

The scouts moved in then, of course. The Phils, Yanks, White Sox and Cards were after him. The Phils gave him $6,000 to sign and he did.

He was sent to the Phils' Utica club and had a 5-6 record by August 15. He went home then, because he got another service call. He injured his back pushing an auto and he never did go back into the service although he had to stay out of baseball during the 1951 season.

The Phils sent him to Schenectady in 1952 and his record was 6-7. He went back again last year and when he turned out to be their leading pitcher the Phils brought him in and kept him.

Kip's best pitch, he says, is a sinker. One of the veterans on the club, Karl Drews, has been helping him in his delivery.

Married, Kip has two children, John, 3, and Kristy 2. He lives at Mauston, Wis., in the winter and in the off season is a sports announcer for a Madison radio station, handling basketball and football.

While in the east last year he took training in insurance. He says he wants to sell insurance when his baseball days are over.

Hirsch Signs Pact With Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP)—Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, Los Angeles Rams end, signed a one-year contract today to play for the club this year. Hirsch, who consistently discounted reports he would quit because of head injuries he sustained last season, said, however, he might retire if something extra good in another line of work popped up between now and the season.

Parilli To Coach

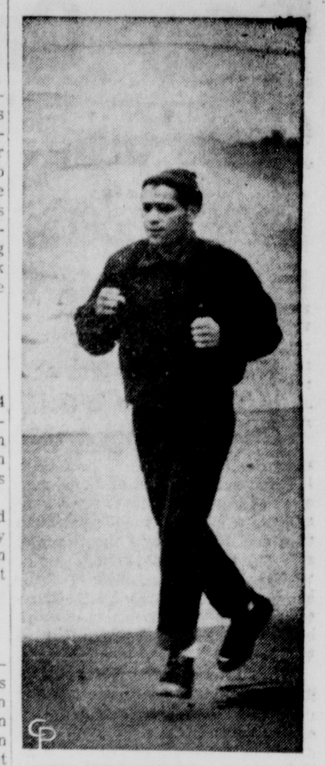

BLACKSBURG, Va., March 24 (AP)—Vito (Babe) Parilli, quarterback for the professional Green Bay Packers, has been named an assistant coach for Virginia Tech's spring football drills.

Frank Moseley, Tech's head coach, said the former Kentucky grid star probably would begin spring workouts sometime next week.

Lakers Win, 89-76

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24 (AP)—The old pros of the Minneapolis Lakers, George Mikan and Jim Pollard, sent their team out in front in the first of the Western Division final playoff series tonight by whipping the Rochester Royals 89-76 in the National Basketball Assn.

Cy Young won 20 or more games in 14 consecutive seasons in the major leagues.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

BRADENTON, Fla.—Jolly Cholly Grimm, a big hero in Milwaukee before the entry of the Boston Braves and an even bigger hero following his surprise second-place finish in the National League chase last year, probably thinks he has as good a chance as any other manager to win the pennant this year, but he cagily refuses to indicate such.

The front office has strengthened the club for him and he can read the papers, too, and most everywhere it says the Braves will really give the Dodgers a battle for it this season.

Cholly, however, gets off the hook in this way:

"We've got a first division club and any time a club is in the first division it is a contender. I think we're better off than last year.

"We've got some fine looking young ball players here and we've got Chet Nichols back from the service and we helped ourselves with Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell.

"I think we have good depth, good all-around bench strength and we've got players we can shift around."

THE LOWDOWN on the high-up Braves, of course, stems from the trades and purchases during the winter, the return of Nichols (11-8 with the Braves in 1951) from the service and the club's second-place finish, 13 games behind the flag-winning Dodgers.

The acquisitions, of course, were the slugging outfielder Thomson from the Giants (now on the shelf for six to eight weeks with a busted ankle) and the purchase of Infielder O'Connell from the Pirates in a deal in which the figure of $200,000 was reported.

The Braves' pitching staff ranks with the best in the league and following each other in the lineup will be Thomson and the homer-hitting Eddie Mathews.

THE MOUND corps is headed by the ace lefty, Warren Spahn, who copped 23 last year, and Bob Buhl (13-8), Lew Burdette (15-5) and Nichols. Others with veteran stuff are Ernie Johnson and Jim Wilson.

The newcomer ranks look as promising as in any previous season with several youngsters reported ready.

Topping this list is the 6-foot, 8-inch Gene Conley, who prepped with a 23-9 record at Toledo. They say he's ready right now.

Others are Ray Crone, a camp surprise who had a 19-11 mark with Jacksonville last year and has pitched two fine stints in camp here; Joe Jay, a bonus kid who is a Little League graduate and came off the amateur field last summer to shut out the Reds in his first professional appearance, and Ben Johnson, a returning serviceman with three seasons of minor league experience behind him.

Jay, who reportedly signed for a bonus of $30,000, has to be kept and Grimm says he will use him as a spot pitcher. Cholly goes into raves about this 18-year-old right-hander.

CATCHERS ARE topped by Del Crandall, who also has been named field captain. Crandall has put on some weight. The rest of the catchers are new faces but include Sam Calderone, who got in 35 games for the New York Giants last year.

Among the new backstops is Ted Laguna, who played at Hagerstown and has impressed the boss man with his ability.

Joe Adcock, who hit .285 last year and played 157 games, is the first sacker.

The big quest on the club is who is going to play second base since the regular second sacker last year, Jack Dittmer, did a fine job and upped his bat mark 73 points.

However, O'Connell, the high-priced purchase, probably will wind up at second since he is said to be the class of the league. Dittmer would provide good bench strength here. O'Connell also can play short and third so the Braves are well-stocked here.

Johnny Logan, recuperating from a shoulder injury now, is the second sacker and Mathews, the big hero, is at third.

THOMSON and Andy Pafko are solid in the outer garden with Bill Bruton, the rookie speed merchant of 1953, and Jim Pendleton, another 1953 rookie star, the other possible starters.

George Metkovich, who split last season with Chicago and Pittsburgh, was acquired and is listed as an outfielder but he also plays first base.

A rookie who is on the Toledo roster, Henry Aaron, a product of the Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American league, has been the early surprise in camp and Cholly goes into extra gestures when talking about his hitting.

Aaron should, perhaps, for last year at Jacksonville he, as both an outfielder and second baseman, hit .362 and led the Sally league in six departments on offense and was runner-up in two others.

Other fly-chasers being given a good look are Dick Sinovic, who had a big year at Atlanta where he hit .342 and Billy Queen, from Toledo.

BALANCING THE BRAVES

MILWAUKEE — Improved; should be top pennant contender for the Dodgers; acquisition of Bobby Thomson and Danny O'Connell, plus good pitching and power of Ed Mathews' bat makes Braves' stock sky-high.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 24 (INS) — Long Island is a strip of New York State, a few miles wide and 110 miles long, with dear Brooklyn and the Dodgers on one end and Southampton on the other.

Some of the world's wealthiest families live on some of the country's finest estates on Long Island.

It has some of the world's finest golf courses. It has Forest Hills and the tennis championships, Waterbury and international polo fields, and three race tracks—Belmont, Jamaica and Aqueduct.

And this reminds us that racing started on Long Island in 1664 or more than a century before the British drove George Washington off the island.

Racing will be resumed there, fittingly enough on April Fool's Day at Jamaica and will run for 190 days thereafter.

There are more than 1,000 race horses stabled now at the three tracks but at the rate the nags are pouring in a capacity 3,000 soon will be on hand.

Some famous ones already are on the job and among them is Alf Vanderbilt's famous gray ghost, Native Dancer, which is galloping daily in preparation for his 1954 debut.

The Dancer's main immediate objectives are the Manhattan, Brooklyn and Suburban handicap and should he win all three—a feat accomplished only by Whiskbroom 31 years ago and by Citation—he will run his earnings close to the million dollar mark.

Whether he will go in all three remains to be seen. If handicapper John B. Campbell puts what Vanderbilt considers too much weight on the colt, he will be shipped to England to try for some of the big stakes in the tight little isle.

We saw him early this morning and, while we are no judge of horseflesh on the hoof, he appeared to be running with the same powerful easy surge that he did last year.

Perched on the rails and in the grandstand were a whole raft of clockers each with a stop-watch in hand to catch the works.

It occurred to us that it must be pretty hard to hide a horse for a killing these days. The clockers know them all.

But then the sad thought hit us: How do we know that the smart clockers aren't holding out on us? Will they let us know if they catch a sleeper in a sensational workout? Oh, well, we'll have to take our chances with the rest of the suckers.

Grasso Suffers Broken Ankle, Out 3 Months

Doctors said the 31-year-old Grasso will be sidelined at least three months.

The injury occurred when Grasso attempted to slide into a base in the fifth inning. His ankle was fractured in six places.

Bill Skowron Bats In Six N. Y. Runs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Bill Skowron, the broad-shouldered rookie who is trying to stick with the New York Yankees as a pinch hitter, drove in six runs today as the champions defeated the Boston Red Sox, 11-7. A crowd of 4,332 saw a five-game Sox win streak broken.

Skowron and Hank Bauer smashed homers in leading a 15-hit attack. The rookie has made seven hits in his last ten times at bat. He is listed as a first baseman on the roster and the Yanks already have three of those slated to remain with the club, Joe Collins, Eddie Robinson and bonus baby Frank Leja.

Bob Grim, a rookie pitching sensation, was hit hard for the first time this spring. The 24-year old righthander was slugged for six hits and five runs in four rounds. Billy Goodman homered off him in the third inning, launching a four-run outburst.

Whitey Ford pitched the final five innings and his stint was impressive. Both Boston runs being unearned. In his previous outing, the lefthander walked five men in two-thirds of an inning.

The Yankees now have won seven and lost eleven in the Grapefruit League while Boston's figures are just the opposite.

Four Games Tonight Windup Ninth YMCA-Jaycees Tourney

Stoops' Quint Faces Raiders In Top Battle

Yoder's Meets Sisk's In Senior Title Tilt; Opening Game At 6:30

Eight survivors out of an original field of thirty-two starts are awaiting the whistle that will send them into action tonight in the finals of the 115 pound, 135 pound, senior and junior unlimited classes of the ninth annual Central YMCA-Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Basketball Tournament at the Central YMCA.

What looms as the No. 1 attraction on tonight's program is the junior division championship battle between Norm's Raiders, composed of members of LaSalle High School's varsity squad and Stoops' Restaurant of Frostburg, the 1953 winners. The Mountain City aggregation features Beall and Bruce High athletes, managed by Clifford Fearer.

Stoops' quint brushed aside Cumberland Electric, 76-26, and the Cut Rate Shoe Store, 70-29 to reach the finals. Norm's Raiders bumped off Hawkins' Service Center, 70-48 and just managed to qualify for the finals by taking a 42-41 thriller from the Hout Construction Company passers.

The junior finale is set for 8:30 o'clock.

Yoder's Tackles Gulfers

The secondary feature on tonight's card is the senior class tilt between the power laden Yoder Plumbers, a Keyser aggregation composed mostly of Potomac State College players, aided by Jimmy Clevenger and Wayne Boor, formerly of the Cumberland Old Germans, and Sisk's Gulfers, whose personnel includes for the most part Shepherd College athletes.

Yoder's quint opened with a 57-44 win over Poling's Market, and set an all-time scoring senior mark by swamping Valley Cheese Company of Moorefield, 103-58, and advanced to the finals by belting the Ridgeley Legion to the tune of 98-45. The Gulfers edged the Cumberland Amvets in a 39-37 battle and then took Beightol's Bouncers into camp, 56-38.

This game will climax the final night's card and is set for 9:30 o'clock.

The 115-pound final between McIntyre's Little Five and the Sports Shoppe will start tonight's action at 6:30. McIntyre's eliminated Jackson's Grocery and Cumberland Electric Company while the Sports Shoppe ushered out Calvary Methodist and Sweitzer's Restaurant.

Spot Faces Grocers

In the second contest Columbia Cash Grocery will do battle with The Spot Confectionery, of Ridgeley, in the 135-pound final at 7:30. The Grocers put out Bud's Barbers and Dingle Cleaners while The Spot eliminated Dennison's Painting and Bowser's Boys.

At the conclusion of tonight's games, team and individual prizes will be distributed under the direction of Clifton Van Roby, director of the tourney.

Budge Is Replaced

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 24 (AP)—Don Budge, former U. S. singles champion and Davis Cup star, will be replaced in the Jack Kramer pro tennis troupe by Frank Kovacs.

Budge is leaving to take up his duties as professional at the Newtown Tennis Club in New York.

MESA, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came up with a pair of fives in the seventh and eighth innings today to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 12-2, and give lefty Hal Newhouser his first victory of the year.

Newhouser, making a comeback with the Indians after quitting the Detroit Tigers last year, held the Cubs scoreless in the three innings he pitched. The Tribe battered four Chicago pitchers for 12 hits including home runs by JJoe Ginsberg and Rudy Regaldo.

Negro Rookie Hurls For Baltimore Nine

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles jumped on Sal (The Barber) Maglie for three runs in the sixth inning to defeat the New York Giants, 4-3, today.

Trailing 2-0, the Orioles put together two singles, a double, a walk and a sacrifice fly as they came from behind in the sixth. Gil Coan's ground single to right with the bases full sent across the first two runs and a long sacrifice fly to center by Vic Wertz brought home the third.

Jehosie Heard, rookie Negro southpaw acquired from Portland of the Pacific Coast League, went the first five innings for the Orioles. Don Larsen finished up and was tagged for a homer by outfielder Bill Taylor in the ninth.

Redleg Homers Fail As Chisox Win 6-4 Game

TAMPA, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass smashed home runs but it wasn't enough power to turn back the Chicago White Sox, who defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 today.

Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles held the Redlegs to eight hits.

The Sox cinched victory in the eighth when they scored twice off George Zuverink on singles by Chico Carrasquel, Jim Rivera and Bob Winkles, a wild pitch and Chico's stolen base.

The Redlegs tied the score in the third when Bob Boyd fumbled Gus Bell's grounder and Kluszewski slammed his first homer of the spring.

Senators Top Phillies, 7 To 1

Washington Catcher Joe Tipton Injured

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24 (AP)—The Washington Senators made it two-in-a-row over the Philadelphia Phillies today, scoring a 7-1 decision behind the six-hit pitching of Chuck Stobbs and Johnny Schmidtz.

The Phils, depressed by poor hitting all through the current spring campaign, didn't collect their lone tally until the ninth—the only inning a runner got past second base.

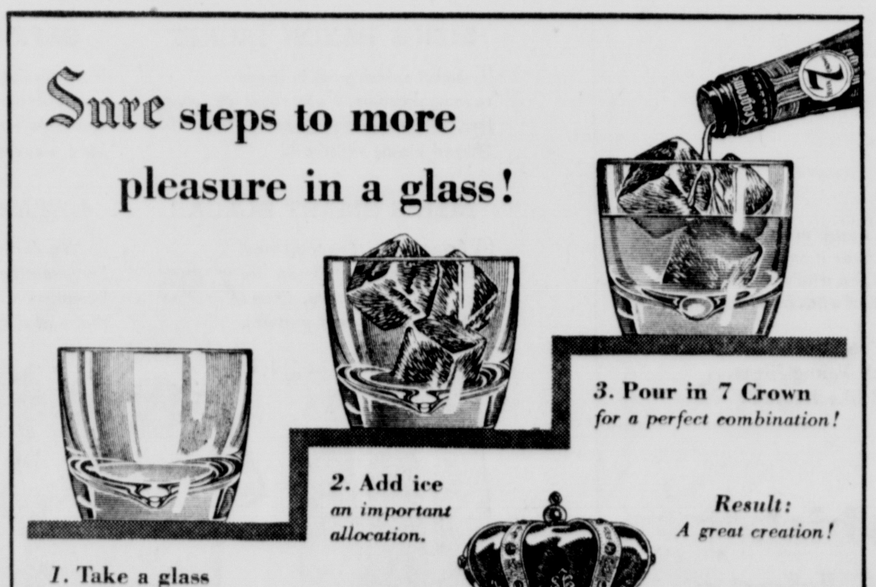

The Senators only had seven hits but they capitalized on a homer and double by Bob Oldis, and a triple by Roy Sievers. Five of the Washington runs came in the big fifth inning when Oldis collected his two-bagger and Sievers delivered his bases-loaded triple.

Four Games Tonight Windup Ninth YMCA-Jaycees Tourney

Yoder's Meets Sisk's In Senior Title Tilt; Opening Game At 6:30

Eight survivors out of an original field of thirty-two starts are awaiting the whistle that will send them into action tonight in the finals of the 115 pound, 135 pound, senior and junior unlimited classes of the ninth annual Central YMCA-Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Basketball Tournament at the Central YMCA.

What looms as the No. 1 attraction on tonight's program is the junior division championship battle between Norm's Raiders, composed of members of LaSalle High School's varsity squad and Stoops' Restaurant of Frostburg, the 1953 winners. The Mountain City aggregation features Beall and Bruce High athletes, managed by Clifford Fearer.

Stoops' quint brushed aside Cumberland Electric, 76-26, and the Cut Rate Shoe Store, 70-29 to reach the finals. Norm's Raiders bumped off Hawkins' Service Center, 70-48 and just managed to qualify for the finals by taking a 42-41 thriller from the Hout Construction Company passers.

The junior finale is set for 8:30 o'clock.

Yoder's Tackles Gulfers

The secondary feature on tonight's card is the senior class tilt between the power laden Yoder Plumbers, a Keyser aggregation composed mostly of Potomac State College players, aided by Jimmy Clevenger and Wayne Boor, formerly of the Cumberland Old Germans, and Sisk's Gulfers, whose personnel includes for the most part Shepherd College athletes.

Yoder's quint opened with a 57-44 win over Poling's Market, and set an all-time scoring senior mark by swamping Valley Cheese Company of Moorefield, 103-58, and advanced to the finals by belting the Ridgeley Legion to the tune of 98-45. The Gulfers edged the Cumberland Amvets in a 39-37 battle and then took Beightol's Bouncers into camp, 56-38.

This game will climax the final night's card and is set for 9:30 o'clock.

The 115-pound final between McIntyre's Little Five and the Sports Shoppe will start tonight's action at 6:30. McIntyre's eliminated Jackson's Grocery and Cumberland Electric Company while the Sports Shoppe ushered out Calvary Methodist and Sweitzer's Restaurant.

Spot Faces Grocers

In the second contest Columbia Cash Grocery will do battle with The Spot Confectionery, of Ridgeley, in the 135-pound final at 7:30. The Grocers put out Bud's Barbers and Dingle Cleaners while The Spot eliminated Dennison's Painting and Bowser's Boys.

At the conclusion of tonight's games, team and individual prizes will be distributed under the direction of Clifton Van Roby, director of the tourney.

MESA, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came up with a pair of fives in the seventh and eighth innings today to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 12-2, and give lefty Hal Newhouser his first victory of the year.

Newhouser, making a comeback with the Indians after quitting the Detroit Tigers last year, held the Cubs scoreless in the three innings he pitched. The Tribe battered four Chicago pitchers for 12 hits including home runs by JJoe Ginsberg and Rudy Regaldo.

Orioles Down Giants, 4-3

Negro Rookie Hurls For Baltimore Nine

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles jumped on Sal (The Barber) Maglie for three runs in the sixth inning to defeat the New York Giants, 4-3, today.

Trailing 2-0, the Orioles put together two singles, a double, a walk and a sacrifice fly as they came from behind in the sixth. Gil Coan's ground single to right with the bases full sent across the first two runs and a long sacrifice fly to center by Vic Wertz brought home the third.

Jehosie Heard, rookie Negro southpaw acquired from Portland of the Pacific Coast League, went the first five innings for the Orioles. Don Larsen finished up and was tagged for a homer by outfielder Bill Taylor in the ninth.

Redleg Homers Fail As Chisox Win 6-4 Game

TAMPA, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass smashed home runs but it wasn't enough power to turn back the Chicago White Sox, who defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs 6-4 today.

Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles held the Redlegs to eight hits.

The Sox cinched victory in the eighth when they scored twice off George Zuverink on singles by Chico Carrasquel, Jim Rivera and Bob Winkles, a wild pitch and Chico's stolen base.

Senators Top Phillies, 7 To 1

Washington Catcher Joe Tipton Injured

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24 (AP)—The Washington Senators made it two-in-a-row over the Philadelphia Phillies today, scoring a 7-1 decision behind the six-hit pitching of Chuck Stobbs and Johnny Schmidtz.

The Phils, depressed by poor hitting all through the current spring campaign, didn't collect their lone tally until the ninth—the only inning a runner got past second base.

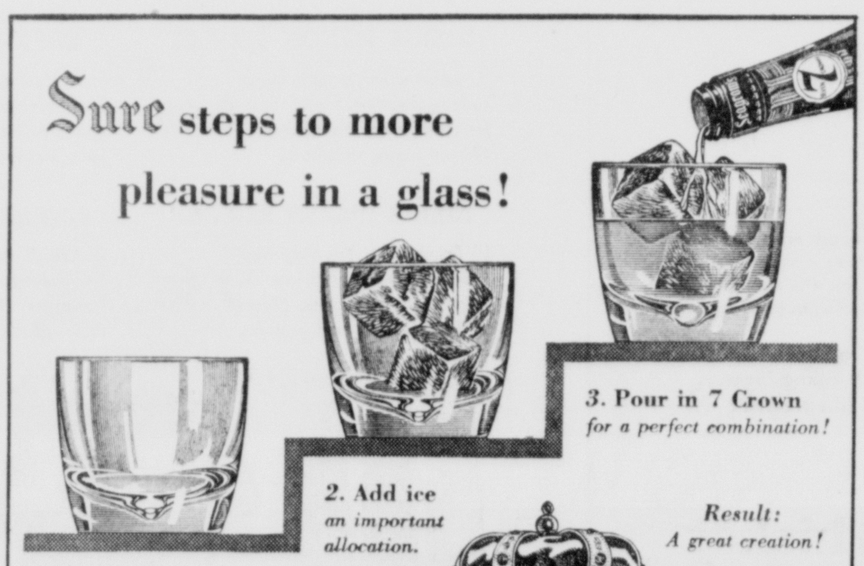

The Senators only had seven hits but they capitalized on a homer and double by Bob Oldis, and a triple by Roy Sievers. Five of the Washington runs came in the big fifth inning when Oldis collected his two-bagger and Sievers delivered his bases-loaded triple.

All the hard luck wasn't on the Phils' side. The Nats lost catcher Joe Tipton when he suffered a bad cut on his right hand from a foul tip off the bat of Bob Micelotta.

County Softball League To Open 16th Season In April

Corriganville Plans Return To Area Loop

Earl Nonnenmann Re-Elected Prexy; Grimes Chief Ump

Corriganville's Firemen, who dropped out of the County Softball League last year, have decided to return to the fold this season as the area circuit made plans to begin its 16th season in April.

At the first organizational meeting of the year at Corriganville Fire Hall Tuesday night the league re-elected all its officers for the coming term and re-appointed Kenneth "Sooky" Grimes umpire-in-chief for the season.

Renamed to office were Earl Nonnenmann, president; Joseph Wagner, vice president and secretary; and Chet DeHaven, treasurer.

Eight Clubs Represented

Eight clubs were represented at the initial meeting and a ninth team, which was a member last year, has indicated it will rejoin the circuit although the team was not represented Tuesday night.

Attending the first session were James Allen of Potomac Valley; Olin Keyser, Central Lunch; Amos See, Stringtown; Don Emerick, Ellerslie; William Clauson, Corriganville; Earl Drenning and Ronnie Cage, Hercules Powder; Nonnenmann, who represented the Sports Shoppe, Wagner and Grimes.

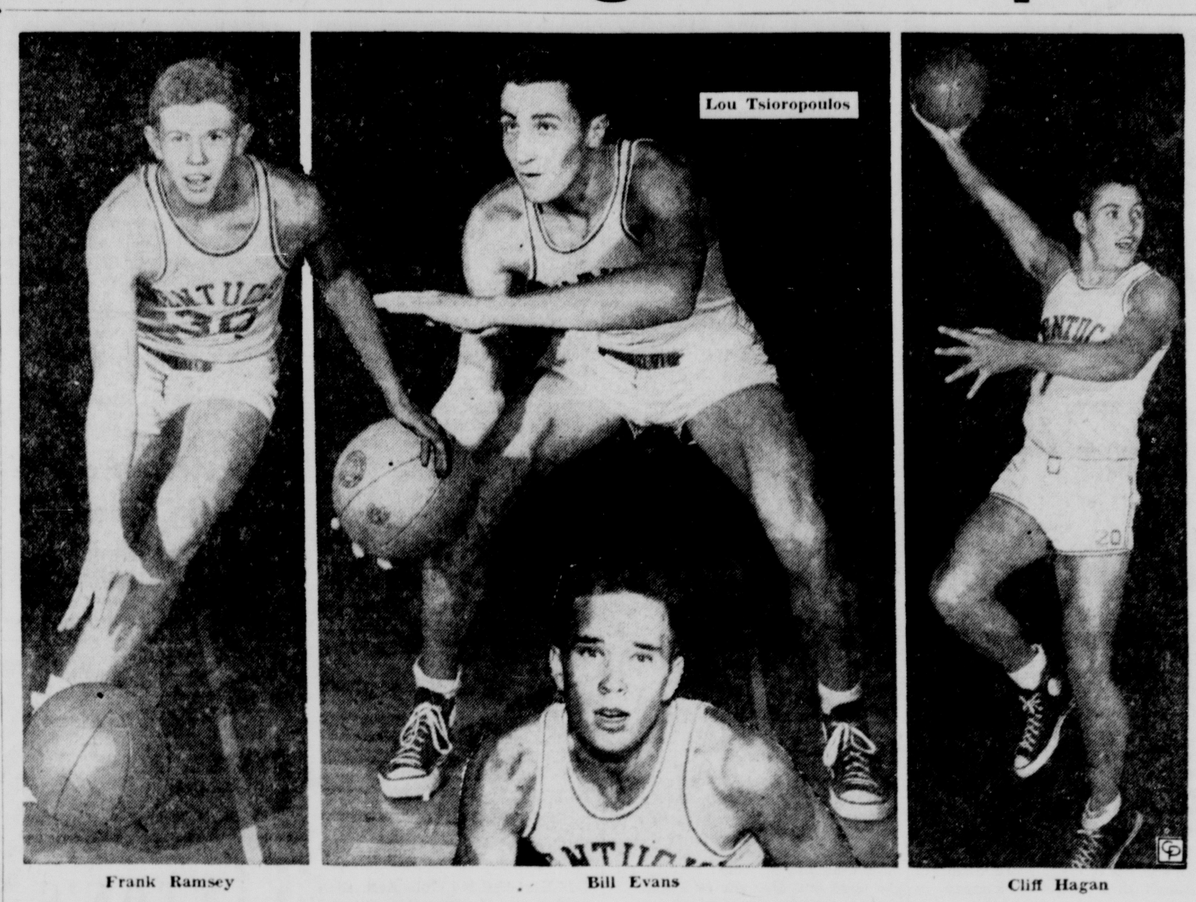

Five teams expressed their intention to return in the circuit — Potomac Valley, Central Lunch, Stringtown, Sports Shoppe and Corriganville, which had belonged to the league for many years prior to dropping out last season. Cunningham's Grocery, a holdover from last year's loop, has said it would be in the league again although a representative from the Grocers was not at Tuesday's conference.

Newcomer Asks Berth

A newcomer, Kennell's Mills, near Hyndman, Pa., has indicated it would like to enter a team in the league and was represented by a Mr. Boyer at the meeting. Hercules Powder and Ellerslie are not completely decided on returning to the fold.

Nonnenmann indicated if the league should come up with an odd number of teams at the April 6 meeting, which is the deadline for entrance in the league, he would take his Sports Shoppe tossers out.

Franchise fees of $30 were approved at Tuesday's meeting and the league by-laws were reviewed. Th next meeting will be the organizational meeting when teams will be entered and the schedule and starting dates, playing days and other matters decided.

WILDCATS NATION'S TOP COLLEGIATE FIVE — Kentucky's Wildcats, undefeated in 25 consecutive games this past season, are the top college basketball team in the nation, finishing on top of the Associated Press' final cage poll with 1,110 points to LaSalle College's 1,078. LaSalle NCAA winners, featuring All-America Tom Gola, finished well ahead of the 3rd, 4th and 5th teams, Holy Cross, Indiana and Duquesne. The Wildcats, coached by Adolph Rupp, were sparked by All-American Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Taloropoulos. The No. 1 quint, back in action following a year's suspension by the Southeastern Conference, declined to play in the NCAA playoff won by LaSalle because Hagan, Ramsey and Taloropoulos were ineligible as post-graduates of the school.

Armed Forces "Favoritism" Probe Sought

Claim Ball Players Get Best Treatment

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), citing reports of favoritism in the armed forces, called on Secretary of Defense Wilson today to tell Congress whether ball players called to military duty are getting special treatment.

Hess, chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee on defense activities, wrote Wilson a letter citing a number of newspaper articles dealing with professional athletes drafted into the armed services and asking Wilson for answers to these questions:

Asks Questions

1. "What military speciality required the continuous presence of these professionals at a single post during the entire military service to which they had been called?"

2. "Could you please furnish me with a statement of the military assignments to which each of these players was put during the period of service?"

Hess singled out for special mention articles dealing with Billy Martin, New York Yankees' second baseman; Willie Mays, centerfielder for the New York Giants, and an airman named Crispino, who he said belongs to the Philadelphia Phillies.

"There has been much public discussion of low morale in the armed services," Hess wrote, "as well as many suggestions of favors being sought."

And, he added: "Could you please advise me on this matter?"

Hess noted that he had seen a newspaper article datelined San Francisco last March 8 stating that Martin, star of the World Series last year, had been recalled to duty.

Martin Gets "Deal"

The Ohio congressman said the newspapers quoted an Army spokesman as saying at that time:

"Martin isn't getting too bad a deal. Ordinarily he would have been shipped to Fort Ord (Calif.) again to see how much he had retained of his basic training since his earlier discharge in March, 1951.

"But when one of the top Sixth Army officers heard Bill was coming back, he said, 'Hell, let's get him on our ball club.'"

Lew Worsham Cops Pro-Am Golf's $1,800 First Prize

His 136 Total Tops Ferrier By 4 Strokes

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Lew Worsham won his first golf tournament today since the spectacular wedge shot that captured the $25,000 first prize in last year's Tam O'Shanter in Chicago.

The chunky Oakmont, Pa., pro fired a 4-under-par 68 for the second straight day to win the $1,800 top prize for the low pro in the 36-hole Pro-Amateur Tournament at the Seminole Golf Club.

Worsham beat out Jim Ferrier of San Francisco by four strokes. Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas was third, another stroke back.

Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., teamed with R. A. Raese, Morgantown, Pa., steel executive, to win the pro-amateur division with a best ball score of 123. The victory was worth $1,000 to Kroll.

Kroll, who led the pros with a 65 in the first round, sagged to a 78 today but Raese, who plays with a 12 handicap, helped him by 16 strokes. Observers said Kroll apparently sacrificed his chance for the big pro prize by pressing team play and concentrating on helping his two amateur partners.

The pros cut up $7,000 in the individual department and $3,000 in the pro-amateur division.

Ben Hogan, making one of his rare tournament appearances, showed the effects of his long layoff when he finished in a tie for sixth at 143. Hogan left here tonight for Augusta, where he will make his next tournament try in the Masters starting April 8.

Ferrier won $1,000 for second place and Stewart, $700 for third. Hogan and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., wound up in a tie with three others and won $315 each.

Norkus Pounds Out Decision

Gains Unanimous Nod Over Dan Nardico

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Charley Norkus, a crude slugger from Jersey City, hammered out a unanimous decision over tough Danny Nardico of Tampa tonight in a brutal 10-rounder at Miami Beach Auditorium.

Neither fighter went down for a count but the battle was as savage and bloody as the eight-knockdown brawl the two men staged here last Jan. 20.

In the final round, Nardico's knees were rubbery and his eyes glazed but he kept charging into Norkus, swinging wild haymakers he couldn't land.

The fight was televised nationally (CBS) with no local blackout, but 4,059 fans paid a gross gate of $17,710 to see it in person. Both the attendance and the gate set new records for the auditorium.

Referee Jimmy Peerless gave Norkus 98 points to 96 for Nardico. Judge Stu Winston saw it 98-91 and Judge Morris Feingold 97-91.

Norkus, who flattened Nardico six times to win by a technical knockout in the ninth round in January, weighed 197¼. Danny weighed 180¼.

Nardico, the 7th ranking light heavyweight, declared through puffed lips in his dressing room that Norkus "is just too tough. I had to give too much weight."

His trainer, Bill Gore, said "we tried something and learned our lesson. Danny will stay in the lightheavyweight division from now on."

Bright's Hit Wins Game For Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Rookie Harry Bright knocked in the winning run with a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth inning as the Detroit Tigers ended a five-game losing streak with a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves today.

Milwaukee scored two times in the top of the ninth to grab a 4-3 lead. But with two away in the ninth Detroit scored the tying run when Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan booted a weak grounder allowing Bill Tuttle to scoot across the plate. Then Bright followed with his game-winning single off loser Charley Gorin.

Kryhoski Says He's Going To Cleveland From Orioles

Deal Said Reason Waitkus Bought

EAST ORANGE, N. J., March 24 (AP)—Dick Kryhoski, Baltimore Oriole first baseman who is nursing a fractured left wrist, cleared up a minor mystery today on his 29th birthday.

He said one of the reasons the Orioles bought first baseman Eddie Watkus from the Philadelphia Phils was because he (Kryhoski) was ticketed for Cleveland in a 6-player deal.

Kryhoski, confirming rumors wafted about the Grapefruit Circuit, said he understood he and catcher Clint Courtney were slated to go to the Tribe in exchange for Dale Mitchell, Bob Kennedy, Al Smith and Dave Pope.

Mitchell and Kennedy are outfielders. Smith and Pope play both the infield and the outfield.

The Orioles paid around $40,000 in cash for the 33-year-old Waitkus on March 16. The transaction was announced a few hours before an X-ray disclosed the extent of Kryhoski's injury suffered two days before when he was struck by an errant pitch by John McCall in an exhibition game with the New York Giants.

Waitkus is a better fielder than Kryhoski, but the latter holds a big edge in the slugging department. The ex-Phil hit only one home run and accounted for 16 RBI's in 81 games last year while Kryhoski banged 16 homers and drove in 50 runs in 104 games.

West Virginia Opens Spring Football Drills

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 24 (AP)—Coach Art Lewis convened the first session of spring football practice today, counted 44 candidates, and said work would begin right away.

The workouts, Lewis emphasized, may include contact work and scrimmage "immediately."

About 55 candidates had been expected for the opening of drills, but Lewis said some were absent because of participation in track and baseball.

Included among these was Sam Huff, a regular guard but also a leading candidate for the catching job on the baseball team.

Huff is one of six starters from last season's grid team which won eight of nine games and went to the Sugar Bowl for the first time in the school's history. Also back are 19 other holdovers from the 1953 squad.

Navy Grapplers To Seek Titles

Blair And Gattuso Are Eastern Champs

ANNAPOLIS, March 24 (AP)—Two of Navy's all-time wrestling standouts will go after national titles at the intercollegiate championships this weekend.

And while Pete Blair and Joe Gattuso grapple at Norman, Okla., the highest basketball scorer in Naval Academy history will make his first appearance in New York's Madison Square Garden.

John Clune of Jersey City will play with the East against the West in the eighth annual New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund all-star basketball game Saturday night.

Blair, 21-year-old 191-pounder from Waukegan, Ill., and Gattuso, 20, of Clarksboro, N. J., are Eastern champs and have been undefeated in 12 matches this season. Blair pinned 10 of his foes in the unlimited class. Gattuso, a football back, started out in the 177-pound bracket but wound up 10 pounds lower and will compete for the 167-pound crown at Norman.

Seixas Scores In Net Tourney

Seeded Players Find Going A Little Rough

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Seeded players continued to find the going rough in the Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament today.

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded No. 1, edged Robert Bedard of Sherbrook, Quebeck, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in a match that started like an upset.

Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., seeded sixth, moved into the quarter finals by winning a closely fought 10-8, 6-4 match from Alfredo Millet, the Mexican Davis Cup player.

Among other results, Sidney Schwartz, Fort Lee, Va., defeated Dave Harum, Coral Gables, 6-4, 8-10, 6-3. The match was stopped because of darkness last night at 8-all in the second set.

Sven Davidson, Swedish star, had a close call against Schwartz, now a private in the Army at Ft. Lee, Va., but the holder of the U. S. indoor singles championship proved too tough for the Army man. Scores were 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Meanwhile the Hi-Dee Club, although winning 2-1 over the Frostburg American Legion in the other semi-final match Tuesday night, still lost five additional points to the Legionnaires.

The WOW triumph, based on total points, was 83 to 53 and coupled with last week's 89-45 loss to the Nuggets, left the WOW team still trailing by 14 points with the final three games scheduled Friday, April 2, on the Nugget alleys.

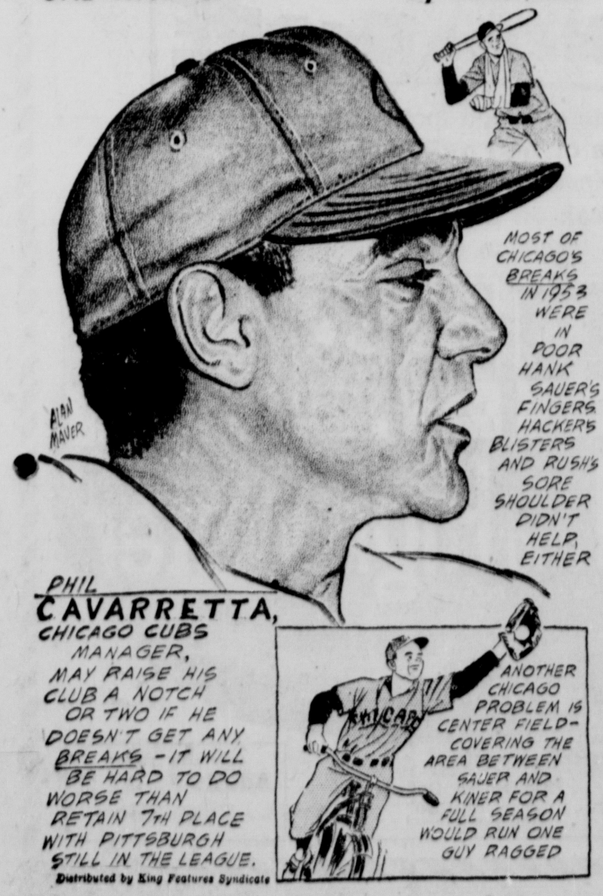

The Legion team leads Hi Dee by 49 points at the end of the first six games and will play on Clingerman's alleys Wednesday, March 31, in the final three games.

County Softball League To Open 16th Season In April

Corriganville Plans Return To Area Loop

Earl Nonnenmann Re-Elected Prexy; Grimes Chief Ump

Corriganville's Firemen, who dropped out of the County Softball League last year, have decided to return to the fold this season as the area circuit made plans to begin its 16th season in April.

At the first organizational meeting of the year at Corriganville Fire Hall Tuesday night the league re-elected all its officers for the coming term and re-appointed Kenneth "Sooky" Grimes umpire-in-chief for the season.

Eight Clubs Represented

Eight clubs were represented at the initial meeting and a ninth team, which was a member last year, has indicated it will rejoin the circuit although the team was not represented Tuesday night.

Attending the first session were James Allen of Potomac Valley; Olin Keyser, Central Lunch; Amos See, Stringtown; Don Emerick, Ellerslie; William Clauson, Corriganville; Earl Drenning and Ronnie Cage, Hercules Powder; Nonnenmann, who represented the Sports Shoppe, Wagner and Grimes.

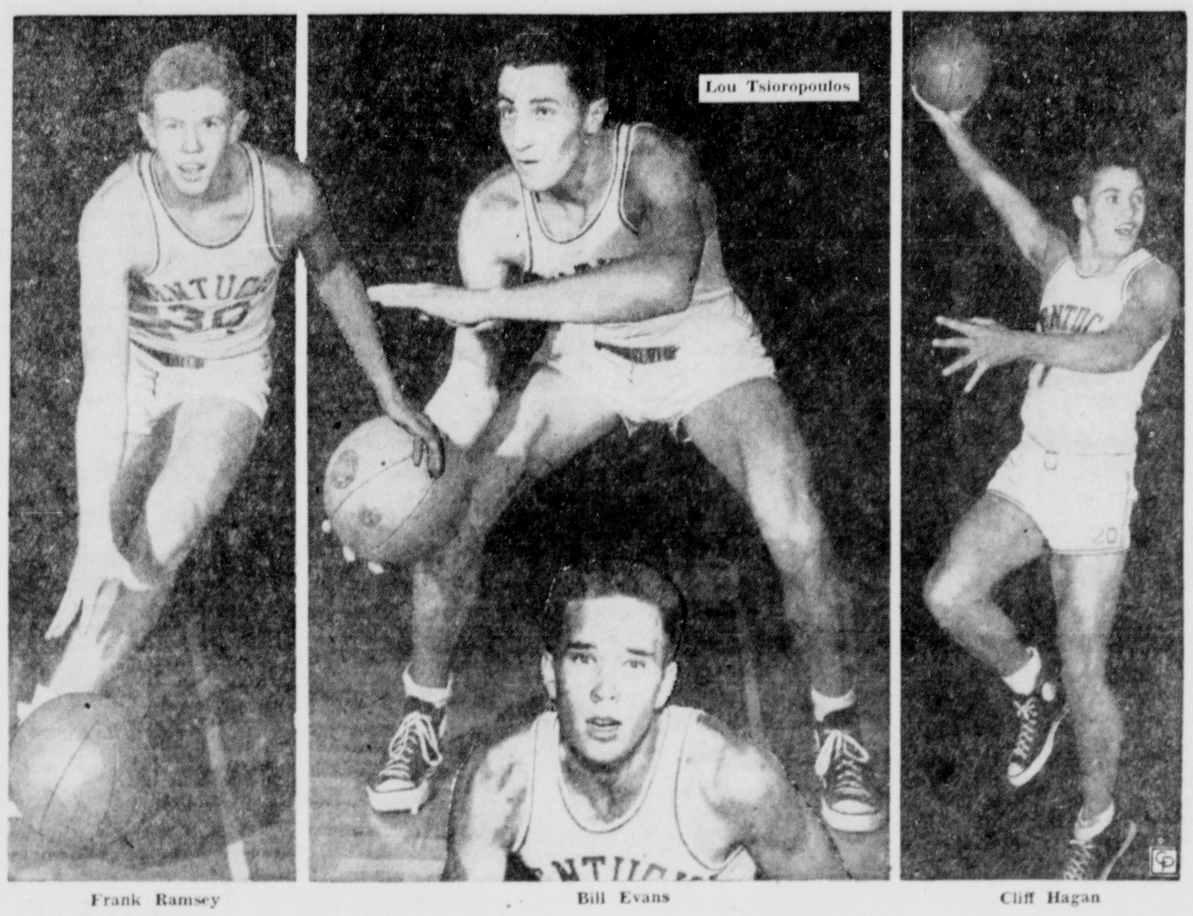

Five teams expressed their intention to return in the circuit — Potomac Valley, Central Lunch, Stringtown, Sports Shoppe and Corriganville, which had belonged to the league for many years prior to dropping out last season. Cunningham's Grocery, a holdover from last year's loop, has said it would be in the league again although a representative from the Grocers was not at Tuesday's conference.

Newcomer Asks Berth

A newcomer, Kennell's Mills, near Hyndman, Pa., has indicated it would like to enter a team in the league and was represented by a Mr. Boyer at the meeting. Hercules Powder and Ellerslie are not completely decided on returning to the fold.

Franchise fees of $30 were approved at Tuesday's meeting and the league by-laws were reviewed. Th next meeting will be the organizational meeting when teams will be entered and the schedule and starting dates, playing days and other matters decided.

Armed Forces "Favoritism" Probe Sought

Claim Ball Players Get Best Treatment

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), citing reports of favoritism in the armed forces, called on Secretary of Defense Wilson today to tell Congress whether ball players called to military duty are getting special treatment.

Hess, chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee on defense activities, wrote Wilson a letter citing a number of newspaper articles dealing with professional athletes drafted into the armed services and asking Wilson for answers to these questions:

Asks Questions

1. "What military speciality required the continuous presence of these professionals at a single post during the entire military service to which they had been called?"

2. "Could you please furnish me with a statement of the military assignments to which each of these players was put during the period of service?"

Hess singled out for special mention articles dealing with Billy Martin, New York Yankees' second baseman; Willie Mays, centerfielder for the New York Giants, and an airman named Crispino, who he said belongs to the Philadelphia Phillies.

"There has been much public discussion of low morale in the armed services," Hess wrote, "as well as many suggestions of favors being sought."

And, he added: "Could you please advise me on this matter?"

Hess noted that he had seen a newspaper article datelined San Francisco last March 8 stating that Martin, star of the World Series last year, had been recalled to duty.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Lew Worsham won his first golf tournament today since the spectacular wedge shot that captured the $25,000 first prize in last year's Tam O'Shanter in Chicago.

Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., teamed with R. A. Raese, Morgantown, Pa., steel executive, to win the pro-amateur division with a best ball score of 123. The victory was worth $1,000 to Kroll.

Kroll, who led the pros with a 65 in the first round, sagged to a 78 today but Raese, who plays with a 12 handicap, helped him by 16 strokes. Observers said Kroll apparently sacrificed his chance for the big pro prize by pressing team play and concentrating on helping his two amateur partners.

The pros cut up $7,000 in the individual department and $3,000 in the pro-amateur division.

Ben Hogan, making one of his rare tournament appearances, showed the effects of his long layoff when he finished in a tie for sixth at 143. Hogan left here tonight for Augusta, where he will make his next tournament try in the Masters starting April 8.

Seeded Players Find Going A Little Rough

Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeded No. 1, edged Robert Bedard of Sherbrook, Quebeck, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in a match that started like an upset.

Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., seeded sixth, moved into the quarter finals by winning a closely fought 10-8, 6-4 match from Alfredo Millet, the Mexican Davis Cup player.

Among other results, Sidney Schwartz, Fort Lee, Va., defeated Dave Harum, Coral Gables, 6-4, 8-10, 6-3. The match was stopped because of darkness last night at 8-all in the second set.

Sven Davidson, Swedish star, had a close call against Schwartz, now a private in the Army at Ft. Lee, Va., but the holder of the U. S. indoor singles championship proved too tough for the Army man. Scores were 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Cardinals Defeat Brooklyn, 5 To 2

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 24 (AP) — St. Louis staged a four-run rally in the ninth inning to trounce Brooklyn 5-2 today.

With the score tied, 1-1, Alex Grammas opened the attack on Johnny Podres with an infield hit. Wally Moon, Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial also contributed singles as Don Hoak and Don Zimmer committed errors for Brooklyn.

Stu Miller started for the Cardinals and gave the Dodgers only two hits for five innings, but one was a homer by Gil Hodges. Joe Presko shut out the Dodgers on two hits for the next three frames.

St. Louis	000 010 004	5	7 0

Miller, Presko (6), Lint (9), and Rice; Lasorda, Lehman (6), Podres (9) and Campanella, Walker (8).

WOW Shufflers Top Nuggets, Hi-Dee Trails

The Cumberland Woodmen of the World shufflers took three games from the Golden Nuggets of Frostburg last night on the WOW alleys to gain 30 points in their semi-final match in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League.

Meanwhile the Hi-Dee Club, although winning 2-1 over the Frostburg American Legion in the other semi-final match Tuesday night, still lost five additional points to the Legionnaires.

The WOW triumph, based on total points, was 83 to 53 and coupled with last week's 89-45 loss to the Nuggets, left the WOW team still trailing by 14 points with the final three games scheduled Friday, April 2, on the Nugget alleys.

The Legion team leads Hi Dee by 49 points at the end of the first six games and will play on Clingerman's alleys Wednesday, March 31, in the final three games.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 24 (INS)—Tomorrow's the night for Frank Sinatra. He'll either step up and get his Oscar for "From Here to Eternity," or else he and the rest of the audience will be surprised numb.

His long wait for "Pink Tights" is being interrupted by another job. He'll star in "Suddenly," which goes before the cameras April 15 for the Richard Sale-Robert Bassler independent company.

Getting back to Oscar night, whether Frankie wins or not, he's delighted with the St. Genesius Medal given him by 13-year-old Nancy Jr., and Frankie, Jr., inscribed, "To Daddy—All our love from here to Eternity."

While Freddie Brisson is in the East he'll talk to Imogene Coca about co-starring with Rosalind Russell in "Girl Rush." Roz has already talked to Imogene about playing her sidekick, and it looks as if we may have this wonderful little comedienne out here in Hollywood.

The story of "Girl Rush" is set in Las Vegas. Two girls inherit an old hotel built in 1896 and they go to the gambling heaven to manage this rundown old place, which is right in the midst of all the brightly lighted night spots.

That script Alan Ladd is reading with such interest — even takes it to the barber shop with him — is "Rouge Cop," sent him by Nicky Nayfak. If Alan accepts, it will mark his first star role on the MGM lot.

The story is an original by W. P. McGivern which will appear in the next issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, and Sid Boehm wrote the script.

"Talk about temperamental Hollywood actors," writes Henry, "I've never seen the equal of the 3,000 Zulus we've hired for the picture.

"After presenting our terms, the chief called a huddle. He came back with these terms: They would work only if supplied free beer, outdoor movies at night, and all the meat they could eat."

P. S.: The shooting starts March 25 — so you can guess which side gave in.

Mae West, who lives on Rossmore in Los Angeles, walks to Western Avenue (about two-and-a-half miles to you non-Californians) every morning. Like Garbo, Mae walks rain or shine exercising her two dogs.

But unlike Greta, Mae waves to everybody who recognizes her, signs autographs for the kids and knows every milkman on the route.

"Keeps me young," explains Diamond Lil, "it's not only the walk but the greeting of the people that's good for your body and soul."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

A surprise twosome of the week was Debbie Reynolds with Dick Contino at Ciro's. They looked very happy. Apparently he and Piper Laurie realize the religious obstacles are too great.

Lois Maxwell, now in Rome, went dancing and dining several times with Prince Aly Khan in San Remo, but it doesn't mean a thing. He's on the telephone to Gene Tierney practically every day, and the only reason he hasn't come here is because he has not settled his child support case with Rita Hayworth.

Very proudly Kirk Douglas showed me his new house and the cute room he is getting ready for his two sons, who will spend their Easter vacation with him.

Lou Silvers, musical conductor, is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital following a heart attack. His wife is the former Betty Myers, whose late husband was a brother of Carmel Myers.

Wealthy brewery owner Philip Liebmann is back in Hollywood both on business and to see Linda Darnell.

Mrs. John Carradine hopes her baby will arrive tomorrow, her 9th wedding anniversary.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

You can wear a hat of any style or size this spring — so long as you find it becoming.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The flowers that bloom earliest in the spring are those that bloom on milady's hat. And what a lift they give to winter-worn spirits!

I am always delighted to see the first posy-decked bonnet or pert straw pillbox make its appearance. So today when my fashion consultant invited me to accompany her to a showing of spring millinery, I very quickly accepted!

It struck me that the newest of hat fashions are becomingly simple. Novel brim treatments, fresh new fabrics and unusual trims give special charm to every style — large or small, tailored or dressy.

You will have a wide choice of hat shapes this season: pick the most becoming from the pillbox, the jaunty sailor, the toque, the snug-fitting cap laden with flowers, the romantic bonnet, the flattering picture hat.

Hats For Flattery

Remember that the primary purpose of any hat is to make you look lovely. No matter how pretty the delicate creation of crimson roses or pebbly straw may look in the hand, unless you find it flattering to your own features, pass it by.

The Powers Girls have one simple rule that will aid you in making a selection: Never let a line in your hat repeat a line of your face which you do not wish to accent.

You can tell in a minute that the pillbox worn straight on the forehead simply emphasizes the squareness of a square face; that the deeply fitting cloche makes the round face look rounder.

Do try on a variety of designs, and study each hat from different angles. How does it appear in profile? Does its back line compliment your hair style? And most of all, is it a pretty frame for your face?

Millinery Moods

You can set a mood or state your personality, declares a noted milliner, with the hat you wear. If you'd be frivolous, say so with a bonnet of silken straw bearing a cluster of rosebuds. Be dramatic in a big hat with rippling brim and flower-covered crown, or look trim and tailored in a shiny straw pillbox that sprouts a lacquered quill.

SHUN IT LIKE POISON

EXCEPT in the rarest circumstances, or with a most unusual holding of your own, a lead of the first suit bid by the hand which becomes the dummy should be shunned as if it were poison. That is the suit which a keen declarer would be almost certain to request if some irregularity had given him the right to call a lead. And, if only that suit and the declarer's trump suit had been bid, the next worst lead, almost as bad as the dummy's suit, would be trumps. Usually after such bidding, trumps are cleared and the dummy's suit used for discards in the other two suits. So you generally want to work on developing those side tricks, when on the defense, before he can discard his losers.

	♠ 8 6 4 ♥ A 8 4 ♦ K 10 8 4 ♣ K 6 3
♠ K J 9 ♥ J 6 ♦ Q 9 7 2 ♣ J 9 4 2	N W E S	♠ A Q 10 2 ♥ 9 3 2 ♦ J 6 3 ♣ Q 10 8
	♠ 7 5 3 ♥ K Q 10 7 5 ♦ A 5 ♣ A 7 5

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
4 ♥

As it developed, South could not possibly have made that contract except through help by the defense. He got it on the opening lead, however, as West led the diamond 2, worst suit of all to open and also one in which he could easily jeopardize the winning possibilities of his Q and 9. After the J forced the A, South had a virtually marked finesse against the Q. He scored three top trumps, then led the diamond 5 to the 10 and on the K discarded a spade. That left him no losers except two in spades and one in clubs, so he made his contract.

If West had not led a diamond, there would have been no way for South to take a winning finesse in the suit, hence no way for him to use diamonds for a discard from one of the black suits.

Granted that West had a leading problem, with his smattering of secondary honors, he should have used a process of elimination in order to pick the lesser among evils. First of all, he should have removed both the dummy's suit of diamonds and the trump suit from consideration. Leaving only the black suits to weigh, he should have decided that his spade honors induced avoidance of that lead. This would have left only clubs, his correct opening there being the club 2. That would have done it for him.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 10 9 6 ♥ A K 8 5 2 ♦ K 8 6 ♣ 10 7
♠ Q 8 2 ♥ J 7 6 4 ♦ J 9 3 2 ♣ 5 2	N W E S	♠ J 7 5 4 3 ♥ Q 10 ♦ 5 ♣ A K Q 8 4
	♠ A K ♥ 9 3 ♦ A Q 10 7 4 ♣ J 9 6 3

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

If East had bid clubs first, then spades, and his opponents the red suits, what is the correct defense against South's 3-No Trumps?

Judge Baker Will Retire

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., March 24 (Wednesday) (AP)—Judge William E. Baker, 81, of the U. S. District Court for Northern West Virginia, notified President Eisenhower today he would go into "qualified" retirement effective April 3.

In his letter dated March 24 Judge, Baker emphasized he was not resigning but taking "qualified" retirement only and will continue as a federal judge, performing such duties as his health will permit.

The date selected by Judge Baker for his qualified retirement is the 33rd anniversary of his induction in office. He was the first federal judge appointed by President Warren G. Harding.

So you generally want to work on developing those side tricks, when on the defense, before he can discard his losers.

	♠ 8 6 4 ♥ A 8 4 ♦ K 10 8 4 ♣ K 6 3
♠ K J 9 ♥ J 6 ♦ Q 9 7 2 ♣ J 9 4 2	N W E S	♠ A Q 10 2 ♥ 9 3 2 ♦ J 6 3 ♣ Q 10 8
	♠ 7 5 3 ♥ K Q 10 7 5 ♦ A 5 ♣ A 7 5

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
4 ♥

As it developed, South could not possibly have made that contract except through help by the defense. He got it on the opening lead, however, as West led the diamond 2, worst suit of all to open and also one in which he could easily jeopardize the winning possibilities of his Q and 9. After the J forced the A, South had a virtually marked finesse against the Q. He scored three top trumps, then led the diamond 5 to the 10 and on the K discarded a spade. That left him no losers except two in spades and one in clubs, so he made his contract.

If West had not led a diamond, there would have been no way for South to take a winning finesse in the suit, hence no way for him to use diamonds for a discard from one of the black suits.

Granted that West had a leading problem, with his smattering of secondary honors, he should have used a process of elimination in order to pick the lesser among evils. First of all, he should have removed both the dummy's suit of diamonds and the trump suit from consideration. Leaving only the black suits to weigh, he should have decided that his spade honors induced avoidance of that lead. This would have left only clubs, his correct opening there being the club 2. That would have done it for him.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A K ♥ 9 3 ♦ A Q 10 7 4 ♣ J 9 6 3

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

If East had bid clubs first, then spades, and his opponents the red suits, what is the correct defense against South's 3-No Trumps?

Judge Baker Will Retire

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., March 24 (Wednesday) (AP)—Judge William E. Baker, 81, of the U. S. District Court for Northern West Virginia, notified President Eisenhower today he would go into "qualified" retirement effective April 3.

In his letter dated March 24 Judge, Baker emphasized he was not resigning but taking "qualified" retirement only and will continue as a federal judge, performing such duties as his health will permit.

Judge Baker has been in ill health for two years.

The date selected by Judge Baker for his qualified retirement is the 33rd anniversary of his induction in office. He was the first federal judge appointed by President Warren G. Harding.

The action clears the way for the President to appoint a new judge for Northern West Virginia.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Albert H. Smith, who passed away 6 months ago, September 25, 1953.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved,

$1,700 Is Pilfered From Eckhart Safe

Engle's Meat Market Burglary Scene

A smooth-operating safecracker early yesterday morning gained entrance into the Walter Engle Meat Market in Eckhart and managed to get away with approximately $1,700 from the owner's safe.

State Police of LaVale Barracks said they were notified of the breaking-and-entering and burglary about 8:05 a. m. yesterday and that the person or persons had broken into the market between midnight and 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

Entrance was reported to have been gained through a side window in the middle room of the first floor of the two-story frame structure. The safe and storage space are located in that room.

Safe Lock Drilled Out

After entry was gained the dial was broken off the safe and a drill and punch were used to get to the money. Authorities said approximately $1,610 in currency, with denominations of one, five, 10 and 20 dollar bills, were removed as well as about $90 in silver.

Nothing else was reported disturbed in the room as the intruder made good his getaway. The breaking and entering was discovered yesterday morning by Anthony Komatz, an employe of the market.

"Professional" Suspected

State Police were later notified. Trooper D. R. Wade, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya are investigating. The owner and employes of the store had closed for business on Tuesday about 5:30 p. m. but had remained to check the books and stock, and had left the market about midnight.

Authorities last night said they believed the work was done by a professional safecracker.

Doors To Open For Home Show This Afternoon

Event Will Run Through Saturday

All but the very last details are now complete for the first Cumberland Home Show, which will open on the second floor of the Footer Building on South Mechanic Street at 5:30 p. m. today and continue through Saturday night.

The show will operate from 5:30 until 10 p. m. today and tomorrow and from 12:30 until 10 p. m. Saturday.

Miles G. Thompson Jr., who is general chairman of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce committee sponsoring the event, stressed that there is absolutely no admission charge for the show.

Colorful Place

The second floor of the Footer Building was a colorful place last night with the completion of decorations for most of the more than 50 booths in the show.

There were plenty of building materials, household furniture and supplies and tools for the handyman evident to the visitor to the show scene last night.

Many of the Jaycees still were on the job last night cleaning up leftover building materials, sweeping and otherwise preparing for the opening of the three-day show.

"You can get plenty of ideas for improving your home or building a new one if you come to the show," Thompson reminded residents of the Tri-State area. Thousands of area residents are expected to visit the exposition in the three days.

Prizes Offered

Many prizes will be given away during the three days of the show. The Jaycees' top award will be a 21-inch console model television set. Other Jaycee prizes will include a radio, coffee maker, aluminum kitchen ware and frozen foods.

The exhibitors themselves are putting many prizes on the line. One is giving away a brand-new refrigerator. Many other awards, too numerous to mention, are being offered to show visitors.

A "Mrs. Maryland" will be selected Saturday night in a "bake-off" among three outstanding cooks. The finalists from among 17 original contestants are Mrs. Paul A. Hilarie, 110 LeFevre Road; Mrs. Harold R. Smith, 607 Shriver Avenue, and Mrs. Lillian Nugent of Baltimore. The Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company is sponsoring this contest.

The entrance to the show is along South Mechanic Street just south of Howard Street and opposite the Queen City Dairy. The show is situated in an L-shaped section of the building where the Allegany Trade School formerly functioned.

Show officials have emphasized that children must be accompanied by their parents or other adults.

School Leaders Plan To Attend Study Session

Five representatives from the Allegany County public school system will attend the 1954 Study Conference of the Association for Childhood Education International in St. Paul, Minn., April 18 through April 23.

Attending from here will be the three elementary school supervisors, Miss Jane E. Botsford, Miss Winifred Greene and Miss Mildred E. Willison; Augustine Diaz, sixth grade teacher at Cresaptown School, and Miss Thelma B. Hadley, first grade teacher at Mt. Royal School. Diaz and Miss Hadley will attend as delegates from the Allegany County Branch of ACEI, of which they are officers.

Some 26 different study groups are being offered at the conference. Those who will attend have been requested to inform the conference committee of study groups which they would like to attend. Among the topics are "Using Children's Firsthand Experience;" "Children Learn to Read," and "Children and Literature."

"Effective Education for All Children" is the general theme for the six-day conference. The three supervisors attend at least one such conference every school year.

Some Parochial Schools Will Be Closed Today

Some of the local parochial schools will be closed today in observance of Maryland Day, the 320th anniversary of the settling of the state.

St. Patrick's, SS. Peter and Paul and St. Mary's parochial schools will be closed. Regular classes will be held in all public schools and at LaSalle and St. Mary's high schools.

Chamber Joins State Project

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday it has joined with various groups throughout the state as a participating sponsor of the Maryland Conference on Community Development to be held at the Baltimore Museum May 1.

Among the other sponsors are the University of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, the State Planning Commission, the Maryland Council of Chambers of Commerce, and the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said the conference has been designed to consider basic problems of community development. Governor McKeldin will introduce the keynote speaker, Dr. Abel Wolman of Johns Hopkins University. Following the address, the conference will divide into workshop sessions.

Saeli said he expects to attend the session, together with members of the Civic Development Committee of the local Chamber.

Local Parkway Fans Will Greet Douglas Hiking Expedition On Canal Trail Today

The C&O Canal hikers will be greeted today by a group of local men near Harpers Ferry, W. Va., to remind Justice William O. Douglas and his walking delegation that Cumberland and many other communities want the Canal Parkway built as soon as possible.

John Estes, a member of the Maryland Employment Commission and former local labor leader has a camp at Mountain Lock on the other side of Harpers Ferry. Estes led a group of his friends on a trip there yesterday so they could extend the hikers an appropriate greeting.

Accompanying Estes are Francis Kenney, manager of the office of Employment Security here, Edgar Wolfe and J. William Owens Jr., also of the employment service.

Kenney, who has waged a constant campaign for the Parkway, and has delivered talks before numerous groups here, in Paw Paw, Hancock, Williamsport, Brunswick and other places where he could get an audience, said, "We just don't want them to forget what they started out to prove."

The Parkway would not only provide work for many who are unemployed now, but would be the means of creating steady income from tourists for many people permanently, he pointed out.

The group was armed with a number of placards, designed to put across its points and at the same time appeal to the humor for which many of the hikers already are noted.

Some of the placards read:

"Many Strange Birds Have Been Seen Along the Canal the Past 10 Days."

"Build the Parkway. Mountain Lock Improvement Association."

"The Question is not, 'Shall the Parkway Be Built,' But 'How Soon?' "

While these men, several of whom were on hand to help get the hikers started, will give them a surprise greeting this morning, others in the city have also received personal recognition from Justice Douglas.

Alfred J. Hutter, 1202 Holland Street, sent Justice Douglas a $5 C&O Canal Company note dated January 9, 1841, three wooden nickels and a Sesquicentennial medallion from Cumberland. Hutter, a coin collector and dealer, accompanied his souvenirs with a note which read, "A souvenir of your hike down the old Canal. May it some day be a public road."

Justice Douglas, in a personal note to Hutter, said his mail had come to him and he appreciates the souvenirs and will treasure them.

Mrs. Christine Mease, another ardent fan of the Parkway plan, gave Justice Douglas and his companions a chuckle with a telegram she sent him. The telegram has been repeated in stories by some of the newsmen on the long march. It follows:

That long, long trail that's winding,
Was not mean for a hiker's haven;
We must remain a transportation center—
So please don't object to its pavin'.

Second Effort For Mechanics Class Planned

It is planned to get the program under way either Monday, April 12, or Monday, April 19.

Northcraft and J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in the county school system, had planned to start such a 96-week course at the end of January. That fell through when only a handful of veterans indicated they would like to enroll.

Since then additional requests for such a course have been received by school officials and it was decided to make a second effort to get the daytime activity started.

Classes would be held five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 8 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. in the school, which is located at the rear of West Side Fire Station on Greene Street.

There is a nighttime auto mechanics class now functioning at the Trade School. It runs from 6 until 9 p. m. five days a week. The enrollment now is 21. Northcraft said that between 12 and 15 enrollees would be necessary to justify starting the daytime program.

In order to take advantage of the opportunity for veterans' training, men who were discharged on or before August 20, 1952 have until August 20, 1954, to begin their training. Those discharged after August 20, 1952, may start training at any time within two years after their discharge.

Veterans interested in the proposed class should contact Northcraft.

German Teachers To Visit Carver School Tomorrow

A busy schedule has been arranged for the two visiting German teachers when they spend Friday at Carver School, according to Earle L. Bracey, school principal.

The teachers, Miss Freia Wunderlich, of Offenburg in Baden, and Dr. Kaete Elise Lorenzen of Kiel in Schleswig-Holstein, arrived in Cumberland the night of March 9 to spend about three weeks here observing the school program.

Between 8:45 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. they will make 10-minute stops in 10 different classrooms.

From 8:45 until 9 a.m., Lela M. McIntyre's first and second grade classroom; 9 to 9:10 a.m., Edith C. Bracey's fourth and fifth grade; 9:10 to 9:20 a.m., Alyce M. Edwards' second and third grade; 9:20 to 9:30 a.m., Ruth Franklin's 11th and 12th year English class; 9:30 to 9:40 a.m., Mary G. Carter's home economics class; 9:40 to 9:50 a.m., Charles Waterman's shop; 9:50 to 10 a.m., Madah E. Topson's fifth and sixth grade; 10 to 10:10 a.m., Mary R. Nunnally's eighth grade U. S. History class; 10:10 to 10:20 a.m., Walter C. Crawford's ninth grade mathematics class; 10:20 to 10:30 a.m., Mary M. Robb's music class for seventh graders.

A brunch-period in the school cafeteria from 10:30 until 11 a.m. will be followed by the assembly, which gets under way at 11:15 a.m.

During the assembly the two German teachers, who have been in this country since last September, will witness a varied program.

One of the students, Jo-Jacqueline Peck, will extend a welcome. Mrs. Bracey's fourth graders then will present the devotions. Norwood Edmondson, one of the outstanding musicians in the school, will play a 'cello solo, Tschaikowsky's "Andante."

Fifth and sixth grade pupils will dance the "Sicilian Tarantella." Then the high school chorus will sing two selections, "No Man Is An Island," and "Psalm 150."

An eight-piece dance band, called "The Hot Rods," will round up the program by playing "Sweet and Lovely" and "In The Mood."

Bracey then will introduce the guests. The two visiting teachers will be accompanied by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools; Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, and Miss Winfred Greene, one of the elementary school supervisors.

Student guides during the tour of the building will be Sandra Pope and Leo Beckwith.

Hikers Complete Roughest Leg Of C & O Canal Trek

Douglas Is Still Fresh On 5th Day

ALONG THE C. & O. CANAL IN WESTERN MARYLAND, March 24 (AP)—About 80 miles to go was the weary thought as the hiking expedition led by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas finished the fifth lap of its 184-mile walk along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Cumberland, Md., to Washington.

And "weary" aptly described many in the party of 23.

Although today's walk, about 24 miles, was not the longest, it was over the roughest terrain the party has yet encountered.

Feet that have been blistered, then calloused, picked up some bruises from the rocks along the canal tow path from Falling Water, W. Va., to Conococheague Lodge, about equidistant between Shepherdstown, W. Va., and Antietam, Md.

The sportsmen's club sits atop a bluff overlooking the canal and the river where they run almost due east for about four miles before turning south again. The place is in the southern tip of Washington County, not far from Antietam National Battlefield.

Oldster Still Leads

The party had left the Potomac Fish and Game Club across the river from Falling Waters, about 7:30 a.m. and began arriving at Conococheague shortly after 4 p.m.

Frederick Miller, 73-year-old veteran hiker from Washington and several others who had stayed about a mile ahead of the main party most of the day were the first to arrive.

Justice Douglas and the main group got in about 4:27 and others kept straggling in until 5:30 p.m. Included in the later group were Merlo Pusey and Robert Estabrook, editorial writers for the Washington Post and Times Herald whose endorsement of the canal highway brought Douglas' challenge to a hike.

The group covered the distance in about nine hours, including a 35-minute stop for lunch at Taylor's Landing where they wolfed "steamburgers," potato chips, coffee, cake and lemonade.

The Rev. Charles S. Reckley, Methodist preacher from Berkeley Springs, W. Va., who rejoined the hikers this morning, described steamburgers "as the same as hamburgers, only steamed."

Douglas "Still Fresh"

The Rev. Mr. Reckley, known to Douglas and his walking companions as "Jim," started the trek with the others last Saturday but had to drop out after the first day to preach on Sunday.

He said Douglas was still as fresh as ever after today's rough walking but some of the others were footsore.

Gutted Area Home Catches Fire For Second Time

A five-year-old boy was caught in action yesterday setting a fire at the already gutted home of George Schoenadel, Homewood Addition. LaVale firemen answered the call about 4:30 p.m. and soaked down the building.

The one and one-half story frame dwelling off Mt. Savage Road had been gutted late at night March 4, at which time three volunteer fire companies fought the blaze.

Schoenadel, who was moving into 636 North Centre Street yesterday, said the boy had entered the ruins, lighted another fire and was caught by a forest warden. A nearby field was also reported set afire by the child.

Commissioners Seek Bids For Washroom

The Allegany County Commissioners will receive bids until 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, April 13, for the construction of a men's washroom at the County Welfare Building, 301 Cumberland Street.

Specifications, prepared by the Corinthian Engineering Service, may be obtained from James G. Stevenson, clerk to the County Commissioners.

Cumberland To Have Dial Phone Service

C&P Will Begin $1½ Million Project

Installation of dial telephone equipment in Cumberland will be started this fall, W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the Chesapeake Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, said yesterday in testimony at rate increase hearings before the Public Service Commission.

C. Walter Haschert Jr., manager of the C & P Cumberland office, in commenting on Morrel's statement, said he anticipates the job of converting telephone equipment here from manual to dial will require a year and a half of work. He expressed the opinion that if no delay is encountered the conversion will be completed late in 1955.

Cost of the change was estimated at "upwards of $1½ million" by Haschert.

Pointing out that dial service is "definitely on the way for Cumberland now," Haschert explained that the conversion has not been undertaken here before "due largely to lack of financing."

Preliminaries Completed

By way of clarification he related that the C&P has a certain amount of money to spend yearly for plant expansion and dial conversion in Maryland and that that sum cannot be exceeded.

Haschert also pointed out that in other communities where conversion from manual to dial operation took place there was no reduction in the working force. He said he anticipates that the same condition will hold true here.

Some preliminary work toward conversion to dial was completed a few months ago when long distance trunk lines to nearby points, such as Frostburg, Flintstone and Mt. Savage, were removed from the local switchboard and placed on the long distance toll board.

Currently, planning meetings are being held to prepare for the conversion. Haschert pointed to the "big job ahead" and added that there are many problems still to be encountered because the project "still is really in a preliminary stage."

Conversion Plans Mapped

Among the problems to be confronted but already being considered are visits to the home of every telephone subscriber in the city to make arrangements for the changeover in equipment.

"It will be a tough job while we're going through the conversion," Haschert said, "but wonderful afterward."

Recalling that just a few years ago the C&P had spent close to a million dollars in construction of its new central office here, Haschert said the decision to go ahead with the conversion to dial equipment is another expression of the company's faith in the future of Cumberland.

Phone Co. Asks Increase In Rates

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP)—The Public Service Commission was told today rate increases the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. seeks would amount to about three cents per telephone per day.

R. M. Fowler, general accounting supervisor, testified on the firm's revenues and expenses.

He said the company would have to have $6,864,000 more annually from Maryland telephone users to get a net income of $3,186,000 which the firm says it needs.

The commission in the past has held 5¾ per cent to 6 per cent a fair rate of return, but it was testified the increase would result in a 7 per cent rate of return from its investment.

Fowler said the company earned 5.44 per cent on its investment in the year ended Feb. 28. But he estimated the return would slip to 5.10 per cent by the end of 1954 because of the large continuing outlay in plant investment.

Milk Plant, Ice Cream Conference Is Today

The Health Department is expecting some 75 officials of the dairy and ice cream industry in the Tri-State area to attend an Ice Cream and Milk Plant Conference planned today in the Union Street County building.

New Unemployed Claims May Be Made March 29

Persons in Allegany County who are presently unemployed and who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits may reapply for additional benefits beginning March 29, Francis A. Kenny, manager of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, announced last night.

Kenny said the local employment office has noted a large number of unemployment compensation claims which have become exhausted within the past several months and said many of these would possibly be eligible for additional benefits..

The local employment department manager said the present unemployment claims are being paid on earnings of 1952 with approximately 2,500 to 2,800 claims being paid by the local bureau each week.

Because the present railroad and Celanese plant furloughs began at the end of 1953 many persons who have exhausted claims on their 1952 wages but who worked in 1953 will now be eligible for claims against their 1953 wages, Kenny stated.

The local employment bureau will be taking claims on and after March 29, Kenny said, and added that any person who is unemployed and had earnings in 1953 should apply for new benefits, bringing his old claim cards with him.

$1,700 Is Pilfered From Eckhart Safe

Engle's Meat Market Burglary Scene

A smooth-operating safecracker early yesterday morning gained entrance into the Walter Engle Meat Market in Eckhart and managed to get away with approximately $1,700 from the owner's safe.

State Police of LaVale Barracks said they were notified of the breaking-and-entering and burglary about 8:05 a. m. yesterday and that the person or persons had broken into the market between midnight and 7:30 a. m. yesterday.

Entrance was reported to have been gained through a side window in the middle room of the first floor of the two-story frame structure. The safe and storage space are located in that room.

Safe Lock Drilled Out

After entry was gained the dial was broken off the safe and a drill and punch were used to get to the money. Authorities said approximately $1,610 in currency, with denominations of one, five, 10 and 20 dollar bills, were removed as well as about $90 in silver.

Nothing else was reported disturbed in the room as the intruder made good his getaway. The breaking and entering was discovered yesterday morning by Anthony Komatz, an employe of the market.

"Professional" Suspected

State Police were later notified. Trooper D. R. Wade, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya are investigating. The owner and employes of the store had closed for business on Tuesday about 5:30 p. m. but had remained to check the books and stock, and had left the market about midnight.

Authorities last night said they believed the work was done by a professional safecracker.

Event Will Run Through Saturday

All but the very last details are now complete for the first Cumberland Home Show, which will open on the second floor of the Footer Building on South Mechanic Street at 5:30 p. m. today and continue through Saturday night.

The show will operate from 5:30 until 10 p. m. today and tomorrow and from 12:30 until 10 p. m. Saturday.

The second floor of the Footer Building was a colorful place last night with the completion of decorations for most of the more than 50 booths in the show.

There were plenty of building materials, household furniture and supplies and tools for the handyman evident to the visitor to the show scene last night.

Many of the Jaycees still were on the job last night cleaning up leftover building materials, sweeping and otherwise preparing for the opening of the three-day show.

"You can get plenty of ideas for improving your home or building a new one if you come to the show," Thompson reminded residents of the Tri-State area. Thousands of area residents are expected to visit the exposition in the three days.

School Leaders Plan To Attend Study Session

Five representatives from the Allegany County public school system will attend the 1954 Study Conference of the Association for Childhood Education International in St. Paul, Minn., April 18 through April 23.

Attending from here will be the three elementary school supervisors, Miss Jane E. Botsford, Miss Winifred Greene and Miss Mildred E. Willison; Augustine Diaz, sixth grade teacher at Cresaptown School, and Miss Thelma B. Hadley, first grade teacher at Mt. Royal School. Diaz and Miss Hadley will attend as delegates from the Allegany County Branch of ACEI, of which they are officers.

Some 26 different study groups are being offered at the conference. Those who will attend have been requested to inform the conference committee of study groups which they would like to attend. Among the topics are "Using Children's Firsthand Experience;" "Children Learn to Read," and "Children and Literature."

"Effective Education for All Children" is the general theme for the six-day conference. The three supervisors attend at least one such conference every school year.

Chamber Joins State Project

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday it has joined with various groups throughout the state as a participating sponsor of the Maryland Conference on Community Development to be held at the Baltimore Museum May 1.

Among the other sponsors are the University of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, the State Planning Commission, the Maryland Council of Chambers of Commerce, and the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said the conference has been designed to consider basic problems of community development. Governor McKeldin will introduce the keynote speaker, Dr. Abel Wolman of Johns Hopkins University. Following the address, the conference will divide into workshop sessions.

Saeli said he expects to attend the session, together with members of the Civic Development Committee of the local Chamber.

Local Parkway Fans Will Greet Douglas Hiking Expedition On Canal Trail Today

The C&O Canal hikers will be greeted today by a group of local men near Harpers Ferry, W. Va., to remind Justice William O. Douglas and his walking delegation that Cumberland and many other communities want the Canal Parkway built as soon as possible.

John Estes, a member of the Maryland Employment Commission and former local labor leader has a camp at Mountain Lock on the other side of Harpers Ferry. Estes led a group of his friends on a trip there yesterday so they could extend the hikers an appropriate greeting.

Accompanying Estes are Francis Kenney, manager of the office of Employment Security here, Edgar Wolfe and J. William Owens Jr., also of the employment service.

Kenney, who has waged a constant campaign for the Parkway, and has delivered talks before numerous groups here, in Paw Paw, Hancock, Williamsport, Brunswick and other places where he could get an audience, said, "We just don't want them to forget what they started out to prove."

The Parkway would not only provide work for many who are unemployed now, but would be the means of creating steady income from tourists for many people permanently, he pointed out.

The group was armed with a number of placards, designed to put across its points and at the same time appeal to the humor for which many of the hikers already are noted.

Some of the placards read:

"Many Strange Birds Have Been Seen Along the Canal the Past 10 Days."

"Build the Parkway. Mountain Lock Improvement Association."

"The Question is not, 'Shall the Parkway Be Built,' But 'How Soon?'"

While these men, several of whom were on hand to help get the hikers started, will give them a surprise greeting this morning, others in the city have also received personal recognition from Justice Douglas.

Alfred J. Hutter, 1202 Holland Street, sent Justice Douglas a $5 C&O Canal Company note dated January 9, 1841, three wooden nickels and a Sesquicentennial medallion from Cumberland. Hutter, a coin collector and dealer, accompanied his souvenirs with a note which read, "A souvenir of your hike down the old Canal. May it some day be a public road."

Justice Douglas, in a personal note to Hutter, said his mail had come to him and he appreciates the souvenirs and will treasure them.

Mrs. Christine Mease, another ardent fan of the Parkway plan, gave Justice Douglas and his companions a chuckle with a telegram she sent him. The telegram has been repeated in stories by some of the newsmen on the long march. It follows:

That long, long trail that's winding,
Was not mean for a hiker's haven;
We must remain a transportation center—
So please don't object to its pavin'.

German Teachers To Visit Carver School Tomorrow

A busy schedule has been arranged for the two visiting German teachers when they spend Friday at Carver School, according to Earle L. Bracey, school principal.

A brunch-period in the school cafeteria from 10:30 until 11 a.m. will be followed by the assembly, which gets under way at 11:15 a.m.

During the assembly the two German teachers, who have been in this country since last September, will witness a varied program.

One of the students, Jo-Jacqueline Peck, will extend a welcome. Mrs. Bracey's fourth graders then will present the devotions. Norwood Edmondson, one of the outstanding musicians in the school, will play a 'cello solo, Tschaikowsky's "Andante."

Fifth and sixth grade pupils will dance the "Sicilian Tarantella." Then the high school chorus will sing two selections, "No Man Is An Island," and "Psalm 150."

An eight-piece dance band, called "The Hot Rods," will round up the program by playing "Sweet and Lovely" and "In The Mood."

Bracey then will introduce the guests. The two visiting teachers will be accompanied by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools; Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, and Miss Winfred Greene, one of the elementary school supervisors.

Student guides during the tour of the building will be Sandra Pope and Leo Beckwith.

Second Effort For Mechanics Class Planned

A second effort this year to get a daytime auto mechanics class started at the Allegany Trade School for veterans of the Korean War is being made by Ira E. Northcraft, school registrar.

It is planned to get the program under way either Monday, April 12, or Monday, April 19.

Northcraft and J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in the county school system, had planned to start such a 96-week course at the end of January. That fell through when only a handful of veterans indicated they would like to enroll.

Since then additional requests for such a course have been received by school officials and it was decided to make a second effort to get the daytime activity started.

Classes would be held five days a week, Monday through Friday, from 8 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. in the school, which is located at the rear of West Side Fire Station on Greene Street.

There is a nighttime auto mechanics class now functioning at the Trade School. It runs from 6 until 9 p. m. five days a week. The enrollment now is 21. Northcraft said that between 12 and 15 enrollees would be necessary to justify starting the daytime program.

A machine shop course is being operated in the daylight hours for some 23 young men.

In order to take advantage of the opportunity for veterans' training, men who were discharged on or before August 20, 1952 have until August 20, 1954, to begin their training. Those discharged after August 20, 1952, may start training at any time within two years after their discharge.

Veterans interested in the proposed class should contact Northcraft.

Hikers Complete Roughest Leg Of C & O Canal Trek

Douglas Is Still Fresh On 5th Day

ALONG THE C. & O. CANAL IN WESTERN MARYLAND, March 24 (AP)—About 80 miles to go was the weary thought as the hiking expedition led by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas finished the fifth lap of its 184-mile walk along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Cumberland, Md., to Washington.

And "weary" aptly described many in the party of 23.

Although today's walk, about 24 miles, was not the longest, it was over the roughest terrain the party has yet encountered.

Feet that have been blistered, then calloused, picked up some bruises from the rocks along the canal tow path from Falling Water, W. Va., to Conococheague Lodge, about equidistant between Shepherdstown, W. Va., and Antietam, Md.

The sportsmen's club sits atop a bluff overlooking the canal and the river where they run almost due east for about four miles before turning south again. The place is in the southern tip of Washington County, not far from Antietam National Battlefield.

Oldster Still Leads

The party had left the Potomac Fish and Game Club across the river from Falling Waters, about 7:30 a.m. and began arriving at Conococheague shortly after 4 p.m.

Frederick Miller, 73-year-old veteran hiker from Washington and several others who had stayed about a mile ahead of the main party most of the day were the first to arrive.

Justice Douglas and the main group got in about 4:27 and others kept straggling in until 5:30 p.m. Included in the later group were Merlo Pusey and Robert Estabrook, editorial writers for the Washington Post and Times Herald whose endorsement of the canal highway brought Douglas' challenge to a hike.

The group covered the distance in about nine hours, including a 35-minute stop for lunch at Taylor's Landing where they wolfed "steamburgers," potato chips, coffee, cake and lemonade.

The Rev. Charles S. Reckley, Methodist preacher from Berkeley Springs, W. Va., who rejoined the hikers this morning, described steamburgers "as the same as hamburgers, only steamed."

Douglas "Still Fresh"

The Rev. Mr. Reckley, known to Douglas and his walking companions as "Jim," started the trek with the others last Saturday but had to drop out after the first day to preach on Sunday.

He said Douglas was still as fresh as ever after today's rough walking but some of the others were footsore.

Gutted Area Home Catches Fire For Second Time

A five-year-old boy was caught in action yesterday setting a fire at the already gutted home of George Schoenadel, Homewood Addition. LaVale firemen answered the call about 4:30 p.m. and soaked down the building.

The one and one-half story frame dwelling off Mt. Savage Road had been gutted late at night March 4, at which time three volunteer fire companies fought the blaze.

Schoenadel, who was moving into 636 North Centre Street yesterday, said the boy had entered the ruins, lighted another fire and was caught by a forest warden. A nearby field was also reported set afire by the child.

Cumberland To Have Dial Phone Service

C&P Will Begin $1½ Million Project

Installation of dial telephone equipment in Cumberland will be started this fall, W. Griffin Morrel, vice president of the Chesapeake Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City, said yesterday in testimony at rate increase hearings before the Public Service Commission.

C. Walter Haschert Jr., manager of the C & P Cumberland office, in commenting on Morrel's statement, said he anticipates the job of converting telephone equipment here from manual to dial will require a year and a half of work. He expressed the opinion that if no delay is encountered the conversion will be completed late in 1955.

Cost of the change was estimated at "upwards of $1½ million" by Haschert.

Pointing out that dial service is "definitely on the way for Cumberland now," Haschert explained that the conversion has not been undertaken here before "due largely to lack of financing."

Preliminaries Completed

By way of clarification he related that the C&P has a certain amount of money to spend yearly for plant expansion and dial conversion in Maryland and that that sum cannot be exceeded.

Haschert also pointed out that in other communities where conversion from manual to dial operation took place there was no reduction in the working force. He said he anticipates that the same condition will hold true here.

Some preliminary work toward conversion to dial was completed a few months ago when long distance trunk lines to nearby points, such as Frostburg, Flintstone and Mt. Savage, were removed from the local switchboard and placed on the long distance toll board.

Currently, planning meetings are being held to prepare for the conversion. Haschert pointed to the "big job ahead" and added that there are many problems still to be encountered because the project "still is really in a preliminary stage."

Conversion Plans Mapped

Among the problems to be confronted but already being considered are visits to the home of every telephone subscriber in the city to make arrangements for the changeover in equipment.

"It will be a tough job while we're going through the conversion," Haschert said, "but wonderful afterward."

Recalling that just a few years ago the C&P had spent close to a million dollars in construction of its new central office here, Haschert said the decision to go ahead with the conversion to dial equipment is another expression of the company's faith in the future of Cumberland.

Phone Co. Asks Increase In Rates

BALTIMORE, March 24 (AP)—The Public Service Commission was told today rate increases the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. seeks would amount to about three cents per telephone per day.

R. M. Fowler, general accounting supervisor, testified on the firm's revenues and expenses.

He said the company would have to have $6,864,000 more annually from Maryland telephone users to get a net income of $3,186,000 which the firm says it needs.

The commission in the past has held 5¾ per cent to 6 per cent a fair rate of return, but it was testified the increase would result in a 7 per cent rate of return from its investment.

Fowler said the company earned 5.44 per cent on its investment in the year ended Feb. 28. But he estimated the return would slip to 5.10 per cent by the end of 1954 because of the large continuing outlay in plant investment.

New Unemployed Claims May Be Made March 29

Persons in Allegany County who are presently unemployed and who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits may reapply for additional benefits beginning March 29, Francis A. Kenny, manager of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, announced last night.

Kenny said the local employment office has noted a large number of unemployment compensation claims which have become exhausted within the past several months and said many of these would possibly be eligible for additional benefits..

The local employment department manager said the present unemployment claims are being paid on earnings of 1952 with approximately 2,500 to 2,800 claims being paid by the local bureau each week.

Because the present railroad and Celanese plant furloughs began at the end of 1953 many persons who have exhausted claims on their 1952 wages but who worked in 1953 will now be eligible for claims against their 1953 wages, Kenny stated.

The local employment bureau will be taking claims on and after March 29, Kenny said, and added that any person who is unemployed and had earnings in 1953 should apply for new benefits, bringing his old claim cards with him.
